

How to Judge Beer PURITY

Impossible to find it in most bottled beers, because their preservation is gained through chemical adulteration.

Bottled beers, as well as food products, are often adulterated with chemical preservatives, etc., which for awhile keep them from souring, but are injurious to the stomach. A. B. C. BEER is guaranteed to be absolutely pure and free from any adulterant whatever. It is never exposed to the air (which is germ-laden) but is brewed, fermented and aged for eight months in air-tight compartments, then piped in tin-lined pipes direct to the air-tight bottling machines, where it is bottled, sealed, pasteurized and packed for shipment.

A. B. C.

The only beer bottled exclusively at the Brewery, therefore the only bottled beer that can be absolutely guaranteed.

Agricultural Education.

The movement to secure an agricultural education through the public schools of the country is steadily increasing and from time to time manifests itself through unusual channels. At the recent convention of the Travelers' Protective Association at Springfield, Illinois, addresses were made on this subject and the association voted to present the matter before the National Educational Association at its coming annual convention at St. Louis.

The Travelers' Association passed a comprehensive resolution setting forth that the stability of our social and business conditions and the prevention of recurring periods of trade depression require that the balance of our population should be maintained on the land as independent home owners and producers from the soil and that ways should be found and carried out for placing upon the land all unemployed labor and transforming every "out-of-work" into the owner of a home on the land from which he can at all times get a comfortable living with his own labor.

It was set forth that the entire American educational system should be so re-modeled as to induce every child to be a lover of nature and of the country and to train him toward the land as a source of livelihood rather than away from it; the children should be taught to farm as they are now taught in France and Denmark in the public schools and that farm training schools should be established by county, municipal, state and national governments.

The resolution further called attention to the great remaining public domain in the west as by far the most valuable asset of this nation which will furnish an outlet for our surplus labor during this and coming generations, urging that it be reserved for real home builders who will farm it in small tracts.

The association appointed a permanent committee on education, irrigation, forestry and land, with a member from each state and territory to carry out the idea of this resolution.

Weak Hearts

Are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands—swells, and puffs up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the final result. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, takes the strain off the heart, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body.
