CAPT. A. L. KIDDER DEAD.

Resident of Roseburg for Over 50 Years—Funeral Today.

Captain A. L. Kidder, a well known resident of Roseburg for the past 20 years or more, died at his home Thursday evening, July 23, 1908, of heart failure, superinduced by a gripe. He was 68 years of age. The funeral was held from the residence at 4 o'clock p. m., today, July 24, with services conducted by Rev. J. A. Townsend. Interment occurred in Masonic cemetery.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, Captain Kidder was among the first to answer the call for troops for the Union army. He enlisted in a Iowa regiment and served throughout the great struggle with conspicuous gallantry. After being mustered out of service, Mr. Kidder went to Nevada and engaged in mining. This he gave up after a time and moved to California. Several years later he settled in Sams Valley, Jackson county, Oregon, and in the early '80s he finally moved to Roseburg.

Surviving Mr. Kidder are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. W. S. Hamilton and Miss Bessie Kidder, of this city, and a son, Stanley L. Kidder, who is employed in the government postal service in the Philippines.

"Cherry-Blossom."

THE JAPANESE OIVE GOOD EXAMPLE

It is a proverb of Cherry Blossom Land that a healthy stomach is the basis of all strength. Good nature is also recognized as of great importance. The Japanese as a people are remarkable for their health, endurance, patience and skill.

The cherry tree is the most highly prized of all in Japan. It not only gives forth a beautiful blossom but the wild cherry tree furnishes a bark which is most highly prized in medicine.

Wild Cherry

The UNITED STATES DISPENSARY, which is an authority on medicines, says of the properties of this Black Cherrybark: "Uniting with a tonic power the property of calming irritation and diminishing nervous excitability. Adapted to the treatment of diseases in which there is debility of the stomach or of the system." Another authority, KING'S AMERICAN DISPENSARY says, "It gives tone and strength to the system, useful in fever, cough, and found excellent in consumption. This ingredient is only one of several very important native medicinal roots in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is a remedy which has enjoyed the public approval for nearly forty years, nothing new or untried about it, has cured thousands of people of those chronic, weary, distressing and often fatal diseases, such as bronchitis and incipient consumption. More than that, by reason of the other ingredients, Bloodroot, Mandrake, Golden Seal, and Queen's root, all of the medicinal virtues of which are scientifically extracted and combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, remarkable cures of dyspepsia and stomach disorders have been accomplished.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine of proper strength is a better solvent and preservative of the active medicinal principles residing in most of our indigenous or native medicinal plants than is alcohol. As its use is entirely unobjectionable, while alcohol is well known when used even in small portions, for a protracted period, to do lasting injury to the human system, especially in the case of delicate women and children, he decided to use chemically pure glycerine instead of the usually employed alcohol in the preparation of his medicines. He found that the glycerine, besides being entirely harmless, possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of great value. Its nutritive properties, Dr. Pierce believes, far surpass those of cod liver oil, entitling it to favorable consideration in all cases of incipient consumption and other wasting diseases. It is an invigorating, tonic and opens up a new and fertile field for the scientific gardener who knows how to combine the plants given us by Nature to cure our diseases. This preparation is of pleasant taste, restores perfectly with rebellious and sensitive stomachs, and is extremely effective in restoring tone and vigor to the entire system. It cures inflammatory troubles of the stomach as well as indigestion and dyspepsia arising from weak stomach. One reason why it restores the health of run-down, pale and emaciated people is because it first throws out the poisons from the blood through the liver and kidneys. It then begins its reconstructive work in building up fresh by best cooking food, rich, red blood.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is made in a large laboratory, thoroughly equipped with every modern appliance. Dr. Pierce, R. T. Qualified chemist, is in charge of the laboratory, with every one of the best scientific apparatus employed in these remedies, and the means of cure are so best suited to many thousands of cases of chronic diseases which come before them for treatment each year. It costs you nothing to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, the head of this institution, at Buffalo, N. Y., and get an accurate medical opinion in your special case and wholly without charge.

At the conclusion of the military ceremonies, the Prince dedicated the battlefield.

Agee Again on Stand.

PORTLAND, Or., July 24.—I. Thomas Agee was again on the stand in the Booth-Singleton trial all this morning. His memory was so poor that he frequently had to refer to the date of his marriage to recall dates of certain transactions. On cross-examination by Malarky, Agee testified that when he arranged to file on a timber claim he had no intention of defrauding the government.

Thursday's Testimony.

Portland Oregonian, July 24: For three hours yesterday afternoon, I. Thomas Agee, government witness in the Booth-Singleton case and co-conspirator with the defendants on trial, was cross-examined vigorously by Dan J. Malarky, of counsel for the defense. In the main the witness adhered closely to the story he narrated on direct examination, but admitted that he acted in good faith when he settled on unsurveyed land as a homestead in eastern Douglas county and confidently believed he had complied with land laws sufficient to have secured the homestead.

Statement Made to Burns.

Counsel for defense by persistent questioning learned from Agee that he had been kept in the constant company of Andy Nichols, a government employe, ever since reaching Portland, Agee, however, declined to admit that Nichols was conducting him around but insisted that he was looking after Nichols. Mr. Malarky further got the witness to admit that when he was a witness before the grand jury in 1905 he made a sworn statement before W. J. Burns, government agent, who advised him not to discuss the conspiracy with anybody.

Agee said he had been shown the statement since coming to Portland as a witness in the case on trial in order that his memory might be refreshed. He said he had discussed the case with Burns and Neuhouser in preference to Roland Agee, S. J. Thornton and Ed Singleton, who were his relatives, because he thought the government officials were entitled to any information he could give them. He admitted that he had refused to discuss the case with Mr. Malarky although he had been told by District Attorney McCourt that he could talk about the case with anybody or could refuse to discuss the subject.

Thought He Obeyed Law

Agee testified in answer to questions by Mr. Malarky that following his first trip to the vicinity of "Cap's Hill," an Indian designation which means "Home of the Boss," he was desirous of locating on a claim and securing possession of the same as a stock ranch. He declared that in filing on the land he acted in good faith and at all times believed that he was complying with all the requirements of the land laws, having no intention ever of defrauding the government. He asserted that he undertook to retain a claim to the land and make the necessary improvements until 1887, when, because of the intimidation of "Wild Bill" Bradley, who had either stolen or killed his stock, he decided not to reside longer on the premises. But, the witness said, he left his stock on the land, thinking that by so doing he did not surrender possession or annul his rights to the homestead.

Continuing his testimony for the government at the morning session, Agee testified that all of the business connected with the transfer of the homestead for the lieu land selection was transacted with James Henry Booth, who prepared in advance all of the necessary papers for Agee's signature. Patent to the land was received December 31, 1903, and January 6, following, Agee transferred the property to the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company. The deed was admitted as evidence by Judge Wolverton, over the objection of the defense.

Received His Full Price.

Agee testified that the consideration named in the deed was only $10, and that he called the attention of a notary public to the fact, explaining that the price agreed upon was $300, whereupon he was advised that the transfer of the land was not closed until the deed had been delivered and he need not surrender the instrument until he had received his money.

Agee said he then went to Eugene and called on R. A. Booth, informing him that he (Agee) was receiving $300 net for the land. Booth referred Agee to his brother, James Henry Booth, at Roseburg, continued the witness, at the same time explaining that Henry would make it all right. Going to Roseburg, Agee said he gave the deed to James Henry Booth, and that an error discovered by R. A. Booth, could be corrected. He called the next day and received the balance due for the land, $250 in gold, the advance payment of $50 having been deducted. Witness said he afterward visited Eugene again and delivered the deed to the property to R. A. Booth.

The witness said he next saw R. A. Booth in Portland in the spring of 1905, when he had been subpoenaed as a witness before the grand jury. Meeting Booth in a restaurant, Agee said he asked to be advised how he should testify regarding the first payment of $50 on the land when he should be questioned before the grand jury. Again Booth referred the witness to his brother, James Henry, who was found at the Imperial Hotel, according to Agee and who advised the witness to say nothing about $50 transaction if he should be questioned.

MEET IN PORTLAND IN 1910.

A. O. U. W. and D. of H. Elect New Sets of Grand Officers.

PORTLAND, Or., July 23.—With the installation of officers and the transaction of routine business in the Woodmen Temple yesterday afternoon, the final session of the grand lodge, A. O. U. W. and of the grand lodge, Degree of Honor, terminated. The session of each grand lodge is generally conceded to have been the most successful that has ever been held. Both grand lodges will meet in Portland again in 1910.

The Workmen paid a splendid tribute to the distinguished services of retiring Grand Recorder Newton Clark in glowing resolutions submitted this morning by a committee composed of F. Bercholdt, of Corvallis; J. P. Dodge, of Ashland, and Thomas Dealy, of Astoria. The resolutions will be embodied in the grand lodge records and an engraved copy presented to Mr. Clark, and just before noon, the "grand old man" of the order was called to the platform and presented with a complete silver table set handsomely engraved. Mr. Clark was taken completely by surprise.

With the abolishment of the official organ of the Workmen, the Degree of Honor sent a communication asking the grand lodge to take up the question of joining with them in the publication of a newspaper devoted to their kindred interests. No action was taken.

The Workmen elected the following officers yesterday:

Grand master, Philip Gevartz, Industry lodge, No. 8, Portland; grand foreman, George T. Baldwin, Linkville lodge, No. 110, Klammath Falls; grand overseer, Harry McChalkin, Roseburg lodge, No. 16, Roseburg; grand recorder, C. M. Steadman, Pioneer lodge, No. 4, Portland; grand receiver, R. L. Durham, Hope lodge, No. 1, Portland; grand guide, Sam Roake, Falls City lodge No. 59, Oregon City; grand inside watchman, Lester White, Cascade lodge No. 94, Detroit; grand outside watchman, C. C. Baird, Baker lodge No. 100, Baker City; supreme representatives, W. J. Clark, Fraternity lodge No. 9, Corvallis; Newton Clark, Riverside lodge No. 68, Hood River; I. Bercholdt, Friendship lodge No. 14, Corvallis.

The Grand Lodge, Degree of Honor at its morning session voted down the question of levying 12 monthly assessments on its members each year, and will follow the existing policy of making assessments only when the needs of the general or special funds demand it. The newly elected officers were installed and resolutions of congratulation and discussion of whether the order should publish an official organ in connection with the Workmen took up the morning and the latter discussion went over into the short afternoon session.

The following officers of the grand lodge, D. O. H., were elected yesterday afternoon: Grand chief, Harriet C. Looney, of Salem; grand I. of H., Sadie E. Moore, of Corvallis; grand C. of C., Ada Kuykendall, of Eugene; grand usher, Norma Hendricks, of McMinnville; grand recorder, Ollie F. Stephens, of Portland; grand receiver, Sarah J. Wagner, of Portland; grand inside watch, May Morehead, of Junction City; grand outside watch, Mae Gevartz, of Portland; grand representative, Mrs. Hattie McCormack, of Marshfield; Mrs. Sarah Pastaband, of Astoria; and Mrs. Fidelia I. Mann, of Portland.

During the forenoon session the claim of the estate of the late Harvey K. Brown, ex-sheriff of Baker county, was taken up by the arbitration committee of the grand lodge. The claim of $2000 had been reported up adversely by the committee, but was allowed by the grand lodge.

Dr. N. L. Lee, of Junction City, was re-appointed state medical examiner for the Degree of Honor.

SIX MILITIAMEN KILLED.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 23.—As the result of a terrific electric storm which passed over the Pennsylvania National Guard encampment here tonight, it is reported that at least six troops were killed and two more injured, some of them seriously, by being struck by lightning.

SAVED A LYNCHING.

Echo Murderer Hangs Himself After Eluding Pursuers.

PENDELTON, Or., July 24.—B. R. Stoffel, who murdered his sweetheart, Elsie Kennison, at Echo, yesterday, evaded his 40 armed pursuers and doubling back to the starting place entered the barn and hanged himself.

Two hours later, a member of the posse in returning decided to make an investigation of the premises. In peering through a crack in the barn he discovered the body of the murderer in an upright position, and as he thought, ready to shoot. Taking no chances he fired through the crack, the bullet piercing the dead man's abdomen. Further examination showed the body was suspended from a beam by a rope.

Murderer Mentally Unbalanced.

Stoffel was not considered very bright, while the victim was one of the highly respected young women of the town. She was recently graduated from the Echo schools and had been employed in the postoffice. Echo was greatly wrought up by the tragedy and the taking of his own life probably saved the murderer from a lynching.

The letter in which Miss Kennison had spurred his love was found in Stoffel's pocket as well as a number from him to friends and to a Pendleton paper, showing the deed was premeditated and that the young man was violently insane.

"NO QUESTION AS TO GUILT."

Roosevelt Determined to Bring Standard Oil to Justice.

OSTER BAY, N. Y., July 23.—President Roosevelt tonight announced in unmistakable terms the determination of the administration to proceed with the prosecution of the Standard Oil case despite the decision adverse to the government handed down by the United States Court of Appeals yesterday. This decision, the president thinks, in no way affects the merits of the case and he makes known his decision to cause the action to be brought again before the courts in such shape, if possible, as to prevent technicalities from interfering with a decision based upon actual issues involved. The statement made public tonight by Secretary Loeb follows:

"The president has directed the attorney-general immediately to take steps for re-trial of the Standard Oil case. The reversal of the decision of the lower court does not in any shape or way touch the merits of the case, except insofar as the size of the fine is concerned. There is absolutely no question of the guilt of the defendants or of the exceptionally grave character of the offense.

"The president would regard it as a gross miscarriage of justice, if, through any technicalities of any kind the defendant escaped the punishment which would unquestionably have been meted out to any weaker defendant who had been guilty of such offense. The president will do everything in his power to avert or prevent such miscarriage of justice.

"With this purpose in view the president has directed the attorney-general to bring into consultation Frank G. Kellogg in the matter, and do everything possible to bring the offenders to justice."

$1,000,000 FOREST FIRE.

Hundreds Eight Destructive Blaze in California.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., July 23.—An immense forest and range fire is sweeping the coast range north of here and all of the range included between the headwaters of Dry Creek and Ukiah is reported to have been swept by a wall of flame 15 miles wide.

The fire started from camper's fires that spread and joined. Hundreds of men are fighting the fire and over a million dollars' worth of timber is reported to have been destroyed.

At Hermitage over 2000 grape stakes have been destroyed and several hundred dollars worth of pickets have been burned.

Reports today state that there is little hope of stopping the blaze, even by back-firing, on account of the high wind.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., July 23.—It is reported here today that a fire that threatened to destroy Cooks Springs, in Colusa county, was extinguished last night by a force of several hundred men after hard work. The fire fighters succeeded in heading off the forest fire by back-firing.

A. M. Smith was among the Oakland people in town today.

Dr. J. C. Twitchell, formerly of this city, but for some time past having offices in the Abington building in Portland, recently moved into rooms 705-6-7 in the new Sweetland building, Fifth and Washington streets, Portland.

WINS STAR EVENT

Marathon Race Goes to an American

HAD TO PROTEST, HOWEVER

Italian Who Crossed Line First Disqualified Because Friends Aided Him

Special to the Evening Review.

LONDON, July 24.—The great Marathon race, the star event of the Olympic games, was won today by an American, John E. Hayes, but not until after a protest to the judges against P. Dorando, an Italian, who was assisted by friends in crossing the line first. The course extended from Windsor Great Park, the starting point, to the Olympic Stadium on the Franco-British Exhibition ground at Shepherd's Bush, a total distance of twenty-six and one-third miles. Dorando's time, which, of course, was not allowed, was 2 hours, 54 minutes and 34 seconds.

Dorando fell five times during the race, the last time in front of Queen Alexandra, who waved him encouragement. His friends fed him brandy, and at the finish they literally shoved him across the line, at the same time crowding in front of Hayes, the American, who apparently would have won. C. Hefferon, of South Africa, was given second place, and Joseph Forshaw, of St. Louis, Mo., was awarded third. Dorando fainted after crossing the line, and when he revived he was introduced to Queen Alexandra. There were 81 contestants in the race.

Smithson Wins Again.

Forrest Smithson, of Portland, Or. today won the second heat in the semi-final try-out of the 110-meter hurdles. A. R. Shaw, another American, won the first heat in 15 3/4 seconds.

COSTLY FIRE IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Or., July 24.—Fire supposed to have originated as the result of crossed electric wires started in the upper floor of the five-story Abington building, 106 1/2 Third street, near Washington, early yesterday morning, ruined that building, swept into the Van Schuyver building immediately in the rear, destroyed the upper two stories of that building, damaged the McKay building, for a time endangered the entire block and raged for an hour and a half before firemen finally succeeded in getting it under control.

The fire entailed a loss estimated at between $300,000 and $400,000. Both the Abington and Van Schuyver buildings were ruined. Fire Chief Campbell estimates the entire loss at $500,000.
