The southbound overland, due here at 4:23 a. m., this morning, did not arrive until 9:25 o'clock. The train was delayed by a mishap which befell a northbound freight train near Henderson, Lane county. A huge rock had rolled down the hillside near enough to the rail to "strip" one side of the engine of the train and forcing the car immediately behind to leave the track. No other damage is reported.

While rather loosely constructed, and handicapped by lack of sufficient stage room on which to display the scenery, the play of "Nettle, the News Girl," afforded good entertainment for a fair sized audience at the Roseburg Theatre Friday night. The play is a series of climaxes, into the last one of which the author seems to have put his best efforts. The troupe includes one of the cleverest novelty jugglers on the road.

Charged with the crime of larceny, E. Harlow, a transient look, is on trial before a jury in Justice Long's court this afternoon. Harlow and another transient fell in with Robert Sweeney, a miner, who came here from Glendale Thursday morning, with $65 in his pocket. Being of a convivial disposition, Sweeney permitted Harlow and his companion to share a "good time" with him, as a result of which Sweeney was landed in jail with more than he could hold. Harlow was later arrested at the depot, where he intended to buy a ticket for Eugene with money, which, it is alleged, he secured from Sweeney's person. Prior to the commencement of this trial, Justice Long awarded Dr. E. DuGaz judgment in the sum of $8 from John Needham for medical services. The original amount sued for was $20.
