J. T. Hinkle was among the Roseburg visitors today.
J. M. Thompson was in from Canas Valley on business today.
Grants Pass Courier: G. W. Clay has disposed of his interest in the Red River Gold Mining and Milling Co., and will hereafter live with his family at Roseburg, though he is still interested in a fine quartz proposition in this section.
August Goettsche and wife, Ray Wright and wife and Miss Frances Johnson left Monday morning for West Fork to camp out for a week. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Speiker, of Glendale; Fred Raymond, of Roseburg, and Mr. Wright of Westfork.
Billie Wells, staff writer on the Sunset Magazine, passed through the city Tuesday evening and informed Secretary Andrews of the Commercial club that the Sunset people, who printed the Grants Pass booklet, were having 50 copies of the pamphlet bound in leather to be used on the observation cars of the Southern Pacific during the season.
James Inman was in town from Looking Glass Thursday. Himself and wife have deferred their trip to Seattle until harvest and threshing are over. They believe that Mrs. Inman has a good claim to about 25 acres of very valuable water-front property in Seattle, which was purchased by her grandfather, Henry Buell, about 35 years ago. Mrs. Inman's mother was his sole heir, and she in turn leaves three children, Mrs. Inman and her two brothers. Mr. and Mrs. Inman expect to go to Seattle in a few weeks to investigate the matter thoroughly. They have a time-worn letter dated April 22, 1873, written by Mr. Buell to his granddaughter telling her of his land deals at Seattle, and they think they have good grounds for obtaining title to the property. Their prospective suit, he says, will not interfere with his campaign for the presidency this fall, during which he says he expects to reveal to the people of the entire country the real workings of the Bryan and Roosevelt methods, which will be made as plain as if seen in a mirror, resulting in the downfall of both Bryan and Taft, and his own election to the presidency.

HOW'S THIS FOR PAVEMENT?
VALLEJO, Solano County, Calif., July 15.—The first two blocks of the widely discussed patrollithic paving to be completed in northern California has been finished in this city by Malley & Frey, the Marysville contractors, who have the work of building about a mile of new streets in this city. The paving is made by grading, placing six inches of crushed rock, two inches of gravel and hot oil on this mixture which is then ploughed together and rolled. The street work just completed closely resembles bitumen and is guaranteed to be as durable at one-half the cost.

DEFEATS SPOKANE CRACK.

Native Roseburger Winding Fame as a Rifle Shot.
Roseburg people who remember T. A. (Alex.) Ireland, a native Roseburg boy, who was raised by his uncle, Geo. W. Noah, of this city, will read with interest the following article clipped from a Colfax, a Wash., newspaper:
T. A. Ireland, the crack rifle shot of Colfax, easily defeated the redoubtable Tom Hopper, of Spokane, in their big match held in that city on the Fourth of July. There was a large attendance and several thousand dollars changed hands on the result. In the preliminary practice Hopper did some fine shooting, while Ireland scattered his bullets around the bull's eye. Hopper became so confident that he offered to bet an additional $100, which Ireland promptly covered and then offered to put up $500 more, but the Spokane man weakened.
The match was 20 shots at 100 yards, with a muzzle rest, and as soon as the men began firing, Ireland's superiority became manifest. His first shot cut the bull's-eye and all his 20 shots were placed within the diameter of a 5-cent piece. Hopper became nervous and did not shoot nearly as well as in practice. He was badly beaten, although as soon as Ireland was sure of winning he let up and did not try to make a record. The Colfax people who attended the match brought back considerably over $1000 of Spokane money.
