STANDARD OIL DECISION. Widely Condemned by Newspapers of the Country.

Outside of New York city, the great majority of the newspapers of the country are outspoken in their condemnation of the reversal of Judge Landis' decision in the famous Standard Oil case.

The following editorial, published in the Chicago Post on the day following the decision, is typical of the comments by influential papers of the middle west.

"The Standard Oil Company has won a technical victory. Its guilt was established beyond question but the decision of Judge Landis has been reversed by the court of appeals on the strength of three errors in procedure.

"The finding of the judges of the appeals court doubtless is based on the laws as they are. But laymen cannot understand why quibbles over language or forms of process should let the guilty escape.

"Everybody, lawyer and layman knows that Mr. Rockefeller's corporation secured rate concessions in knowledge of the law and in defiance of it.

"The only penalty that could be inflicted on the defendant company was a fine. The offenses were committed before the law with its imprisonment clause was in force.

"It is said that the enactment of recent legislation has put an end to the rebate evil. It may be that successful and easy evasion of punishment in the present case through legal technicalities will give the past offenders courage to offend again.

"The Chicago News, widely recognized as an independent and outspoken paper, said: 'Very pertinent is the comment of Attorney-General Bonaparte on the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals in the case of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.'

"One important result at least will come from this decision. The popular demand that the responsible officials of corporations found guilty of engaging in conspiracies in restraint of trade be punished with terms of imprisonment will have to exact further laws to give effect to it.

"On the other hand, the New York papers, with the exception of the World and the Press, viewed with concealed satisfaction the crushing defeat sustained by the government in its prosecution of Standard Oil.

"World—'If by a change of incorporation from Ohio to New Jersey, or Illinois to Indiana, the Standard Oil company can appear 'as a virgin offender,' why should not any habitual burglar escape a sentence as an old offender merely by changing his name or making an alias?'

"The reversal is rebuke. Times—'Better evidence of the wisdom of setting up courts of appeal was never furnished than in the case of the great Standard Oil line where the United States circuit court of appeals has now reversed Judge Landis and ordered a new trial.

Oil company can appear 'as a virgin offender,' why should not any habitual burglar escape a sentence as an old offender merely by changing his name or making an alias? The language of the reversing opinion, saying that Judge Landis' sentence of the Standard Oil company was 'an abuse of judicial discretion, because the man who happens to be the judge is above the law,' will be quoted thousands of times by the enemies of the courts.

Press—'The outcome of the attempt to collect this huge fine matters very little. As Judge Landis has pointed out, as Governor Hughes has so lucidly demonstrated, a fine levied upon a monopoly in an indispensable commodity is equal to a license for the monopoly to do business. The fine is paid by the corporation, but the money to pay it with is extracted from the consumers of the product monopolized.

Reversal is Rebuke. Times—'Better evidence of the wisdom of setting up courts of appeal was never furnished than in the case of the great Standard Oil line where the United States circuit court of appeals has now reversed Judge Landis and ordered a new trial.

Post—'The reversal of the decision against the Standard Oil company, which carried Judge Landis' exemplary punitive fine of $29,240,000, will come as a surprise to the public. It is fortunate from a public standpoint, that the appellate bench is unanimous.

Tribune—'The court's ruling that the number of offenses was arbitrarily multiplied and that the judge cannot fit his penalty to the supposed resources of remote persons before him as defendants in civil suits is a commendable and laudable result in a verdict of guilty.

"It is said that the enactment of recent legislation has put an end to the rebate evil. It may be that successful and easy evasion of punishment in the present case through legal technicalities will give the past offenders courage to offend again. The thing is disheartening but not hopeless. It's a long lane that has no turning."

HERE IN OREGON.

Vigorous protest was entered by the commercial interests of Oregon and the Oregon State Dairy Association, against the adoption by the Pure Food Conference at Mackinac Island, Michigan, of a standard for evaporated milk requiring 28 per cent solids.

E. H. Harriman, the greatest individuality in the railroad world, is enjoying with his family the glories of Oregon's August climate at Pelican Lodge, near Klamath Lake.

The Good Roads Conference opens tomorrow. There is absolute assurance of a thoroughly representative gathering and it is generally understood that permanent organization will be effected and result-getting legislation agreed upon.

Three Oregon athletes won honors at the Olympic games in London—no other state in the union made such a showing. The boys will be royally entertained in Portland when they return early in September.

The different fair associations of Oregon are co-operating for a splendid display of products and great showing of livestock at the Fall Show in Portland, with the best sales ever held in the state.

The sale of special one-way tickets from all points in the United States to all points in Oregon begins September 1st and continues until October 31st.

NEW CURE FOR LOCKJAW.

Injection of Magnesium Sulphate Aids Anti-Toxin in Its Work.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 9.—The Magee Annex, also known as the Pasteur Institute, attached to the Mery Hospital of Pittsburgh, tonight comes to the fore with what it claims is the first real cure for tetanus or lockjaw.

This evening Harry Gilbert, 14 years of age, was discharged from the Magee Annex as well. He was one of the most severe cases to come under the notice of local physicians, and the new cure was watched with great interest.

The boy was hurt with a toy pistol on July 4, and on July 13 was carried to the hospital in convulsions. Injections of a 2 per cent solution of magnesium sulphate were started and gradually increased to 15 per cent.
