Special Sale! Ohio Tuec

Electric Suction Cleaner!

Cleans without beating and pounding.—Takes out ALL the dust by greater suction and gentle sweeping. The OHIO-TUEC uses a brush only for picking up hair, thread and litter by gentle sweeping. No Vacuum cleaner can safely be judged by its looks, because they resemble each other very much in mere appearance, whereas there is a wide difference in their performance and efficiency. Nine women out of ten to whom the OHIO-TUEC is demonstrated choose it. Why?—Because it excels in suction power, which means cleaning power.

FIJIAN'S DAY OVER

Picturesque South Sea Islander Is Disappearing.

Advent of the White Man, With His Civilization and His Business Ideas Too Much for Once-Dreaded Savage.

The Fiji Islander, whose cannibalistic practices long made him a favorite with writers of fiction and humor, is following the Malay pirates and the roving pearl thief of the South seas into the realm of memory. A rurbanized half-caste Hindoo is replacing the once bloodthirsty and always picturesque native of the Fiji.

It is the white man's civilization, along with the white man's vices, and the Fiji's utter disinclination to work that are blotting out the race. The Fiji of today is no longer warlike, no longer a hunter and a fisherman. Instead he is a lazy smoker of the white man's tobacco, a lover of the white man's eviliving drinks and a patron of the white man's moving picture shows.

Time was when the war canoes of the Fiji sailed the Southern seas; when the Fiji warrior was a dreaded person who displayed no fear in battle and who enjoyed eating his slain enemies' hearts. The Fiji, according to the white travelers who came in contact with them, were superlatively bad. The very name Fiji became a synonym for whatever was barbarous, inhuman and cannibalistic. It seems that the eating of human flesh was both a matter of religious rite and of enjoyment with the Fiji. Great feasts of this sort were prepared, especially after a successful battle.

The bad reputation of the Fijians kept traders and missionaries away from the islands till long after other peoples of that section of the seas were Christianized. Finally the white man got a foothold in the islands. Trade of various sorts sprang up for the islands are wonderfully rich in commercial possibilities. The Fiji is a child who cannot grow up. He has no sense of commercial values and no liking for toil. The white man found him a wretched worker and almost unmanageable on the plantations that were laid out in the islands.

That is the reason why the Hindoo coolie has been imported into Fiji and why the Fiji is disappearing. The native cannot stand the double strain of softened ways of living and of competing with the work-hardened native of India.

They Used Horse Sense.
A team of horses, owned by a firm in Indianapolis decided to move without their driver. The horses, drawing a drag, started slowly. They were just behind the white line at Meridian and Maryland streets when the traffic man turned the semaphore. The "stop" sign faced the horses and they stopped. In a few minutes the traffic man turned the semaphore and the "go" sign faced the horses. They "went" and started at the "go" sign the traffic man failed to notice they were deaf. The horses slowly walked to the next corner and again the "stop" sign was up. The horses stopped. And this is the way the driver caught them when he did.

Canadian Statesmen.
The prime ministers of the Dominion of Canada, beginning in 1867, have been Sir John Macdonald, Alexander Mackenzie, then Sir John Macdonald again, Sir J. J. C. Abbott, Sir John Thompson, Sir McKenzie Bowell, Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Robert Borden. The governments of Canada have been Viscount Monck, from 1867 to 1890; Lord Lisgar, 1890-1872; earl of Dufferin, 1872-1878; marquis of Lorne, 1878-1883; marquis of Lansdowne, 1883-1888; earl of Dufferin, 1888-1893; earl of Aberdeen, 1893-1907; earl of Minto, 1898-1904; duke of Cornwallis, 1911-1916, and the late of Borden.

Hard Luck for Some One.
The monthly assays were in progress at the mining camp of Howling Wolf, and the courthouse was crowded with a motley throng, who took a deep, if somewhat noisy, interest in all the proceedings.

The upsur got worse and worse, and at last the judge could bear it no longer.

An imposing figure, in a multi-colored white wig, he rose to his feet and belted out:

"Gentlemen, and also prisoner, I must insist on order in the court house. Here I've tried four cases already, and haven't been able to hear a single word of the evidence."—Pearson's Weekly, London.

Why the Doctor's Name?
"This is the fourth morning you've been late, Rufus," said the man to his colored chauffeur.

"Yes, sah," replied Rufus. "I did overlook myself, sah."

"Where's that clock I gave you?"
"In 'n' room, sah."
"Don't you wind 'n' up?"
"Oh, yes, sah. I—inds it up, sah."
"And do you set the alarm?"
"Ev'ry night, sah. I set de alarm, sah."
"But don't you hear the alarm in the morning, Rufus?"
"No, sah. Dere's de trouble, sah. Yer see, de blame thing goes off while I'm asleep, sah."—Tonkers Statesman.
