NONSMOKERS HEALTHIER.

People Who Do Not Use Tobacco Develop More Rapidly.

"There is an easy way, if you are a cigarette smoker, to tell whether or not the habit injures you," said a physician. "Do you feel, after smoking, languor, a shaking and a great depression? Do you feel melancholy, hopeless, weak? If you do you should abandon smoking at once.

"The tendency of tobacco is to weaken the action of the heart. But in very strong, robust persons this weakening effect is very slight. It is not felt at all, and these persons tobacco cannot be said to injure. But in persons whose hearts and constitution are frail the effect is strongly felt, the symptoms being those that I have just described, and such persons ought not to smoke."

This specialist has tabulated the records of all the smoking and non-smoking medical students of his acquaintance for a period of nine years. He has found that the smokers are shorter in stature than the non-smokers and that they do not develop as well. In the course of four years non-smokers gain 24 per cent more in height and 26 per cent more in chest girth than the smokers. The former, too, are quicker than the latter. They learn quicker, walk quicker—excel in the speed of all the physical and mental acts.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Remedy For Snake Bite.

There is a most remarkable account of the exploring trip of an orchid hunter named Andre through an unknown part of Venezuela. The party met with terrible hardships and privation, and only about half of them got back to civilization. They were in continual danger from snakes, and the native remedies, the only ones at hand, were severe ones. One day Mateo Ramirez, one of the men walking through the jungle, was bitten just above the ankle by a snake. Andre suspected that the bite was not poisonous, but Mateo was in mortal terror and allowed his friends to subject him to a remedy worse than the disease. Throwing him to the ground, they wound a strong creeper around his thigh until it cut into the flesh and then burned the wound with a live coal until the patient shrieked in agony. Chewed tobacco and crushed garlic were afterward rubbed in and the wound bound up. The snake bite was cured, but the poor victim suffered for many days from the remedy.—Lester's Monthly.

The Poor Chinese Wife.

A Chinese wife is not exactly to be envied, for she is under the authority not merely of her husband, but also of his mother. A book on Chinese etiquette gives rules which show pretty clearly how utterly subject a woman is to her mother-in-law. Here are a few of them: "When your mother-in-law sits you should stand. Obey her orders quickly. Rise early in the morning and open the doors quietly, taking care to make no noise to waken her. Hasten to prepare her toilet articles; retire and prepare for tea. Take it to her quickly and cheerfully, and then arrange the breakfast table. Place the chopsticks straight, boil the rice soft, and let the meal be thoroughly done. Prepare the meals thus carefully twice daily. When darkness comes and your great one desires to sleep, spread the bed, when she may peacefully rest and you may retire to your room."

Examples of Tersehood.

Perhaps the tersest and most effective election speech ever made, says a London weekly, was that of Mr. John Peel at Accrington, when at last and after the most urgent sollecitation he was induced to address there the electors of northeast Lancashire. "Men of Accrington, if you are so backward in coming forward, we shall all be behind as we were before." The only deliverance comparable with this in terseness and effectiveness was the sermon of Dean Swift's, which, taking as its text, "He that loveth the poor loveth to the Lord," began and ended thus: "Brethren, if you like the security down with the dust!"

Not Used to Pulling Corks.

A slight fire occurred on the fourth floor of a downtown establishment. An Irishman was at work on the same floor at the time the blaze started, and after it was put out Pat was called into the private office of the manager. "Pat, why didn't you try to put that fire out yourself? You could easily have extinguished it with a hand grenade; there's plenty of them up there," said the manager.

"Well, sor," returned Pat, "I had four of them on the case, but I couldn't get the corks out in time, begorra."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

One Thing Settled.

"Grace is greatly worried. She can't decide where to go on her bridal tour."

"When is she to be married?"

"The date hasn't been fixed yet."

"When is she going to wed?"

"That's another detail that is yet to be arranged. But she has her trousseau all planned."—Kansas City Journal.

A Tartar Proverb.

A Tartar-Tartar proverb throws light on the question of the amount of veracity to be looked for in official documents by orientals. The proverb runs as follows: "He who speaks the truth will be expelled from nine villages."

Comment.

"I thought I could get along without glasses awhile longer, but I find I can't."

"Yes? It was an optical illusion."—Smart Set.

However numerous may be the opportunities of life they are never discovered by those who keep their eyes shut and their hands idle.—Maxwell's Talmans.

A Natural Remedy.

It is a very reasonable thing to suppose if the foundation of a structure was removed that the building itself is bound to come down. This same principle can be applied to disease. Take a medicine into the system that will remove the cause of sickness and the illness leaves of itself. Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick-headache and biliousness have their foundation in stomach disorders. Remove this weakness and the other symptoms are no more. There is one cure for this that all druggists sell for 25 cents per box. It is called Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. They get right at the beginning of these diseases and make the cure by taking away the cause of it. We will send a small box free by mail, or a large box on receipt of 25c. Address The Dr. Bosanko, Medicine Company, Philadelphia, Pa. For sale at A. C. Marsters, druggist, Roseburg, Ore.

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt, of Bargeon, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at A. C. Marsters & Co's. Drug Store, Roseburg, Ore.
