Morris Weber was in from his farm beyond Edenhower this afternoon. Mr. Weber is an active, progressive citizen and was highly pleased to learn of the city council's action in letting the contract for street paving. He believes this paving will do more to advance the interests and growth of the town and advertise it abroad than anything else that could reasonably be done. It is results that count and Mr. Weber's work as a good roads builder and his high reputation attained in that line, makes his opinion in such matters of far more than usual weight.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Philippi, W. Va., "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by Hamilton Drug Co.

The Actor and the Critic.
One of the near comedians who always affect to be entirely careless of newspaper criticism recently struck from his list of bowing acquaintances a critic noted for his candor. The player met the writer and a friend while crossing a park square and exchanged a few words of greeting and as he passed on heard this conversation:

"Who was that?"
"Oh, that is L. the actor!"
"He does not look much like an actor off the stage."
"Still less when he's on the stage," returned the critic.—Argonaut.

On New England Tombstones.
There were several epitaphs which fascinated you for awhile, epitaphs like that of "Solon Tyndall, Killed by a Fall from the Main topsail Yard of the Bark Amazon, in the Harbor of Buenos Aires on March 12, 1850:"

"He as a seaman did his duty well, But his foot slipped, and from aloft he fell, Fell, but to rise and climb the shrouds on high And greet his Master with a glad 'Aye, aye!'"

Or that which recorded the fate of "Abraham Peters, Shot in the Creek by the Explosion of his own Gun."—Collier's Weekly.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872 and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveller for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols, of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak for it. For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.

A MUFF BED.

Surprise of a Man Who Thought It Had to Do With Sleep.

A man who saw on a sign the words "muff beds" and imagined that a muff bed must be something to sleep in, a brother or cousin or other more or less distant relative of the sleeping bag, such as explorers carry with them, found upon inquiry that his imagination had carried him very far from the truth; that the muff bed is in fact not a bed at all, but is the trade name for the inner part of a muff, the body of the muff—in short, the part you put your hands in.

The muff bed consists of a double walled bag made in cylindrical or other shape, according to the style of muff, and then stuffed with down, the quality and quantity of the down depending on the character of the muff.

The making of muff beds is a business by itself. Some of them are sold to the furriers in the simplest form. Just the bed or bag stuffed with down, the furrier putting in the silk or satin lining when he puts on the fur. Others are made with the silk or satin inner lining attached, to be finished up when the fur is put on. There is at least one concern in New York that makes a specialty of muff beds and turns out many thousands of them annually.—New York Sun.
