DEMOCRATS CHEER BRYAN 47 MINUTES

The Roosevelt Ovation at Chicago is Equaled

GORE STARTS THE TUMULT

Commoner Will be Nominated Tomorrow or Friday—Chairman Clayton's Grilling Speech

Special to the Evening Review.

DENVER, Colo., July 8.—Thomas P. Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma, created a tumultuous scene in the national Democratic convention today by referring the Wm. J. Bryan as "the greatest living apostle of human liberty." The demonstration that followed this utterance lasted 47 minutes, equalling the ovation to Roosevelt at the recent national Republican convention in Chicago.

publican platform four years hence those abuses and failures on the part of the present administration. I urge the impossibility of separating the present occupant of the White House from his own anointed one.

"It has been made evident in the pending campaign that the campaigners will seek to conjure with the name of Roosevelt and will rely upon the president's policies as a prized asset. The president has advertised himself and his policies with a frequency and ability that surpasses the best efforts of the shrewdest press agent. A distinguished Republican, a former cabinet officer, once publicly proclaimed the president to be the greatest exponent of the art of advertising the world has known. The country has been told and has not been allowed to forget that in his opinion, his energies have been devoted to the accomplishment of many high purposes and that if his work is yet incomplete it is so only because his undertakings were too vast to be carried to success during his term of office.

My policies must continue. So the champion of these would transfer office and power to his favorite cabinet minister and his spear to have a fellow. The pretense is that the fight must go on under the leader designated by him until the last foe shall have surrendered or been inglorious in the dust. The nomination of his would-be successor was largely accomplished by the use of official patronage and coarse machine methods and has delighted the chief apostle of strenuousness and at the same time, has not perturbed the conscience of the one time civil service reformer, now the boss, an adept in the bestial of public plunder and forgetful of all his resounding moral commonplaces. No fair minded American could read the daily ac-

Chairman Clayton's Speech. Hon. Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, was today made permanent chairman of the convention. His speech follows in part: "The Republican party has made marked progress in promises to the people and much greater progress in aiding selfish interests and special privileges. That party, guided by expediency and campaign necessity, would camp this year on Democratic ground. If it is apparent recent progress is to continue, it does not require a very great sweep of the imagination to see written into a Recounts of the recent political doings at Chicago without feeling mortification and regret; mortification that the president should have so abused his power in dictating to a great party his choice of a successor and regret that that party should have submitted so cowardly to a nomination that was as manifest as it was outrageous.

"What are the policies which constitute the capital of the Republican party in this campaign and what are relied upon to support the candidacy of Mr. Taft?"

"To recall Democratic platforms, speeches and measures is to convince any man that many of the president's public utterances were derived from an avowed familiarity with the teachings of our party. His utterances that are Democratic have given him his only claim to be a reformer and have contributed more than all else to the popularity he has enjoyed. The heir and the party are committed to 'unflinching adherence to the policies' of the president. What are these policies and what are the achievements of president and party.

"The meaningless generalities of its injunction plank are an insult to the intelligence of those who demand reasonable and substantial legislation to prevent the admitted abuse of this judicial process.

"The president and his party declares that a pre-election revision of the tariff would be unwise. This assertion has been repeated in advance on every election since the enactment of the Dingley law and surely the country will not again be deceived by Republican promises to revise the tariff after the election. Their appeal to the people is this—Give us another chance to make you a promise and the promise will be made.

"We have the spectacle of a president urging a refractory congress to pass needed reforms and appealing in vain, or we have another spectacle, that of a president for the sake of his own popularity, for the sake of the popularity of his own candidate making a political play by urging that congress do what he must have known it would not do and what we are forced to consider he did not wish done. The president stands sponsor for Mr. Taft. He desires that the laboring man, that those who would have the government effectively regulate the railroads; that those who would revise and reduce the tariff and destroy the trusts; those should believe that Mr. Taft is not a reactionary but a militant reformer, saturated with his ideas and that he will carry out 'my policies.' Mr. Taft will have to receive about seven millions of votes before he can execute 'my policy.' To get the votes for him the president wishes to show, and he can show it cheaply, by pointing to recommendations that his party associates have ignored and will ignore.

"The press has told us in what seemed to be a semi-official statement from the White House that the president was so intent upon his policies that if congress adjourned without enacting them into law, he would call an extra session. Congress did adjourn leaving unpassed most of his favored measures and the extra session was never called. If the president desired to have this legislation the Democrats were ready to join in its passage. Democratic leader of the House, authorized by all his party associates repeatedly offered the entire Democratic strength in support of these measures. The Republicans have less than sixty majority in the House. If thirty of them had joined the Democrats all of these measures would have passed there and come to a Republican senate. So far as the House is concerned less than one-seventh of the Republicans were needed to change these recommendations into law. The Republican support was not forthcoming.

"Let us see what could have been done if legislation instead of party advantage had been desired. "If a part of the Republicans had joined the Democrats in support of measures proposed by a Republican president, the power with which some Federal judges have hastily thrown their authority into the scale against labor would have been regulated by law. "A fair trial in all cases of direct or constructive contempt of court would now be provided by law. "Labor would be exempt from the prohibition of the Sherman law against combinations. "Wood pulp and print paper would now be on the free list and the present tax upon intelligence to that extent abolished.

"No longer would it be in the power of one federal judge, sitting in chambers of the hearing evidence ex parte, upon the allegation that a state law is confiscatory, to suspend it by temporary injunction. A Democratic measure that passed the senate at the last session of congress, providing that it should be necessary for three judges to act together for the purpose of issuing such an order, could now be the law. A law requiring the publication before election of campaign contributions would have been enacted. "Representative institutions must be preserved. Our federal government of delegated and limited powers must be maintained in all its constitutional vigor. And each state must be preserved with all of its reserved powers and in its integrity and autonomy forever.

"Therein is the safety of the union and the states indissoluble and inalienable. Let us confidently hope that the time will never be ripe for the change of the constitution by 'executive action' and by 'judicial interpretation.' If such a time should come, then the government of law will perish from the earth and a government of caprice will be created on the ruins of one established by a written constitution.

Democratic Duty. "We know there is a brighter prospect. If the love of country and liberty is still strong in the hearts of the American people; if an oath to support the constitution is now considered by them as binding; if the people are in earnest in their protests against the rule of insolent wealth, the unauthorized and baneful advance of corporations and the exactions of trusts; if the manliness of the fathers have been transmitted to the sons, the fourth of next March will mark the advent of the gladdest light of Democracy and the beginning of the return of constitutional government honestly and economically administered.

"To the banner we raise here we invite to repair all citizens of our common country who revere the nobler traditions of the past and who deplore the grave aberrations of the present. "Let us see to it that this standard shall once again float over a government resting secure on fast foundations."

A Personal View. (By William Allen White.) DENVER, July 6.—Politicians are all alike. The Republican politicians at Chicago sniffed more or less at "our hero" and the "war chief," and here the politicians are cheering and here the politicians are sneering more or less about the "peerless one." Roosevelt and Bryan have put the politician out of business in the national conventions, so the politician does not like Roosevelt and Bryan. The politician has his side to the controversy. He has to spend at least $100 of his good money coming to the convention. Probably the average would be nearer $200. He has to take a week or 10 days from his business and to get the election as delegates he has to make a fight in the district or state convention which costs him more time and money, and then he gets to the national convention he finds the presidential candidate named the platform written at Chi-ago and left to Bryan at Denver and all that the politician has to do with the convention is to fuss with the delegate from his state over who shall be national committeeman and explain when he gets home why he didn't vote for someone else for vice-president. Some time ago a delegate to a national convention was someone, but now, under the regime of Roosevelt and Bryan, he is as inconsequential as a presidential election and thus every convention, in many ways, is like it in the strong undercurrent of feeling there is against the man in the party whom the people honor.

CHANCES FOR VICE PRES. DENVER, July 7.—As it appears today, the chances are good that they will be a fine old Democratic ruction over the naming of the vice-presidential candidate. Of the half-hundred aspirants and "receptive" candidates, the two most prominently mentioned now are Representative Ollie James, of Kentucky, and Chas. A. Towne, formerly of Minnesota, and now of New York.

There are one or two absolute facts connected with the situation. One is that if the delegation from the state of New York will, or can, unite upon a candidate, that man will be nominated. If the Empire state does not desire to avail itself of this privilege Bryan will indicate his choice and whoever his names will be the nominee. Another fact is that even many of the radicals are desirous of naming a conservative for second place on the ticket.

Ollie is no Willieboy. George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, is responsible for the Ollie James boom. He picked out the big, popular Kentuckian, who doesn't look at all like his first name sounds, as a likely runner, partly because of his oratorical ability, and particularly because he is a southerner and would "clinch" the Democratic vote in the south, which is none too friendly to Bryan.

COUNTY COURT ADJOURNS. County court on Tuesday evening adjourned to meet again July 23, at which time some deferred road matters will be considered. Previous to adjournment the following orders were made: Purchase of all court house supplies and additional clerk hire, together with compensation, is assumed exclusively by the court, as provided by law. Miss Blanche Reed appointed special deputy to the county clerk at a salary of $50 per month, and in consideration of such expense the county is to receive all monies for fees collected by the county clerk. Petition of L. L. Mathews and others for a county road on Little River, near Peel, referred to board of viewers, who are to meet at the residence of H. B. Haines on July 28 and proceed to locate said proposed road. E. S. Cockerell, W. F. Harris and Frank Kennedy appointed deputy county assessors until further notice, at a salary of $2.50 per day. County bridge across the Umpqua near Canyonville ordered resituated. Six warrants, each for $5, all drawn in favor of Ed. Moore, cancelled because not called for.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS. John I. Hall to F. C. Johnson and J. R. Hall, $500; 160 acres sec. 25, 29-4. H. Hartshelm to L. Simons, $450, part of sec. 2, 28-4.

STATUE FOR QUAY.

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—Arrangements are being made for the unveiling of the state's statue to the late Senator Quay, the famous Republican "boss" of Pennsylvania. Former Governor Pennypacker will probably be selected to deliver the eulogy.

TO SOUND POPULIST KEYNOTE.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 8.—Those who have forgotten that Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, is a candidate for the presidency of the United States, will have their memory jogged tomorrow, when the populists of this state will meet in convention and the Hon. Tom will be formally notified of his nomination and will send an address in which he will sound the keynote of the People's party national campaign.

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Strolling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but that this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. Sore Nipples.

Any mother who has had experience with this distressing ailment will be pleased to know that a cure may be effected by applying Chamberlain's Salve as soon as the child is done nursing. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the babe to nurse. Many trained nurses use this salve with best results. For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.

HARVEST OF DEATH

Heat in New York Kills 75 and Prostrates 200 in 3 Days

HITCHCOCK TAFT'S MANAGER

Chosen Chairman of C. O. P. National Committee—Bryan to Deavey Only if Invited

Special to the Evening Review.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Seventy-five deaths and 200 prostrations is the harvest reaped by the heat of the past three days. Relief is in sight, however, as the thermometer has fallen 20 degrees down to 73. Six deaths and a score or more of prostrations occurred today.

Taft's Manager.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 8.—At a meeting here today of the executive committee of the national Republican committee, Frank H. Hitchcock, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was chosen chairman of the committee, a position that carries with it the management of Wm. H. Taft's presidential campaign. Representative McKinley, of Illinois, who had charge of the Cannon campaign, was made treasurer.

Bryan Will go if Called.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 8.—At his home here today, Wm. J. Bryan decided the report that he intended to go to Denver to address the national Democratic convention. His confidential man, John Kent, said, however, that Mr. Bryan would go if called upon.

Over Thirty-five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained its record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.
