ASKS HENEY TO EXPLAIN.

Examiner Shows he Got Big Fee From Water Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—F. J. Heney is having the big stick welded over him by the Examiner. He is called upon to examine a receipt for $39,000 for legal services to the Contra Costa Water Company, which he signed in June, 1905. This document appears among the records of the water company as part of its expenditures during the memorable legal battle it had with the City of Oakland a few years ago. Much of a mystery is made out of the $39,000 check, and it is declared: "A man who occupies the public position of Mr. Heney cannot do business in that manner and escape demand for an explanation."

When a reporter went to Mr. Heney to ask for an explanation, he was harshly treated.
