SENATE BEGINS WORK.

Thirty-seven Bills Introduced and Two Passed in 40 Minutes.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 12.—Thirty-seven bills in 40 minutes, two of which were rushed through to final passage, besides the introduction of several resolutions and motions—all of which were definitely acted upon—is the record made by the Senate yesterday afternoon, after it had once settled down to business and began to grind.

Among the bills introduced in the senate was one by Senator O. P. Coshaw, of Douglas, to amend the code relating to the register of titles to real property. Mr. Coshaw also introduced a resolution to furnish each senator with copies of general and special laws and Senate and House Journals of the sessions of 1903; adopted.

Simon Caro, of Roseburg, was appointed chief clerk of enrolled bills for the senate, and C. S. Jackson, also of that city is to be chief clerk of either the judiciary or claims, for the house.

The senate confirmed Government Chamberlain's appointments of regents for each of the five normal schools of the state. The appointees for the Drain Normal school are J. A. Black, W. W. Kent and Dexter Rice.

LOCAL NEWS.

A. R. Mattoon was in town from the Mule Creek mines on lower Rogue River today.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bates go to Riddle Saturday to attend the funeral of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Riddle.

Harlan Stanton, who came down from Deer creek today reports the road in an unusually good condition for this season of the year.

On January 11, 1905, the six months extension of time expired which was granted by the supreme court of Oregon to Major L. D. Kinney, et al, for making final payment on the Flanagan estate property on Coos bay. This property, embracing 600 acres of land, lies between Marshfield and North Bend and has a water frontage of three-quarters of a mile. The purchase price was $50,000, of which $14,000 was paid down. By failure to make the final payment within the specified time, the tract reverts to the Flanagan estate.

Senator O. P. Coshaw came home from Salem Thursday night, the legislature having adjourned until Monday. The usual flood of bills is being introduced and the state printer's office is rushing them into print so as to be ready for action thereon. Measures voted by the governor after the close of the last legislative session will come up for a rehearing in a few days. The amendment to the Australian ballot law providing a means for voting a straight party ticket by simply marking at the head of the respective columns so arranged on the printed tickets, is causing the greatest comment but the outcome is yet very difficult to forecast.

Greatly in Demand.

Nothing is more in demand than a medicine which meets modern requirements for a blood and system cleanser, such is Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are just what you need to cure stomach and liver troubles. Try them. At A. C. Marsters & Co's drug store. 25c., guaranteed.

Swindler in the Toils.

Special to Evening Review.

PORTLAND, Jan. 13.—A sensational parallel to the notorious government land frauds was disclosed here today when C. R. Griggs, a mining speculator, was arrested on the charge of having swindled a number of persons out of sums aggregating a total of over $30,000 by means of fraudulent dealings in fictitious mining claims in Alaska. It is alleged that Griggs "located" some of his victims and to others he sold interests in the non-existent property, after which he chartered a special steamer and had them conveyed to alleged location of the mines. Upon the steamer's arrival Griggs was nowhere to be found and his swindle was thus exposed. Diligent search resulted in his being found in Portland.

In Memoriam

Lines written in memory of Lela Mae Crow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Crow of Riddle, Oregon, who departed this life Jan. 6, 1905, aged 13 years, four months and six days. This bright, beautiful bud was just beginning to unfold, in all its loveliness, when the reaper Death claimed her for his victim. A few short years she had made home a joy and earth a paradise to her fond parents and brothers and sisters, but on Jan. 6, 1905, she went to sleep to awake on earth no more.

Dearest Lela, how we miss you Since you sleep beneath the sod, But we know you rest in heaven With the Angels and with God.

Still our hearts were nearly broken. When we laid you down to sleep; Earth is dear and heaven is glorious, Dearest Lela we'll not weep.

Rest dear girl, we will not wish you Back in this dull world of pain; For we hope in the hereafter In realms of bliss to meet again. MAMMA.

Riddle, Ore., Jan. 11, 1905.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years from rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pennsylvania. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times, walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.
