Thursday night's heavy rainfall here, from 5 o'clock p. m. to 5 a. m. was 1.23 inches, so Observer Thos. Gibson, of the U. S. Weather Bureau, reports. This more than wipes out the deficiency from the average which has existed for some time past, owing to the shortage in December and January, and makes a total for the present month, to date, of 10.43 inches. The average rainfall at this station for the month of February is but 4.70 inches.

THE REASON

WHY do so many of the most careful dressers in town give us their entire furnishing goods trade?

A. J. Gross, a resident of Green valley, five miles northwest of Oakland, fell from the S. P. R. R. trestle, about three-fourths of a mile north of Roseburg Thursday, afternoon, in his excited haste to get out of the way of a light engine, which was coming towards him. At the place where Mr. Gross fell, the trestle is about 25 feet high. Fortunately he sustained no broken bones, but was hurt internally, though it is believed not seriously. When picked up, Mr. Gross was unconscious, but he revived while being taken to the county hospital. This morning he was placed on board the northbound local train and taken to Wilbur, from where he will be conveyed to his brother's home on the Calapooia, where he will remain until his recovery. When the accident occurred Mr. Gross was on his way home after having spent the earlier part of the day transacting business in Roseburg.
