

For Coughs

Never hesitate to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is a regular medicine, a strong medicine, a doctor's medicine.

It would be very interesting to know how many years your family physician has prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs, colds, and all forms of lung troubles. Ask him the next time you see him. We know physicians who have used it for over half a century.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON A SAFE HOME TREATMENT

In S. S. S. nature has provided a certain, safe, home cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It is a medicine made entirely of roots and herbs of recognized blood-purifying value, and in the one medicine which is able to get down to the root of the trouble and remove every particle of the virus, and at the same time benefit and build up the system and general health. No harmful effects ever follow its use, as is so often the case when strong mineral medicines are used. As soon as the system gets under the influence of S. S. S. the disease begins to improve, and when the remedy has thoroughly purified the blood and driven out every trace of the poison, no signs of the trouble are ever seen again. The general manifestations of Contagious Blood Poison such as falling hair, copper-colored spots, ulcerated mouth and throat, sores and ulcers, etc., are merely symptoms of the poisoned condition of the blood, and in most cases respond quickly to local treatment, while S. S. S. is doing the necessary work of cleansing the blood. Our "Home Treatment" book is of great assistance along this line. It is a complete guide for treating the trouble, containing instructions for the different stages of the disease, and also valuable suggestions about the local treatment, that will be most helpful in effecting a cure. We will be glad to send a copy of this book, free of charge, to any who desire it, and if special medical advice is wanted our physicians will take pleasure in supplying it without cost to the patient. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison you can cure yourself in the privacy of your own home by the use of S. S. S., an absolutely safe remedy.

Mrs. Alfred Mathews, of Fall Creek, has returned from Portland, where she had been receiving medical treatment. She is now enjoying excellent health.

Miss Lillian Ruth Way, of Myrtle Point, who has been manager of the telephone office at that place for several years, and Paul Sterling, former Southern Pacific agent at Drain, were married at Myrtle Point last Wednesday. Mr. Sterling is now agent for the Coos Bay & Eastern railway at Coquille.

W. L. Cobb went to Glenbrook today to look after matter pertaining to the big farm and orchards of the Glenbrook Land & Irrigation Co. Their prairie crop there promises an immense yield this season, and the same favorable condition prevails in Cobb Bros' 30-acre apple orchard at Yencalla.

H. E. McAllister, the new fish warden of this state, visited the North Umpqua hatchery, above Glide the past week and was well pleased with the conditions there. As to the building of a permanent hatchery at the present location he made no positive statement.

P. E. Turnell went to Portland Saturday where he has accepted a position with the Honeyman Hardware Co. Mr. Turnell graduated recently from the Philomath college and his immediate employment again shows that there is always a demand for capable, active and reliable young men.

North Bend Harbor: C. J. Van Zile has been circulating a petition his week asking the county commissioners to appoint a cruiser for all the timbered lands of Coos county, so that it might be equably assessed and taxed. Wm. E. Homme has been appointed postmaster at Coonston and will open the new office about July 1. Coonston is opposite North Bend and will receive mail from the North Bend office. This is a great convenience to the people living on the Coos river valley and in the Coos river valley. With the building of the railroad to the bay it will not be long until the mainland will have quite a own.

A change in business location of more than ordinary interest will occur in Roseburg in about a month or six weeks hence, when the First National Bank will vacate its present quarters and move five doors south into the building now occupied by P. H. Churchill, the hardware merchant. Mr. Churchill's future quarters will be announced in a few days. The future tenancy of the building to be vacated by the bank is also withheld from public information, pending decision on several applications. The building to be occupied by the bank will undergo extensive alterations, both inside and out, and a splendid set of new fixtures are to be installed. This removal will give the bank one of the most advantageous corner locations in the city and much larger and more comfortable quarters for office work.

Dr. George E. Honck, of this city, inspector of ordinance of the 11th Regiment, Oregon National Guard, has been granted a patent on his door rifle target, which was conceived by Major Winder, of the Ohio National Guard. A hearing on the content was held in Roseburg last November. These targets are of the exact shape of the field targets, but the size has been so reduced that they represent feet instead of yards distant. A target, for instance, that is to be used at 2,000 yards can be reduced in size so that it can be placed at 200 feet and have the same effect in target practice as the field target. It has taken no little study and practice to reduce these targets and get them exact, so that all field targets can be brought to within a range of 80 to 300 feet, and still not destroy the effect. This, however, has been accomplished by Dr. Honck and he has had them in use here for some time.

Plans for the construction at Portland of the largest packing-house west of the Rocky mountains have reached a point where specifications are in the hands of prospective bidders. The 2000-acre site, valued at nearly $3,000,000, has all been secured and is rapidly being put in order for business, and more than 200 carloads of machinery are on the way to the city. Simultaneously with the construction of this enormous plant there will be in process of completion on the west side of the river, the largest wheat warehouse in the world, while down at St. John another immense structure for wheat handling begins in earnest. These two great industrial projects, of course, can mean nothing else than that Portland is to be the headquarters of the grain and livestock business of the Pacific Northwest, and they show on the part of the promoters of the big enterprises a faith in Portland that augurs well for its future. With the present facilities for moving the wheat crop, Portland has in a number of seasons handled more wheat than has been handled by all other North Pacific ports combined, and as a single warehouse now under construction by the North Bank road will practically double the facilities of the port it is assured beyond a doubt that Portland will this season make greater gains in the wheat trade than ever before.—Oregonian.

THE HAPPIEST HOME.

Opinions differ as to just what is needed to constitute the ideal happy home, but everybody agrees that music is one of the most important things. Can you think of a single happy home where they do not have music in some form? Music promotes happiness because it improves the temper and dispositions of the worst of us. Especially in summer, when it is possible to sit on the porch or lawn and listen to the charming music of an up-to-date Edison Phonograph. The Edison is by turns a band, an orchestra, a soloist, a comic talker, or anything you can call for in the realm of music or entertainment. A great many are being sent to local homes by BURR'S MUSIC HOUSE, the largest phonograph dealers of southern Oregon.

If you are not familiar with these wonderful entertainers call and hear them played; no trouble to show goods. DSW

DIED.

MORIARTY—In Seattle, June 18, 1908, Eileen Moriarty, youngest daughter of Mr. Chas. Moriarty, aged seven years, ten days.

The little girl had been ill about two weeks with tubercular meningitis of the brain. The family formerly resided here and their numerous friends will be deeply pained to learn of her early demise. Their sorrow is the greater for the loss of this bright little girl, following, as it does, the death of her mother just a few months ago.

The body was brought here by her father and the funeral will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from the Catholic church, with services conducted by Father Shaw, of Portland. Interment will follow beside the body of her mother in the Catholic cemetery.
