TREATY MATTERS TO BE MADE PUBLIC

Foreign Relations Committee Plan of Publicity Accepted By The President.

REPORTS ARE ASSURED

Conference Occurs Next Tuesday—Daylight Savings Law Once More Hit Below Belt by Executive. Stated for King.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The senate foreign relations committee will meet with President Wilson on next Tuesday for discussion of the German treaty and the league of nations covenant. The executive has informed Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee, that stenographic records of the discussion will be made, and suggested that the committee also have a stenographer on hand. It is understood that the official transcript of the conference will be made, and suggested that the committee also have a stenographer on hand. It is understood that the official transcript of the conference will be made, and suggested that the committee also have a stenographer on hand.

PERPETUATES BAD LAW.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—President Wilson today for the second time vetoed the measure repealing the so-called daylight-savings law. Farmers and many others have asked for its repeal, and their appeal was supported by representatives of farming sections of the nation, regardless of politics.

DIVINE RIGHTERS UP.

GENEVA, Aug. 15.—A Prague dispatch states that a large section of socialists under Deputy Hurion is working for the creation of a monarchy in Czechoslovakia, and that the Duke of Connaught, an uncle of King George, of Great Britain, is slated for the monarchy. It is also said that "probably the duke is unaware of the honors" about to be conferred upon him.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

BITTLER, Pa., Aug. 15.—Rioting started among the striking workmen of the Standard Steel Car Co. today, and troops were called out to protect company property from the threatening attitude of the strikers. This is the ninth day of the strike but no other disturbances have occurred.

AUSTRIA RESPONSIBLE.

GENEVA, Aug. 15.—The allied governments have informed the Austrian government that it will be held responsible for Bela Kun Hungarian communist leader, and of his murder, later, for trial by an allied tribunal, a dispatch from Innsbruck states. Bela Kun will be tried for hanging and shooting citizens during his reign.

LEADING CATERERS VISIT ROSEBURG

Mr. James B. Hart, steward at the Imperial Hotel of Portland, L. Krenner, inspector of dining cars, hotels and restaurants and Charles Van Brunt, formerly of the Palace and St. Francis hotels of San Francisco, and three of the leading caterers of the Pacific Coast spent the night at the Umpqua Hotel. These three men have been affiliated with some of the biggest eating houses in the country and their presence in Roseburg at the same time is a remarkable coincidence. Mr. Van Brunt has accepted an offer made him by Manager Weaver of the Umpqua Hotel and will remain in Roseburg in charge of the dining room and kitchen of that establishment.

OFFICER SERVING PAPERS ASSAULTED

Pacific Lesina, a farmer residing near Dole, was arrested this morning charged with assaulting Constable F. W. Dillard, who went to the ranch in order to serve attachment papers in a civil suit. It is claimed that Lesina had been residing on a ranch owned by Tom Mossa, and that in the three years of his residence he has failed to pay the rent money. Mossa, who recently returned from army service, entered suit to collect the amount due and to eject Lesina. An attempt was made to tarnish the property on turkeys but the $70 was paid before the papers were served. An attachment was secured on the automobile owned by the defendant and the constable was instructed to serve the papers. According to Mr. Dillard he went to the place early this morning accompanied by Mr. Mossa, who read the document to Mr. Lesina, who refused to accept it. Mr. Dillard laid the paper down and started to proceed with the attachment, whereupon Lesina is said to have attacked Mossa with a club. The constable entered the fracas and Lesina grabbing a stove top attempted to strike the officer. He was placed under arrest and after a struggle was placed in the auto and started for Roseburg. The car became stalled on Roberts mountain and upon reaching the summit the prisoner made a move to pick up a rock as a weapon, whereupon Mr. Dillard pulled his revolver and threatened to kill Lesina if he made any further resistance. He was brought into the Justice court, where he was confronted with the charges. He was informed that the case will be dropped pending his good behavior but that in the event he makes a "break" he will be prosecuted on the serious charge.

CHRISTIANS WITHDRAW FROM UNION SERVICES

At a meeting of the board of officers of the Christian church last night, the matter of the relationship of the church to the summer union meetings was thoroughly discussed, and the following resolution was passed: Resolved that this church has tried to participate in all the union services of the summer, but owing to the fact that during the Chautauqua the Sunday night service of the church was voted on this church over the protest of the pastor which service was very lightly attended because of the Chautauqua. And owing to the fact that the service of next Sunday night was taken from this church ever the protest of the pastor and with apparently no unanimous vote that there seemed to be no further place for this congregation in the union meetings of the summer and the pastor was instructed to resume all regular services beginning Sunday, Aug. 24.

JUDGE MARSTERS RETIRES TODAY

After many years of public service County Judge, R. W. Marsters, retired from office today and after swearing in the new appointee, D. J. Stewart left the courthouse to take up his duties with the Pacific Coast Culvert and Flume Company as its district representative. As a gift of appreciation the employees of the court house presented Mr. Marsters with a fine shaving outfit, accompanied by a card expressing their appreciation for his kindness and courtesy in a dealings with those under his directions. Mr. Marsters will spend a couple of weeks enjoying vacation and will then enter upon his new duties.

ELIZABETH VINCENT DIES AFTER OPERATION

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lewis this morning received the sad news of the death of Elizabeth Vincent, their 12-year old grand daughter who died in a hospital at Pasadena following a severe operation. Mrs. N. J. Vincent, the mother who recently came to Roseburg from Detroit with her parents and who has made her home here for the past three years, recently took the girl to California for her health which has been very poor for some time.

OPERATOR MAKES BLUNDER

Mistakes oft-times happen in the best of well regulated families and inoperative operators are no exception to the rule. Yesterday Mr. Heinline was quoted as having stated that he had received numerous "complaints" in regard to the new publicity booklet sent out by the Chamber of Commerce. It should have read "compliments" but owing to an error in typesetting the wrong word got into print. The News takes this means to correct the error and also to add its compliments to the Chamber of Commerce on the booklet which is a great forward step in the world of good advertising.

Deputy County Surveyor Floyd Frear and a number of assistants are at present engaged in surveying out the lands embraced in the Scotch Company ranch located at Chenoweth Park a few miles north of Oakland. Mr. Frear states that he understands the property is to change hands which is corroborative of the announcement made a short time since that the property had been disposed of to a Montana man at $47,500. The farm includes approximately 1896 acres.

LOGANBERRIES ARE MORTGAGE LIFTERS

Kellogg Man Has Three And Half Acres Which Bring Him $2370.00.

FOR SMALL GROWERS

Eclipses Returns from France and Pear Orchards.—Evergreen Blackberries Will Do Practically As Well.—No Long Waits.
Two thousand three hundred and seventy dollars is the exact sum that T. P. George, a Kellogg farmer, received for his 1919 Loganberries, and this small fortune was realized from a field of three and one-half acres. But then this is Douglas county, so perhaps after all it is not to be wondered at. Just the same, that $2370 looks mighty good to a whole lot of people who are pinning their faith to a small fruits and heavy plantings throughout the county indicate that the berry industry here is just getting into a position to be recognized.
Mr. George planted his berries seven years ago, and has been keeping them in good condition. The field is on a hill about 600 feet above the level of the Umpqua river near Kellogg. It has no irrigation, but was given adequate cultivation and the vines properly trellised. The crop was sold to the Sutherland Fruit Products Co., and yesterday the grower got his check for the amount of $2370. In the green state his berries weighed approximately 22,750 pounds. In the evaporated form they weighed almost 6000 pounds.
Speaking of this really wonderful yield Mr. Frank J. Norton, manager of the Sutherland Fruit Products Co., plant at Sutherlin, stated today that it was not phenomenal, as Loganberries have been known to bring more than a thousand dollars to the acre when in full bearing.
These figures completely eclipse some of the prune and pear yields reported, and indicate that small fruits are the practical sort for the small grower to tie. More than that, there is no long waiting for orchards to grow necessitating expense to the owner while his trees are coming into bearing. Logans that are set out in the fall will become producers in a year and the expense of planting and trellising, etc., is only nominal.
According to Mr. Norton and other experts, the Evergreen Blackberry is nearly as profitable as the Loganberry. It is very hardy and the first year's loss, while the vines are maturing, is the only unprofitable time sustained by the grower.
It is believed that the prohibition law is partially responsible for the great demand for berry juices and beverages and it is pointed out that in close touch with the industry, that there is no possibility of overdoing the business for at least many years to come.

ARTESIAN WATER IS FOUND AT SUTHERLIN

Artesian water was discovered on the J. C. Campbell farm, three miles east of Sutherlin, yesterday afternoon, when the well drill owned by C. Heinzelman broke through bed rock opening up a subterranean stream that immediately began to function. The well is six inches in diameter and although on a hill side considerably above the level of the valley, is said to be flowing quite strongly. It is understood that a depth of less than 100 feet had been drilled. Many farmers of the neighborhood and pretty much everybody in Sutherlin are jubilant over the find as it is generally believed that artesian water exists in the vicinity and that other wells will be sunk to prove the truth of the assumption.

GLENDALE NOTES.

Wm. S. Parker, of Santa Barbara, Cal., was a city visitor on Monday. Mr. Parker is a native of Douglas County. He has spent the greater part of a long life in California, yet he holds very tender memories of childhood days in Douglas County. His parents were Thomas and Emily Parker, and they resided on Days

FORMER PRIZE RING STAR IS EVANGELIST

Young "Kid McCoy" Will Address Roseburg People Twice on Sunday.

IS YET A HARD HITTER

Many Men Go Down Now Under His Telling Thrusts Against Prevailing Evil—Story Of Rise From Ring To Pulpit.
He's no longer "Young Kid McCoy," but he's got the same old punch, just the same.
Now he's Reverend Otho Sackett, and what Billy Sunney is to the baseball pastime, Sackett is to the ring arena. Striding into the editor's sanctum as if he felt at home there, he reached out a -pen paw and negotiated a hand shake as if -punching as that of the late Bob Fitzsimmons. No man who carries around with him a vice that can deny love for humanity.
A fight's a fight for all 'a' that be there is some difference in meeting a man of equal weight, stretch, hitting power and skill in the squared circle for the championship and in meeting the influences of evil in a community over which you are directed to act as welfare worker.
The stamina which takes a black-haired, strong-jawed pug up to the past part of the featherweight championship as it did Otho Sackett, known to the sporting world as "Young Kid McCoy" will take this same lad through the program of a fight's a fight for all 'a' that be there is some difference in meeting a man of equal weight, stretch, hitting power and skill in the squared circle for the championship and in meeting the influences of evil in a community over which you are directed to act as welfare worker.
McCoy has a record of 127 battles with only two defeats one of these to Al Wogast in 1909 at Los Angeles and the other to Tom Pennington who later defeated McCoy. McCoy holds the world's record for scoring a K. O. gaining this distinction by his defeat of Billy Truman at the St. Louis world's fair in three seconds after the opening song of the first round.
McCoy who is making a tour of the Pacific Coast, preaching the Gospel in the various town and cities came to Roseburg with a goodly number of write-ups and letters to show of good work he has been doing throughout the coast, speaking at San Francisco, Pasadena, Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Everett, and many other of the smaller towns. AIR PATROL TO BE EXTENDED

Department Orders Seventeen Planes For the Northwest Division.

SITUATION IS CRITICAL

(By the Associated Press.)
SALTEM, Aug. 15.—General Hunter Liggett, commander of the western department of the army, today informed Major Albert Smith, commander of the Oregon Forest Patrol, that he favors extending the patrol over Oregon, Western Montana, and Northern Idaho. Seventeen more planes will be put under the Major's control and direction within a few days if the plans are approved in Washington. Thirty four fires have been discovered in Western Oregon to date, by the planes. The forest fire station in the McKenzie country, is more serious today and men are being rushed from all parts of the state. Several fires in that vicinity are beyond control.
When presented with a copy of the Associated Press dispatch, Major Smith informed the News that he has as yet received no direct communication from General Liggett.
"The news contained in your press message" said the officer "is what I have been expecting for some time. I was informed before leaving for Oregon that in the event of a serious situation the patrol would very probably be extended. Conditions certainly warrant the assigning of more ships to forest patrol duty and as soon as I receive confirmation of this message, I will immediately set my tentative plans in operation. The Associated Press is certainly on the job and is ahead of the War Department in this instance.
"I will leave tomorrow afternoon for Salem and from there will go into Washington Montana and Idaho to complete arrangements. I have been preparing for the trip for several days and have been having my motor overhauled for the aerial journey. I expect that more than seventeen planes will be needed if the severity of the situation increases but even that number will be a great addition to our meager force."
Major Smith, S. C. Bartram, Nath. Fullerton and Dr. Leibrach spent this afternoon at the Glade ranger station, where the army officer was given an opportunity to study the present patrol and observation system at close range. He desired to make this study in order that a closer co-operation between the air service and forest patrolmen might be established.

AVIATORS SUSTAIN SECOND ACCIDENT

Pangborn and A. C. Reed, Two Commercial Aviators Who Crashed Through a Fence at the North Roseburg Landing Field a Few Days Ago, as they Cracked in a clump of willow bushes at The Dalles yesterday with the result that their machine had to be dismantled and sent to the factory for repairs.

A jinx seems to be following C. E. Pangborn and A. C. Reed, the two commercial aviators who crashed through a fence at the North Roseburg landing field a few days ago, as they cracked in a clump of willow bushes at The Dalles yesterday with the result that their machine had to be dismantled and sent to the factory for repairs. Prior to this flight neither of the two fliers had suffered an accident of any severe nature. Reed broke a propeller on one occasion and Pangborn his main landing gear in one of his many flights. Both men are known by aviators as two of the best in the army and their bad luck is not due in any way to their ability. The soft field at The Dalles prevented the machine from taking off properly and it crashed a clump of willow trees shattering the propeller. The plane crashed from a height of 20 feet wrecking the landing gear and lower plane. Neither of the men were injured.

KLAMATH FALLS BURNED AT KLAMATH

KLAMATH FALLS, Aug. 15.—A garage fire here last night resulted in destroying 45 automobiles some of which belonged to visiting Eks. Property damage is estimated at fifty thousand dollars with approximately twelve thousand dollars insurance.
The Bellows car, driven by Roy Bellows, was apparently in the garage that burned as a telegram was received here saying the machine was scorched, although the damage to it is believed to be slight. Several machines went from Roseburg, but no word has been received that any of them were among the losses. A report was also received here to the effect, that the car belonging to Sheriff Quine was in the garage at the time of the fire. No word from the Sheriff has been received to this effect and it is not known definitely that he lost his car in the conflagration.
