THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1919.

A CORRECT DIAGNOSIS.

There is a difference between stubbornness and firmness. A noticeable characteristic of President Wilson, in his fixed determination to have his own way, regardless of the expressed wishes of approximately eighty millions free born American citizens, who have labored under the delusion that the president was their servant. Mr. Wilson's attitude has the daylight savings law was no credit to him, neither did it bring renown nor popularity. A great majority resented his position, and looked upon it as a plan whereby the people who do things might be forced into longer hours of work, while the classes with time on their hands were given privileges for joy-riding and pleasures generally. Congress heard the rumblings of discontent and three times repeal of the law was promptly vetoed. But it was only the second attempt to pass the measure over the heads of those by a substantial two-thirds. Democrats stood with republicans in rebuking the president, and thus reminding him that this is a democracy and men elected to even the presidential chair, are, after all, but servants of the people. The great majority are glad that another baga-boo is disposed of.

ARTICLE XXI MISLEADING.

It is said that the Monroe doctrine is simply safeguarded in the league covenant, Article 21. But is it? On April 29, 1919, the British delegation to the Paris peace conference issued a series of commentaries on the covenant, in which, referring to the Monroe doctrine, the statement was made that should any dispute as to its meaning ever arise between America and European powers, the league is there to settle it. By this it is seen that those who drew the covenant intended that the league should retain the power to interpret the Monroe doctrine. British diplomats framed the covenant. Britain has six votes to America's one in the league council. Great Britain and other powers would not recognize the Monroe doctrine, because it has been a thorn in the flesh of them all since it was first enunciated and so Article 21 is knocked out.

Refusal of the president to reveal the inner arrangements made between the peace council and Japan in connection with the Shantung settlement, is sufficient evidence that the executive has entered into a pact that he is afraid to place before the American public. Since the executive refuses to tell the people what promises he made the only thing for the country to do is to annul the deal. We want and must have "open covenants of peace openly arrived at."

Thank the powers that be that the daylight savings law will be a thing of the past after October first. Another one of Woodrow's pet hobbies has gone to the trash pile. Now let's "wind up" the league covenant and get down to real business for awhile.

This weather sure has a tendency to drive the natives to the tall timber.
