LUMBER, LATH AND SHINGLES.

Total Lumber Cut in 1907 Over Forty Billion Feet.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The Bureau of the Census, with the assistance of the Forest service of the Department of Agriculture, has for some years collected statistics concerning the annual production of various forest products, and the preliminary totals for the cut of lumber, lath, and shingles for the year ending December 31, 1907, have just been made public.

Total Lumber Cut.

Unusual importance is attached to the reports for the past year, which show that the aggregate cut of lumber in the United States increased from 35,551 million feet, board measure, in 1906, to 40,255 million feet, in 1907—a gain of 4,705 million feet, or 7.2 per cent. For lath and shingles the total production was 3664 million and 11,950 million, respectively, in 1907, as against 3172 million and 11,858 million, respectively, in 1906—an increase of 119 million, or 3.9 per cent, in lath, and an increase of 92 million, or eight-tenths of 1 per cent, in shingles. The number of mills reporting in 1907 was 28,856, while in 1906 the cut of 22,398 mills was covered.

Effect of the Panic.

Aside from the car shortage, which necessitated a restriction of the cut in many localities during the earlier months of the year, the fact that the industry of lumber manufacture was practically suspended on the Pacific coast early in the fall on account of the prospective rise in freight rates by the railroads which handle the product of the mills in this region, materially affected the amount of output. Furthermore, a steady decline from year to year to be expected in the Lake states because of the rapid exhaustion of their timber supply. In the southern states, however,—the principal producers of lumber during recent years—local conditions were substantially normal, but the effect of the business depression obtaining throughout the country during the latter part of 1907, while somewhat obscured, may nevertheless be discerned in the showing for that region.

Cut of Yellow Pine.

More than nine-tenths of the stand of yellow pine stumpage is in the coast states, from Virginia to Texas, inclusive, and Arkansas. This group, together with Kentucky and Tennessee, reported a total lumber cut in 1907 of 17,694,218 thousand feet by 11,395 mills, as against 15,996,110 thousand feet by 8,143 mills in 1906—an increase of 17.2 per cent in production and 39.9 per cent in number of mills.

Other woods showing important gains were: Oak from 1,032,398 thousand feet in 1906 to 1,465,763 thousand feet in 1907; poplar 325,162 thousand feet to 427,426 thousand feet; red gum, from 286,696 thousand feet to 472,754 thousand feet; and tupelo, from 42,624 thousand feet to 66,884 thousand feet. Oak and poplar are the principal lumber trees of Kentucky and Tennessee. It is possible that the indicated increase in the cut of these woods was due, in part, to the substantially larger number of mills reported for these states in 1907.

Spruce Still a Leader.

Although the wood pulp industry is making a heavy and increasing draft upon the supply of spruce, this tree still practically shares with white pine the place of first importance among the lumber timbers of this region. The cut of spruce reported in 1907 was 1,988,268 thousand feet, an increase over 1906 of 75,914 thousand feet, or 7.4 per cent. It formed 39.4 per cent of the total output of all lumber in these states in 1907, while white pine contributed 31.8 per cent.

Decrease in White Pine Cut.

The total production of the Lake states was 5,491,649 thousand feet in 1907 and 6,219,728 thousand feet in 1906, a decrease of 728,078 thousand feet, or 11.7 per cent. Among the various species the greatest loss was in pine, which decreased from 3,955,972 thousand feet in 1906 to 2,497,595 thousand feet in 1907, or 18.3 per cent; while for hemlock, maple and basswood the relative decreases were only 8.8, 5.6 and 9 per cent, respectively, and for birch there was an increase of 4.6 per cent. In these states, as a whole, pine still holds the place of first importance, though the history of lumbering in Michigan, where, with the passing of pine, the cut of the mills can to hemlock and the hard woods, is being repeated in Wisconsin. In this state in 1907, the reported cut of pine for the first time fell below that of hemlock, the output of the latter exceeding that of the former by 19.7 per cent, while in 1906 the production of pine was greater than that of hemlock by 13.1 per cent. In Minnesota the cut of pine in 1907 formed 51.6 per cent of the total lumber output of the state, and represented 60.9 per cent of the aggregate cut of this wood in all the Lake states.

DALLAS WELCOMES ELKS.

Texas City Sets out to Eclipse All Previous Entertainments.

DALLAS, Texas, July 11.—Dallas today received its first considerable influx of the horny-headed sons of joy who will be here in droves of thousands within the next few days, attracted by the annual national assemblage of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, otherwise known as the "Best People on Earth."

The advance guard looks good to the enthusiastic people of the North Texas metropolis and they are preparing to make next week's convention a record-breaker in Elksdom history. It is admitted that Philadelphia did a fair job of entertaining last year, but the Texans have fixed up a few high links that will make Philadelphia's effort resemble a Quaker prayer meeting.

Already the streets of Dallas have taken on a purple and white tint, in honor of the visitors, and the work of decorating has been well nigh completed. Only a few finishing touches remain to render Dallas a distinctively Elks' city which will gladden the eyes of the good fellows who will be here from all over the land. One hundred thousand dollars represents the amount to be expended in the week's festivities and nearly every citizen of the town has contributed to this great fund.

The most distant delegation will be that from the Philippines, and will extend an invitation to the grand lodge to hold next year's meeting in Manila. It is not likely that this proposition will receive favorable consideration, however, as Seattle, Wash., apparently has a cinch on next year's convention, since it offers the added attraction of an international exposition. Washington and Baltimore delegates will begin booms for the 1910 convention.

The reunion will begin Sunday, when it is expected that most of the delegates and visitors will have arrived. Monday will be given over to receptions and entertainments. The business sessions of the grand lodge will begin Tuesday. Three great food feasts will be held during the week and will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000. The feature will be a Mexican dinner, with all the Mexican dainties on tap, and will be one of the biggest grub-stakes on record, since the committee in charge expects to feed 40,000. There will also be a typical southern barbecue and a more formal dinner for grand lodge officers and delegates. There will be balls, band contests, competitive drills, garden parties, fire works displays and last, but not least, a grand parade which he promoters declare will "eclipse any pageant ever witnessed in America." That will be going some, but Dallas feels equal to the job.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved him $100.

"In 1902 I have a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farar, of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill. Sold by Hamilton Drug Co."

SHRINERS CONCLAVE

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 11.—Clad in fex and turban and flashing uniforms of barbaric splendor, with clanking swords and glittering insignia, the hosts of the nation's Shriners have today taken possession of the Twin Cities and will begin their annual convalesce tomorrow. From all over this country, and Canada, and even from Mexico, crossing their imaginary desert wastes in special trains of painted splendor, the Nobles have come to rear their shrine at the oasis of St. Paul. Reception committees from Osman Temple, accompanied by bands, met all the incoming trains and gave the visitors a royal welcome. Throughout the coming week the lavish program of entertainments arranged by the local Shriners, assisted by the nobles of Minnesota and Duluth, will continue without intermission. The merchants of the Twin Cities have aided by carrying out a decorative scheme such as has never before been witnessed in this city. The program will begin tomorrow, when services will be held for the benefit of the visitors in all the churches of St. Paul and Minneapolis. Nearly $100,000 will be expended within the next week in entertaining the 60,000 Shriners and visitors. "Get the Habit." The Crescent Theatre, 5c.

NATIONAL TEMPERANCE RALLY

List of Speakers Includes Governors of Three States.

WINONA LAKE, Ind., July 11.—Governor J. Frank Hanly, of Indiana; Governor R. B. Glenn, of North Carolina, and Governor E. W. Hoels, of Kansas, are among the speakers on the program of the national temperance rally, which will begin here tomorrow. Many prohibition workers of note have already arrived and the conference promises to be a highly important one. The first session will open tomorrow morning with a sermon by Bishop Charles B. Galloway, of Mississippi. Other speakers will be George W. Bain of Kentucky and Dr. Geo. R. Stuart of Tennessee. Monday's meeting will be marked by an address by Hon. Seaborn Wright, who was largely instrumental in securing the passage of the prohibition law in Georgia. Mr. Wright, his friends predict, will be selected as the presidential candidate of the Prohibition party at the national convention in Columbus next week. The rally will continue through the week and the list of speakers, in addition to those mentioned, includes some of the foremost temperance men and women of the United States and Canada.
