Petroleum Deposits.

In a recent letter to THE REVIEW in regard to several articles and lectures which he expects to soon have published in pamphlet or book form, James Inman, of Looking Glass, announces that a little later he expects to travel and deliver lectures on a number of subjects in the leading cities. He further adds:

"It is also my intention to have published in pamphlet form my writings on petroleum, heretofore published in THE REVIEW and in the Plaindealer, which I have preserved, with some later information of the subject, which I will take along with my other publications, all of which will be advertised extensively. In addition to what I have heretofore written for the aforesaid papers, which may be of some interest to the people and state, let us say in part: That from later developments in a searching and inquiring way, in the geological formation of Flournoy valley and Looking Glass valley and north and south of these places and extending to east Coles valley and west Camas valley is the advantageous section in the state, for the reason that the petroleum sand lies nearest the surface there and does not require the expense and time in drilling for the oil. From what I find by investigation and what I hear from others in different parts of the state, I learn that the middle Neocene formation comes nearer the surface. The formation here consists mainly of thick sandstone, clay, shales, and shell rock in the sandstone of coarse grain and porous.

From heat caused by pressure, the ancient vegetable and animal deposits, including the marine, have been distilled. The petroleum afterwards cooled and such oil, when found, invariably carries a paraffine base.

During my special visit to the California oil fields two years ago and more, I found nine-tenths of the oil deposits there carried an asphalt base with from 10 per cent H. to 22 per cent B. This kind is cheap fuel oil. The earth penetrated by the drill was adobe, blue and white clays, conglomerate rock, and sometimes hard sandstone, at places very difficult to drill through. The main east Coast belt in California, as it will be found here, is narrow, with the exception of the Kern River field. The east Coast Range oil measure of Flournoy valley, though somewhat like the topography and formation of the territory of producing wells of the east Coast Range in California, yet is more, and is nearly exactly in substance and nature to the big well territory in the Pennsylvania fields, which produce petroleum of a paraffine base, which is the highest priced oil, with the exception of the white oil of Newhall, Los Angeles county, Calif., which has a sulphur base.

With my 22 years of oil operations in Pennsylvania, I am favorably impressed that a big oil producing field lies waiting for the drill in the Flournoy valley and Looking Glass district, and that it will be accompanied with sufficient gas to blow the oil. The foothill zone here, as it nears the east wall of sand rock overlies both shale and clay, and if it is found by the drill that hard sand rock underlies the blue shale it is next to certain that the oil sand will be found the next under strata.

The main purpose I have in view in publishing in pamphlet form my oil interests, is to influence eastern operators who, it seems, are not afraid to risk a few thousands in wildcatting in undeveloped yet prospective territory. Thanking you for past favors, I remain, Yours truly, JAMES INMAN.

Myrtle Creek, Ore., March 19, '04. The people of Myrtle Creek and vicinity have made up their minds to sink the oil well to completion, and so say by their signatures to a subscription list for stock being circulated here the past week. After thoroughly discussing the proposition with the business men and all classes of people it was decided to raise enough money to thoroughly test the oil basin at Myrtle Creek, where the company's string of tools now stands idle. Considerable has already been written regarding the past work. The proposition now is, we want to know from what source the money is coming to sink the well now under contemplation, and a stock subscription list was opened to see how the people felt regarding same. The capital stock is offered at ten cents per share and subscribers allowed an option on a like amount subscribed for at same price; and a guarantee given if the well is not sunk to a depth of 2000 feet, (unless oil is struck in paying quantities before said depth is reached) that the money will be refunded to the subscribers. The people realizing nothing could do more to bring this County to widespread public notice than proof that oil in paying quantities exists therein, and knowing that it would enhance the value of everything and create a home market for all kinds of products, at once responded by their signatures and promises. H. W. Miller is thoroughly canvassing this district, H. J. Wilkins is looking after Roseburg, while O. L. Sutherland is working at Oakland and vicinity. Should we all lend a helping hand and pull together this task is an easy one. Operations at the well should begin early in April and be completed inside of 90 days. Should it be necessary, the well will go deeper, as the string of tools can reach a depth of 3000 feet if required. This time the people seem determined to test the matter thoroughly.

MYRTLE CREEK NEWS.

W. A. Sweek, from Eastern Oregon, spent the past month here looking over the country, and has decided to return home and make arrangements to bring his family here to reside.

High wind Saturday did more or less damage in this vicinity. It spread several hundred yards of the big lumber flume broadcast.

Messrs Jacob Miller and John Rice are both under the care of skilled physicians and considered quite low at present writing. OCCASIONAL.

What Time Proves.

This thing of being sick and looking for a cure is a mighty serious business. People are not given to joking even at the first symptoms of the approach of the grim destroyer. They do not want to be the subjects of experiment, but want medicine that has had the test of years behind it. A medicine that has been made and used for 20 years gives assurance of its worth, and can be taken with a faith that they have the very best cure that the world affords. All this can be said about Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as a remedy for sick headache, dyspepsia, and indigestion. It begins right at the source of the trouble and removes the cause. We will send a sample box of these pills free, or a full box on receipt of 25c. Sold by all druggists for 25c per box, or address Dr. Gunn, Philadelphia, Pa. For sale A. C. Marsters, Roseburg.

Telephone Wanted.

All interested parties are requested to meet at the store at Dixonville at 2 o'clock p. m. on Thursday, March 24, to consider the matter and take steps for building or securing a telephone line between Dixonville and Roseburg. R. B. DIXON.

Cavite Creek News.

A very successful term of school in District 124, taught by Victor Boyd of Oakland, closed Friday. The patrons are all very much pleased with the untiring efforts of the teacher and the progress of the pupils. Our backwoods school has shown more advancement in a five months term than many others in a nine months term.

Miss Sophronia Turnell has gone to Oakland to attend the high school there, having finished the eighth grade here.

Our Sunday school is being well attended and much interest taken.

There has been no sickness in our neighborhood this winter; Mr. R. L. Cavite's renowned general good health is better than usual. Mrs. Belle Pardue has recovered her usual health.

Leslie and Alex Pardue are going to cut some wood for Mr. H. Bond on Deer creek next week.

Spring is advancing and stock is doing very well considering the kind of weather we have had.

The big trees are waiting for the sawmill, R. R., etc. X. 10, U. S.
