SETTLERS WILL GET IT.
 O. & C. R. Lands Not to be Annexed to Forest Reserves.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Fortitude of the Oregon & California railroad lands in Western Oregon to the United States would not be followed by their annexation to the forest reserves, if the sentiment of the House committee on public lands is a sure guide of the future policy of the government. That committee, during the last session of congress, unmistakably favored opening the lands to commercial and industrial uses. It is said on good authority that had there been any possibility of the administration's annexing the lands to the forest reserves, the public lands committee would have presented a resolution, declaring that no disposition of the lands should be made without sanction of congress.

But the president has no power to create additions to the forest reserves in Oregon. The committee had this fact investigated by B. D. Townsend, assistant to the Attorney General in the coming suits against the railroad and individuals who purchased 1000 acres or more from the railroad, in violation of the terms of the land grants.

Mr. Townsend was often heard to say that he was confident no attempt would be made to include the lands in forest reserves; that such disposition of the lands would be contrary to the purpose of the suits and the congressional grants and the interests of the state.

Matter Most Important.
 This matter is of high importance to Western Oregon, since the government will seek, in the suits about to be brought by Mr. Townsend, the alternative relief of forfeiture of the lands to the government or of specific performance of the original terms of the grant, which have been ignored by the railroad for 40 years. The suits will be instituted in the United States circuit court for the District of Oregon. Mr. Townsend prepared the bills of complaint before leaving Washington and is expected to file them in Portland as soon as they can be printed.

Of the 2,000,000 acres possessed by the railroad and the 400,000 acres held by the big purchasers, fully 1,000,000 acres in and south of Lane county can be used for farming, and can support an additional population of 50,000. More than one-fourth of the 2,400,000 acres in Douglas county, and three-fourths of it in Lane, Douglas, Josephine and Jackson.

Some parts of the land grant area would probably be put into forest reserves, in case of forfeiture. Such would certainly be the disposition of the lands now included within the boundaries of forest reserves. Small parcels of land might also be added to forest reserves to fill out certain areas and the same disposition might be made of remote lands that are useful only for timber and that would be held long periods of time by speculators to realize their value.

Amount is limited.
 But probably not more than 200,000 acres would be disposed of that way, such at least being the temper of the house committee on public lands, which thrashed out the land grant matter many weeks last winter and spring.

EXPO. HAS PLENTY OF MONEY.
 SEATTLE, July 9.—(Special Correspondence)—With more than ten months in which to work before the opening day of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, the 1909 fair is in an advanced stage of completion, and there is plenty of funds in the treasury with which to complete it. All international exhibitions receive more or less adverse criticism as to the financial condition of the organization. In some instances this criticism is justifiable, but in the case of the Pacific World's fair the officials have carried out their tasks so successfully that there are no foundations for insinuations that the exposition will not be a success in every way.

The United States government is preparing to expend its appropriation of $600,000. As required by the bill passed by congress, the exposition management now has more than a million dollars in assets. The total capital stock of $800,000 has been fully subscribed. With $139,900 in county appropriations and a donation of $25,000 by the Arctis Brotherhood, a fraternal organization, the assets reach more than a million. This is exclusive of the $1,000,000 appropriated by the state of Washington, the various other state appropriations for participation, the sale of concessions and exhibit space and foreign appropriations.

Of the total government appropriation of $250,000 will be used for the following buildings: main pavilion, Alaska, Hawaii, Philippines and fisheries industry. The remaining $250,000 will be expended for the collection and installation of exhibits.

Work on the grounds is about 85 per cent completed. Two of the largest exhibit palaces, the Maritime and Agriculture buildings, twin structures, are entirely finished. The Machinery hall, one of three permanent brick buildings is completed, while the Auditorium and Fine Arts palace, the other two permanent structures, are rising rapidly. The Administration building, emergency hospital and fire station have been finished for sometime. The Mines building is having its staff put on and the Fisheries palace is far beyond the foundations. The Oregon building will soon be completed, while work on the Washington, California, Missouri, New York and Utah state buildings will be started sometime next month.

About twenty large concessions have been let and negotiations are pending for about as many more. Some of the most famous showmen in the country have obtained privileges. Among them is Henry Rotale, the great illusionist, and Thompson, of Thompson and Dancy, the men who made Luna Park at Coney Island and opened the Hippodrome in New York. The Pay Streak, the amusement boulevard, will be more than a half mile in length.

In order to accommodate the large number of applications for exhibit space at least two more exhibit palaces will have to be erected. These are the Transportation and Foreign exhibits buildings. Thousands of exhibits are pouring into the office of the division of exhibits. This fact shows, according to officials that the manufacturers and producers of the country realize the immense amount of good they will receive by exploiting their wares at Seattle, the gateway to Alaska and the Orient.

In the Machinery Department there is also a dearth of space, and a large annex will be erected to the Machinery Hall.

The exposition has progressed so far that within the next month a small admission fee will be charged to visitors.

PANAMA ELECTION SUNDAY.
 PANAMA, July 9.—As the presidential campaign in Panama draws to a close, charges and counter charges of graft and corruption are being made by the leaders of the two factions and the excitement among the people is reaching a high pitch. The election will be held Sunday. All present appearances point to the success of General J. D. de Obaldia, whose party was successful in the recent municipal elections. Obaldia is the opposition candidate to the government party, which is supporting Dr. Ricardo Arias, President Amador's minister of foreign affairs, for president. Obaldia declares that wholesale graft has marked Amador's administration and that it is the purpose of his plans to perpetuate such a regime. Hundreds of American marines are patrolling the canal zone, to protect the property of the United States government, but no serious trouble is anticipated.
