AN ISLAND OF QUIET.

Yet Going Downtown in Madeira is an Exciting Event

Madiera is populated, yet is one of the quietest as well as one of the most beautiful places in the world. Although the roads are paved with cobble stones, there is nothing to remind one of the fact, because, as Irvld G. Fairchild, agricultural explorer of the department of agriculture, explains in the National Geographic Magazine, there are no harness or jute-line wheels.

All vehicles in Madeira are on runners. If you go calling it is in a ball-like sledge with canopy top and comfortable seats. If you move a bank safe or a steam boiler it is carried on a "stone boat," or sledge of poles, and you may have to get forty oxen to pull it. If you are in a villa on the hillside and want to get downtown you take a running car and slide down over the cobblestones.

Two strong men, each holding a guide rope, pull your car over a bag of grease to grease the runners and then give you a running shove and jump each on a runner behind as the car shoots down at a breakneck pace over the cobblestones.

The men yell, hens and dogs scamper, foot passengers cling close to the wall of the narrow street, the runners get hot and fill the air with odor of burning wood as you shoot round sharp corners, down the busy thoroughfare, past gorgeous masses of flowering creepers which hang over the walls of the private villas that border your road.

But, oh, the change when you get to the bottom! You are obliged either to walk or take a carro, drawn by slow moving bullocks, squeaking and slipping over the stones.

ORIGIN OF THE HORSE.

The Modern Animal a Cross Between Two Ancient Breeds.

In Wisconsin for Alle Professor Koenig discusses in some detail the origin of the horse of today. He finds that the horse of neolithic times was not specifically distinct from the horse of the present. While there is no doubt that the horse of that period was used by man for food, there seems to be no conclusive evidence as to whether it was domesticated or not. His own opinion, however, is that it was probably domesticated.

The horse of that time was closely allied to the tarpan or semitwild horse that lived in southern Russia up to a century ago. This was a "hog maned," short legged, large headed beast. It seems probable that the domesticated horses of the Germans of Caesar's time were derived from this breed.

The Egyptians had horses as early as 1800 B. C. These were long maned, more like the Arab horses, and came from Assyria. Where the Assyrians obtained them is unknown, but it was probably from southern Asia, where this long maned breed has been developed in all probability as the result of long continued domestication. The modern horse is a cross between these two breeds, with a further mixture of the Arab horse. This Arab horse, too, was itself a descendant of the earlier long maned horse.

The origin of the long maned horse is a matter of doubt, but Professor Koenig thinks it may have been from an extinct Indian species.

Women Who Marry at Thirty-five.

A German doctor lays it down as a well established fact based on close observation that women who do not marry until thirty-five or thereabout invariably achieve matrimonial success. Why women of this particular age should make more successful marriages than those who fall victims to love's young dream is fairly obvious. When a young woman marries between thirty and forty she either does so for companionship, choosing her mate accordingly, or from need, in which case she also chooses with a certain amount of care. She has no wild dreams of unalloyed bliss.—London Lady's Pictorial.

A Freak of the Lightning.

A curious case of lightning destruction took place some years ago at Gatchina, an imperial summer residence not far from St. Petersburg, where stood a stone column fifty feet high, held together by iron angles. When rain fell more or less water penetrated the stones in the interior of the monument. One day it was struck by lightning, and instantly the column disappeared from view, killing a lone sentry on guard. The only explanation is that the heat of the lightning instantly generated steam on coming in contact with some of the water and the terrific explosion followed.

The Change of a Comma.

"Whenever she asks me to do anything," soliloquized Mr. Meeker wearily, "I always go and do it, like a fool."

"Yes," said Mrs. Meeker, who happened along in time to overhear him "Whenever I ask you to do anything you always go and do it like a fool!"—Chicago Tribune.

The Baby Helped.

James Yes, our household now represents the United Kingdom. Smith-How's that? James—Why, you see, I am English, my wife is Irish, the nurse is Scotch, and the baby wails.—London Express.

Changed.

"Do you believe that man and woman should have equal rights?"

"Well, I used to, but since I've been married I don't dare to say so."—Cleveland Leader.

Men make houses, but women make homes.—Danish Proverb.

T. S. GRAY, Observer.
For Roseburg and vicinity:
Fair tonight; Friday fair and cooler.

This week F. B. Waite sold to Hon. O. P. Coshow an 18-acre tract from his big Round Prairie farm, which was recently subdivided and placed on the market. A Seattle gentleman purchased 11 acres there yesterday and some Portland people are making selections today. W. L. Cobb recently purchased a tract there which he will have set to fruit. This is an indication of how fast these small tracts are being taken up by people both at home and from abroad, as this locality, known for many years as the Burnett farm, is one of the finest in the county. Mr. Waite says he is receiving from 40 to 50 letters of inquiry every day as a result of his recent advertising in The Review and the Portland papers. Some of these inquiries are coming from as far away as Oklahoma, Texas and the Mississippi valley states. Needless to say, anyone who desires a choice tract of fruit land at a low price would better buy now as the most desirable pieces will be acquired soon and all are bound to advance rapidly in price.

In Grants Pass Wednesday tin cups tied all over the street sprinkler was a unique way of announcing that the town had gone "on the water wagon." About 3 o'clock a. m., a party who had been celebrating during the dying hours of the "wet" regime held an impromptu "prayer meeting" in the street, where gospel hymns and others allowed vent for the feelings of the participants.

EASILY DECIDED.

This Question Should be Answered Easily by Roseburg People.

Which is wiser—to have confidence in the opinions of your fellow citizens, of people you know, or depend on statements made by utter strangers residing in far-away places? Read the following:

G. W. Bennett, Fowler St., near the creek, Roseburg, Ore., says: "I was more or less annoyed by kidney complaint ever since I left the army in 1865. I suffered everything from a steady, dull aching to excruciating twinges through the small of my back. I had to move around very carefully for a false step or backward movement brought sharp twinges through my body. The secretions from the kidneys were in a terrible condition being dark in color, and after standing for a time depositing a brick dust sediment. Nothing gave me any permanent relief until I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at A. C. Marsters & Co's drug store. The contents of the first box so greatly benefited me that I continued taking them until entirely relieved. I am eighty-eight years old and can hardly expect to be cured completely, but when a remedy will bring relief to a person of my age and in a case of so long standing, what wily it do in ordinary cases?"

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Just Exactly Right.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for several years and find them just exactly right," says Mr. A. A. Felton, of Harrisville, N. Y. New Life Pills relieve without the least discomfort. Best remedy for constipation, biliousness and malaria. 25c at A. C. Marsters & Co's drug store.
