In the matter of the petition of S. H. Dodson, S. D. Whitsett and D. L. Whitsett for the appointment of a guardian over the estate of Enoch P. Anderson, an alleged incompetent, Judge M. D. Thompson has rendered a decision holding that Mr. Anderson is "not incapacitated, on account of age or bodily infirmities from transacting his own business, and finds further that in the transfer of the real property of said Enoch P. Anderson and leasing of his personal property to Frank Hahn, referred to in the petition in this cause, that said Anderson is fully protected in his interest in said property and his support and maintenance for life assured, as appears from the records and files of the clerk of this court." The petition for the appointment of a guardian is therefore dismissed.
