ARGUMENT FOR DRAIN.

Normal School Fight to be Carried to Legislature.

Portland Journal, July 19: The ghost of the biennial normal school battle is not laid. If anyone believes that there will be no normal school controversy in the next legislature just because the state normal school board recently decided that there should be three normal schools and that the Drain normal should be the sacrifice on the altar of educational economy, those persons are quite mistaken. There will be a fight and just as lusty a one as the Drain adherents are capable of putting up and judging from past legislative history that is something of a dissension.

Douglas Has Kick.

People of Douglas county are not at all satisfied with the dictum of the normal school board which recommended that there should be no more teachers produced from the Drain school. They are looking with envious eyes at Monmouth and at Ashland and contend that if any schools should be abolished by law that one of these should feel the official knife and not Drain. They point to the fact that the board itself was very much divided over the question of cutting Drain off the official list and argue that if the board could not agree until after a sort of compromise arrangement had been effected that the eris good reason to believe that the legislature will also be well divided on the question and that as a result there will be a good fighting chance for the retention of the school. And the Drain people like to take a fighting chance when they can get the thing all tide up in a package and handed to them.

Four Marks.

The people of Drain and Douglas county, and perhaps of other contiguous counties, have an argument against the elimination of Drain that is of some force, according to their logic at least. When you begin to talk to a man from that locality about the normal school question he gets out a map of Oregon and makes four marks on it. One of the marks will be a Ashland, down in the southwestern part of the state. Another will be a Monmouth, up towards the top of the western half of the map, where "The Mother of the Normals" is located. One other will be at Weston, over toward the eastern boundary, while the fourth will be at Drain, about midway between Ashland on the south and Monmouth on the north.

With these four points on the map as an illustration for his argument the Drain man will contend that if there is to be a reduction in the number of normal schools, which he will not admit is right, just or proper, that the reduction should come from the south or the north and not from the middle. He will argue that eastern Oregon is a big country and destined to be bigger and that therefore the Weston school should not be molested. Then he will show that it would be easier for the knowledge seekers of the Ashland or the Monmouth district to come to Drain than for the Drain district to be forced to go to either of these districts.

Drain is the center of the western half of the state, has the climate, the quiet surroundings and everything necessary to make the location ideal as an educational center, the Douglas county man will contend, and for these reasons and many more should be given the support and assistance of the state purse in building a great state institution there.

Anyway, and whatever the trend of the argument, there will be one when the legislature meets. The people of the district are back of their representatives in insisting that there be a big effort to keep Drain on the list and these representatives will be there when the appropriation bill comes up and before. Drain will not die without a struggle and that struggle will wake the legislature out of any monotony which might befall it.

ARE BOOSTING ROSEBURG.

Helping to Make Known the Merits of Douglas County.

In a full page Adv. in Sunday's Oregonian, Messrs. Harding & Engen, the real estate dealers, give publicity to the following facts about Douglas county:

To the Home-Seeker.

No more delightful country in all America than this beautiful Umpqua valley. An ideal climate, a rich soil that will grow, without irrigation, anything under the sun except tropical fruits. You have within easy reach fine common and high schools, churches of all denominations, fraternal organizations, a thickly populated valley, splendid drinking water, rural free delivery mail service, telephones, scenic surroundings, good neighbors, nearness to market, and only seven hours to Portland. We will have on this tract not less than twenty-five families next spring, which means your own little community. Inter-tree development of your tract will give you a good income at once. Potatoes alone will yield $150 net per acre each year. Poultry-raising is a profitable side line.

To the Fruitgrower.

If you know Southern Oregon, you know that the Umpqua Valley is the center of the greatest Fruit Belt in the state. We have 960 acres of bottom land on the Umpqua River, just north of Roseburg, with a rich alluvial soil—a true sedimentary deposit—a soil with a depth from 25 to 50 feet, that will grow abundantly apples, pears, peaches, walnuts, cherries, plums, almonds, berries and vegetables of all kinds, and does it without irrigation. Average annual rainfall 35 inches. You can market your produce through the Roseburg Fruitgrowers Association, at the least possible cost, and membership in this organization costs only $10 a year. This is the earliest Fruit Belt in Oregon, and fancy prices are obtained in Portland and other markets for your early berries and vegetables.

M. A. BOWKER SUICIDES.

Aged Gentleman Formerly Lived in Roseburg—Heat the Cause.

PORTLAND, Or., July 19.—Overcome by the heat to such an extent that he was not responsible for his actions, M. A. Bowker, aged 86 years, father-in-law of G. C. Morris, assistant superintendent of the Southern Pacific railroad's interests in Oregon, ended his life by hanging himself in the basement of the home of his son-in-law, 294 East First street, North, shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Hardly an hour before taking his life, Mr. Bowker complained of the heat and declared to Mrs. Morris, his daughter, that he was not feeling well. Mrs. Morris found the body of her father swinging from a rope in the basement, a little before 4 o'clock, upon returning from an errand across the street.

Mr. Bowker had been living with his daughter and son-in-law for 18 years past. He came to this city from Roseburg. Although born in Vermont, Mr. Bowker spent the greater part of his lifetime in Michigan. During his working years he was a conductor on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad and the Central Pacific railroad.

Mr. Bowker was a widower and is survived by two daughters and a son, besides a brother and sister. Those who survive him are: Mrs. G. C. Morris, daughter; residing in Portland; Mrs. Emma Croson, daughter, Carson City, Nev.; W. F. Bowker, son, San Francisco; George W. Bowker, brother, Michigan, and Mrs. D. C. Mills, sister, Heppner. Mr. Bowker had just received a visit from Mrs. Croson. It had been the first time he had seen his daughter in many years, and he was very much affected at the meeting. Mrs. Croson left for her home in Nevada last Wednesday.

(Mr. Bowker is well remembered in Roseburg, having resided here while Mr. Morris was chief train dispatcher. He was a very pleasant gentleman and liked by everybody.)

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved him $100.

"In 1902 I have a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar, of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill. Sold by Hamilton Drug Co.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or overbusy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better because of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus' dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One a dose. Easy to take as candy.

CUT PER CAPITA TAX.

Elks Also Adopt New Emblem—Negro Elks Enjoined.

DALLAS, Tex., July 18.—The Elks' reunion of 1908 closed yesterday, the grand lodge adjourning to meet in Los Angeles July 11, 1909. The last session saw various minor changes made in the constitution. The per capita tax was reduced from 25 cents ot 20 cents per annum, as recommended by the retiring grand exalted ruler, John K. Tener; an official Elk emblem was adopted; the proposition to establish a home for the orphans of Elks was defeated and a resolution passed praising Dallas and Texas for their hospitality.

The emblem as described consists of "a combination of the dial, showing the hour of 11, with a white face and red Roman numerals, circumscribed by a blue circle containing the initials 'B. P. O. E.', on which dial and circle shall rest an elks' head and antlers, which shall be surmounted by a red five-point star." The elks' head and antlers are to be in gold, the dial, star and border in enamel.

Color Line Drawn.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 19.—Supreme Court Justice Morschauer has made permanent an injunction restraining the Improved Belevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World from using its present name and title. The order is composed of colored men having lodges in Brooklyn and other places. The application for the injunction was made by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks through a committee appointed by the grand lodge.

The decision says the defendant seems to have practically appropriated the name, title, seal, emblem, colors and nearly everything else used by the plaintiff in its corporate affairs.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

FLOOD STATE WITH JAPS.

Combine Made to Evade Contract Labor Laws.

TACOMA, Wash., July 18.—The United Industrial & Commercial Company, capitalized for $1,000,000, with H. C. Kumamoto, a local Japanese contractor, James B. Churchill and Nugent Kautz, as principal stock holders, was recently organized and federal immigration officials are investigating to see if it is a scheme to flood Washington and Oregon with Japanese coolies. It is proposed to establish colonies in the Puyallup and Yakima valleys and in Oregon to raise fruit and vegetables.

In a conversation with a prospective buyer, Kumamoto, the principal promoter of the company, practically admitted that the company was formed to evade the contract labor law, and that many Japanese would be brought to this country as shareholders.

So elaborate is the scheme, and so well planned as to make it impossible to evade the strictest immigration laws.

From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit.
