VIEWS ON PRESIDENCY.

Bryan Writes on Qualities Needed in That Office.

William J. Bryan has written an article entitled "My Conception of the Presidency" for Collier's issue of July 15. Reproduced in part it is as follows:

"The presidents power for good or for harm is often overestimated. Our government is a government of checks and balances; power is distributed among different departments, and each official works in cooperation with others. In the making of laws, for instance, the president joins with the senate and the house; he may recommend, but he is powerless to legislate, except as a majority of the senate and the house concur with him. The senate and the house are also independent of each other, each having a veto over the other; and the president has a veto over both, except that the senate and house can, by a two-thirds vote, override the president's veto. The influence of the president over legislation is, therefore, limited; he shares responsibility with a large number of the people's representatives.

His Sympathies All-Important.
"Even in the enforcement of the law he is hedged about by restrictions. He acts through an attorney-general (whose appointments must be approved by the senate), and of fenders against the law must be prosecuted in the courts, so that here again the responsibility is divided.

In the making of important appointments, too, he must consult the senate, and is, of necessity, compelled to exercise care and discretion. The most important requisite in a president, as in officials, is that his sympathy shall be with the whole people, rather than any fraction of the population. He is constantly called upon to act in the capacity of a judge—deciding between the importunities of those who seek favors and the rights and interests of the public. Unless his sympathies are right the few are sure to have an advantage over the many; for the masses have no one to present their claims. They act only at elections; and most trust their representatives to protect them from all their foes.

Man of Knowledge and Courage.
"Second, the president must have knowledge of public questions and the ability to discern between the true and the false; he must be able to analyze conditions and to detect the sophistries that are always employed by those who seek unfair advantages.

"He must possess the moral courage to stand against the influences that are brought to bear in favor of special interests. In fact the quality of moral courage is an essential in a public official as either right sympathies or a trained mind.

The President's Advisers.
"A president must have counselors, and to make wise use of counselors he must be open to conviction. The president is committed by his platform to certain policies and the platform is binding; he is also committed to certain principles of government, and these he is duly bound

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or do you open your mouth like a young bird and rap down whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

There is an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and soreness, that it means much to her that there is one tried and true, natural medicine on which she can rely, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommended the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A box of ingredients, with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. J. C. F. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

to apply in all matters that come before him. But there is a wide zone in which he must act upon his own judgment, and here he ought to have the aid of intelligent, conscientious and faithful advisers. The law provides these, to a certain extent, in giving him a cabinet, and the vice-president out to be made a member of the cabinet, ex-officio, in order, first, that the president may have the benefit of his wisdom and knowledge of affairs, and secondly, that the vice-president may be better prepared to take up the work of the president in case of a vacancy in the presidential office.

World's Most Powerful Ruler.
"There ought to be cordial relations also between the president and those who occupy positions of influence in the co-ordinate branches of the government, for our government is not a one-man government, but a government in which the chosen representatives of the people labor together to give expressions to the will of the voters.

"But the presidency is the highest position in the world, and its occupant is an important factor in all national matters. If he is a devout believer in our theory of government, recognizes the constitutional distribution of powers, trusts thoroughly in the people and fully sympathizes with them in their aspirations and hopes he has an opportunity to do a splendid work; he occupies a vantage ground from which he can exert a wholesome influence in favor of each forward movement.

Should Seek No Second Term.
"The responsibilities of the office are so great that the occupant ought to be relieved of every personal ambition save the ambition to prove worthy of the confidence of his countrymen; for this reason he ought to enter the position without thought or prospect of a second term.

"While the burdens of such an office are exacting and exhausting, the field of service is large, and measuring greatness by services a president, by consecrating himself to the public weal, can make himself secure in the affections of his fellow citizens while he lives and create for himself a permanent place in his nation's history."

Over Thirty-five Years.
In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has over thirty-five years maintained its record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved him $100.

"In 1902 I have a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar, of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by Hamilton Drug Co.

The First Requisite of Beauty.

The first requisite of beauty is a clear complexion. O-Lino Laxative Fruit Syrup clears a sallow blotched complexion as it stimulates the liver and bowels, and the eyes become bright and clear. You owe it to your friends to take it if your complexion is bad. O-Lino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is very pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. Red Cross Pharmacy.
