AUGUST 22, 1908. GOOD ROADS.

Portland Journal: The movement for good roads is a world movement. The good roads campaign now being launched in Oregon is almost at the rear end of the procession. We have been backward in that behalf. In 1905 the state of New York authorized the expenditure of $50,000,000 on her highways. Seven thousand three hundred and thirty-two miles of finished highway have been built as a result. Of that great aggregate 3322 miles were wholly built by the state, and 4700 of minor connecting roads were built, of which half the cost was borne by the state. Pennsylvania has appropriated $8,000,000, Indiana the same amount, and Maryland $5,000,000 for state-built roads. On the Pacific coast California has appropriated $2,500,000, and not long ago the people of Los Angeles county, California, voted a bond issue of $3,000,000 for building perfected roads in that county. It is a whirlwind movement which other states of the union is in procession, and Oregon must join it, or be sidetracked. All the states are playing for the auto travel. That is the big incentive in California, and an inside reason for the good roads activity. Citizens there see visions of auto tourists speeding through the state with open purses and glittering dollars. They want the wealthy tourists to come, and want the money they will spend. They want them to see and fall in love with the country with the results that big investments be made and capital be set to work in community development. It is a glittering as well as a sensible scheme. Tourists spend $12,000,000 a year in France. They go there to drive automobiles over the beautiful French roads. California wants some of this travel, and the great crumbs and plums of glittering expenditure that go with it. Oregon should like who reach for this increment. She has scenery to see, climate to attract, resources to exploit and thousands of avenues for the profitable investment of tourist capital. A few men in Oregon realize it, and will true leadership some of them, are now touring the Willamette Valley launching a great campaign for state legislation and state aid for the highways. It is a movement that should spread to every schoolhouse and to the remotest corner of the remotest community in the state, and gather strength until finished roads for a finished citizenry shall be the every day condition in Oregon. It must be that Oregon will lag further and further behind in the procession of the states.

OREGON FOWL PROTECTED No More Hunting on Lower Klamath, Harney or Malheur Lakes. No longer may the Oregon hunter look for sport on Lower Klamath, Harney or Malheur lakes, for gunning on and around these famous shooting grounds has been forbidden by President Roosevelt and violators of his orders will be prosecuted in federal courts. The president has not undertaken to interfere with the Oregon state game laws, but by executive order has created a national bird preserve embodying these three lakes, together with their shores, islands and abutting swamps and in these preserves no native birds may be killed nor eggs taken nor nests destroyed. In a few instances lands abutting on these lakes may have passed to private ownership, and there gunners are not affected by the president's order, but such spots are scarce, and in the main it is believed these orders will put an end to the killing of birds on the southern Oregon lakes. This preserve was created on recommendation of the National Audubon Society, and is intended to prevent the extermination of various types of wild birds which frequent the lake region. The Audubon society, after careful investigation found that Oregon birds were being killed ruthlessly, largely by hunters supplying the military market. Cases were found where such hunters in season were making from $400 to $500 a day selling bird crests, plumes, breasts, wings, etc. With such profits in sight birds were being slaughtered by thousands. On Klamath lake and marsh no gunning will be permitted under any circumstances whatever. On the Malheur and Harney preserve birds may be killed in limited numbers for purely scientific purposes by persons holding licenses from the secretary of agriculture, but only one or two birds of a type will be allowed to any person holding a permit, and as permits will be issued solely to scientists, gunning is practically prohibited and absolutely so as regards sportsmen. Not only has the president put a stop to the killing of birds valuable chiefly for their plumage, but he has made it impossible to slaughter wild game. His order applies to wild ducks as well as to geese. In fact, it applies to all feathered game around the lakes.

PAVING FOR ROSEBURG.

A new epoch in Roseburg's history was inaugurated Friday evening, August 21, 1908, when the city council voted unanimously to award a contract for 18 blocks of bitulthite street paving, work upon which is to be commenced within ten days. At the same session $35,000 worth of city bonds were sold at face value for the payment of one-half of the cost of this splendid improvement. The Review takes special pride in this favorable outcome of its earnestly fought campaign for an improvement that will go farther than any previous movement toward making a greater Roseburg. Last September, The Review first began urging the necessity for street paving in Roseburg. When the October financial flurry came on the matter was dropped temporarily. In January it was resumed in an earnest way and the city council, noting the feasibility and need for such an improvement in our city, took up the matter at their first meeting in February. Public sentiment heartily backed up their action, with the result that nearly 200 enthusiastic street paving boosters went to Eugene on February 17, to investigate the street paving that had been laid in that city a short time previous. All returned home with the slogan: "Roseburg must have paved streets." The city bonding election followed in April and about 88 per cent of the votes cast were in favor of the paving. Step by step the necessary legal formalities were completed, but not a single formal protest was filed when the streets were advertised for paving. The climax came when the city council at one meeting sold the bonds and awarded the paving contract by a unanimous vote. While formal opposition to the paving has not appeared on the surface, there has nevertheless been a strong fight waged against it, requiring constant vigilance on the part of those actively favoring this improvement. Every move or argument against the paving was promptly met and refuted. The Oily News, which has gained the distinction of being the mayor's personal organ, and which from time to time has ostentatiously been giving nominal support to the street paving movement, at the crucial moment showed its real position by coming out in its last issue with the hardest and most systematic "knock" against the whole proposition it was capable of uttering. Its long appeal to do nothing was totally ignored by the city council, however; that body, despite this and the mayor's personal protest, voting unanimously to award the contract and begin work at once. Vastly more for the city's future growth and welfare depended upon his action of the council than many people are aware. Had this paving movement been abandoned at this time the present year's systematic boosting would have practically come to naught. It is more than probable that the Commercial Club would have disbanded and the contract for their fine new headquarters annulled. The Club's Booster would have been discharged and the thousands of dollars already spent in advertising Douglas county abroad would have only been wasted, as people coming here and finding streets resembling muddy lanes would do as many others have done in the past—go elsewhere on the very next train. It is movements of vital importance, like this one, which show who the town's real friends are, and The Review again desires to express its satisfaction at having led to a successful termination of this action for street paving, which we believe will do more to attract population, capital and business than any other one thing that has hitherto been accomplished. Roseburg, like other towns of its class, needs many things in the way of improvement. Its greatest need—paved streets—is now to be supplied just as soon as the work can be done. Other improvements are bound to rapidly follow. The spirit of progress has found a home among us, and for every advance movement hereafter will be heard the slogan: "DO IT NOW!"

IN ROSEBURG, SEPT. 6.

Prohi Candidate For President to Stump Oregon. Eugene W. Chafin, prohibition candidate for the presidency, will be in Oregon in the early part of September and will stump the state, beginning Friday, Sept. 4. On that date he will speak at Newberg at 10 o'clock in the morning, at McMinnville at 1:30 o'clock, and at Portland in the evening. Saturday, Sept. 5, he will speak at Woodburn, Salem and Albany. Sunday, Sept. 6, he will be heard at Eugene and Roseburg, and Monday, Sept. 7, he will finish at Medford and Ashland. Mr. Chafin is prosecuting an active campaign. He made more than 100 speeches between the time of his nomination and the notification ceremonies. Despite his 56 years he is a vigorous speaker and a strenuous worker. He made a four days' stay in Lincoln, Neb., Bryan's home. While there he called on Bryan and received a cordial reception. At Lincoln he was nearly drowned while swimming and in the race riots at Springfield where he attempted to save the life of a negro he had a narrow escape. The prohibition party, owing to the anti-liquor wave sweeping over the country, expects to secure more than 1,000,000 votes this year. Patronize Review advertisers.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

The entire Elk Creek bridge of the town of Elkton, instead of only one of the approaches, as first reported, collapsed last Thursday evening. The bridge was built about 12 years ago, and some of the timbers had become rotten. The foundation, too, consisting of loose rock encased in iron cylinders, were weak, and after a threshing machine had passed over the bridge Thursday evening it began to sink and finally went down. The severe frost of last winter had considerably done with weakening the foundation. County Judge Wagoner, Commissioner, A. Nichols and A. Fields, one of the county's bridge builders, leave this afternoon to inspect the wrecked structure preparatory to forming plans for rebuilding. There has already been decided on for the foundation some new metal cylinders, but they will contain concrete instead of loose rock, making a practically immovable base for the bridge. More iron will also be used in the frame of the structure, which will be about 200 feet over all in length. It is estimated that the work will require about two months time and cost about $2,500.

Complete Solution of Air Navigation Is at Hand.

By THOMAS S. BALDWIN, Famous Airship and Balloon Authority. IT will be but a short time, in my opinion, when the world will see the combination of the two types of airships, the dirigible and the aeroplane, and the complete solution of air navigation. WITH THE NEW GAS BAG MATERIAL AND THE PROPER PROTECTION OF THE GAS IT WILL BE POSSIBLE FOR THE COMING DIRIGIBLE TO CIRCUMNAVIGATE THE WORLD WITHOUT ONCE LANDING. AERONAUTICS HAVE REACHED WHAT MIGHT BE CALLED THE SUCCESSFUL STAGE. COUNT ZEPPELIN HAS DEMONSTRATED THE UNDOUBTED SOLUTION OF THE DIRIGIBLE PROBLEM, AND THE WRIGHT BROTHERS, A. M. HERRING, THE ASSOCIATION WHICH BUILT THE JUNE BUG AND MANY OTHER AEROPLANE INVENTORS HAVE SHOWN THAT THE HEAVIER THAN AIR MACHINES ARE EQUALLY SUCCESSFUL. IF ONLY REMAINS FOR A COMBINATION OF THE TWO TYPES FOR THE COMPLETE SOLUTION OF THE PROBLEM.

In the national individual match the skirmish run will come first, as last year. Eight additional gold, silver and bronze medals, twenty-four in all, will be given in the individual match, and cash prizes remaining the same.

FROM COUNTY EXCHANGES.

Glendale News. Charley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Dewey, accidentally broke his arm by falling from a horse last Monday. The Glendale Telephone Co. has recently sold their phone system to J. H. Smith, of the News office. The new box factory is now running with nearly a full crew and puts on a very busy appearance these days. The main building is 40x120 feet. A shed for drying and storing is to be erected in the near future and new machinery and other improvements are being constantly added. When entirely completed the factory will be one of the best equipped and up-to-date in these parts. The pay roll is large, which will mean additional prosperity to our community. Myrtle Creek Mail. Miss Jessie Smith went to Gendale Monday to take a course of treatment in the hospital. D. C. Pitzer, the real estate man, reports the sale of the I. C. Underwood fruit farm on North Myrtle to John Copeland, of Jackson county, for a consideration of $4,500. Allen Pitts and wife and his mother have started for the Willamette valley by wagon and team, will likely locate somewhere near Portland. Dr. Hoque, of Portland, has traded 200 acres of his farm on Clarks Branch to John Ross, of Portland, for a business house in central Albina. Not discouraged in their effort to divide the Myrtle Creek school district, a second petition, signed by most of the legal voters of Missouri Bottom, will be presented to the boundary board asking that a portion of the Myrtle Creek district be added to the Missouri Bottom district. R. L. Gile, the Roseburg prune dealer, was in this vicinity Monday and purchased 5 1/2 acres for 305-358, a quarter of a cent more than any of the other buyers were offering. Among those who sold to him are Noble Andrews, J. M. Andrews, E. T. Standford, C. A. Strong and John Hall.
