FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Kitchen Helps.
If a teaspoonful of vinegar is added to the water in which fish is to be cooked, a most delicious flavor will be imparted to it.

To make cake lighter always beat the eggs, butter and sugar together and then add the flour, fruit, etc.
To take spots out of blue serge and generally brighten it up bathe with a sponge dipped in blue water. Afterward hang up the dress to dry.

If food becomes slightly burned while cooking, set the pan at once in a basin of cold water and its flavor will be unaltered.

The best way to prevent lamps smoking is to dip the wick in strong vinegar, then thoroughly dry it before using.

Washing Lace Curtains.
Shake and brush lace curtains to remove the dust and soak them in soapy water overnight. Work the curtains gently up and down in the water and squeeze them between the hands to get the dirt out. Put them into a clean warm suds and keep changing the water until the curtains are clean. Never wring curtains by hand, for it strains and tears them. Lay them on a strip of cloth and put carefully through the wringer. Rinse well in several waters and put through hot, moderately thick starch. If the curtains are white, the starch should be blue; if cream color, strong coffee should be added to it.

Mild Skin Bleach.
Two ounces of pure honey, half an ounce each of glycerin and rectified spirits, one and a half drams of pure citric acid and thirty-three drops of rose essence. Put the glycerin and honey into a basin and set in hot water, stirring until both are melted. Into the spirits put the acid to dissolve and then add the rose essence. Let the basin stand until its contents are cold, then combine the two mixtures. This should be rubbed well into the skin morning and night. It is not a powerful bleach, but constant use will whiten and soften the skin.

Time Saving Strainer.
Among recent inventions in kitchen utensils is the colander herewith shown, the invention of a Minnesota man. The common method of straining the contents of the colander by forcing it through the perforations by the aid of a spoon is done away with. Instead within the colander is a tapered spiral

IMPROVED COLANDER.
Feed blade, the lower portion of which closely fits and is arranged to scrape over the perforated bottom of the bowl. The feed blade is operated by a handle, which extends above the edge of the bowl. This novel attachment affords an easy and convenient method for quickly straining the contents of the colander.

Sewing on Waist Buttons.
When making lingerie waists or any waists of thin and sheer materials stitch a band of tape or an extra fold of the goods down the middle of the hem where the buttons are to be sewed. The buttons should be sewed to this. It gives extra body to the hem and makes a firmer foundation for the buttons to be sewed to, and this will prevent them from tearing off and pulling a piece out of the waist with them.

To Test Butter.
This test for butter is so simple that any housewife can put it into practice. A clean piece of white paper is smeared with a little of the suspected butter. The paper is then rolled up and set on fire. If the butter is pure, the smell of the burned paper is rather pleasant, but the odor is distinctly tall if the "butter" is made up wholly or in part of animal fat.

Flora Linn Edges.
There is an easy way of finishing the loose edges of the neck and sleeves of lace-trimmed blouses which makes them look fascinating. Take an ordinary curling iron, such as is used for curling the hair, and heat it with the regular iron. After the waist is ironed take the curling iron and pinch the loose edging. This will flange it evenly and attractively.

Rhubarb Wine.
Put six pounds of rhubarb through a vegetable cutter, or small wine press. Add four quarts of boiling water and let stand nine days, stirring three times each day. Strain through cheese-cloth and add four pounds of sugar. When it is done fermenting, bottle airtight, with two raisins in each bottle.

Flowers For the Table.
Never use very strongly scented flowers for the table. Such flowers as gardenias, stephanotis and hyacinths should be avoided. Their strong perfume in a hot room makes some people feel quite faint, while it takes all appetite away from others.

WEDDING AT OAK CREEK.

A very quiet, but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Thornton, at Oak Creek, when their daughter, Miss Pearle, was united in marriage to Mr. Otto Erickson, at noon, Wednesday, July 1, 1908, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends.

The bride was tastefully attired in white silk and wore a bouquet of white orange blossoms, while the groom wore the conventional black.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Hicks, of Roseburg.

The presents received and by whom given were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Thornton, set of dishes and set of glassware, consisting of sugar bowl, cream pitcher, spoon holder and butterdish; Mr. Chas. Erickson, clock; Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Thornton and son, water set; Miss Ida Erickson, water set; Miss Ethel Thornton, cake stand; Miss Lena Erickson, fruit dish; Miss Hendrickson, parlor lamp; John Kernan, meat plate; Johnnie Erickson, toothpick holder; Mrs. Maggie Turner, set of glassware, consisting of sugar bowl, cream pitcher and spoon holder; Eugene Barker, set of tablespoons; Ralph Turner, jelly dish; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Atterbury, set of glassware; Zenas Barker, set of spoons; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Barker, set of breakfast plates, set of sauce dishes and syrup pitcher. After a bounteous dinner the guests departed after wishing Mr. and Mrs. Erickson a happy wedded life.

Two arrests for drunkenness, the first under the present era of prohibition, were made by Marshal Norman on July 4th. Each defendant deposited $20 cash bail to insure his appearance in the police court at 9 o'clock this morning, but at the appointed hour only one showed up. He was fined $15, which he paid, and the bail of the other man was declared forfeited.

Fred Fougere is in Portland buying stock and fixtures for his new drug store in this city.
