A Practical Self-Filling Fountain Pen

A dip in any ink, a pressure of the thumb and a self-filling pen is filled, ready to write—all done in an instant, quicker than we can tell about it. The principle is simplicity itself.

Inside the barrel of the pen, which is of the same appearance and material as any other high-grade fountain pen, is a collapsible ink reservoir of soft rubber. To fill this reservoir simply press your finger on a small button on the outside of the pen, compress the pen-point in ink, and allow reservoir to expand in a natural way—and that is all there is to it. We sell both the Waterman and Calkins.
Good ones at $2.50, gold mounted ones up to $10.
Come in and let us show you—it will make an obligation to buy.

A CINGALESE DAIRY.

Ceylon White Ants and Their Numerous Natural Enemies.

It is estimated that two-thirds of the island of Ceylon is undermined by white ants. The number of those insects is certainly quite incalculable, but it is fortunate that their natural enemies are almost as numerous.

The workers are preyed upon by true ants and many other insects; by spiders, lizards and centipedes; by rats, mice and palm squirrels. But it is the adult winged insects that are especially victimized. It is probable that scarcely 1 per cent of the mature insects survive the dangers of the periodic flights.

They run the gamut of nearly every other animal. Birds, bats, squirrels, rats, toads and lizards all feed to the feast. Dogs and cats eat the winged ants with avidity.

"Even man himself does not disdain to participate," says E. E. Green. "The Tamil coolie looks upon a mess of fried termites as a great dainty, and I have several European acquaintances who consider that termites on toast form a dish worthy of more general inclusion in the menu. They are said to taste not unlike mushrooms."—Agricultural Journal of Ceylon Botanic Gardens.

The Warning Signals.

A Boston physician tells a story of a youngster of his own that an over-strenuous vacation had put on the sick list. The father had an appropriate prescription filled and left the bottle with the child's mother. As she, however, is very forgetful, he gave her a chart and suggested that she set down the hours when the medicine should be given, checking off each dose as taken. Upon returning from his evening call, however, he found the chart blank.

"Good gracious, Mary!" he exclaimed. "Surely you haven't failed to give Tom his medicine?"

"Oh, no, I did not miss a single time," his wife assured him.

"How in the world did you remember it without the chart?" he asked.

"That was easy. I just told Tom this morning at what hours he was to have it, and half an hour before each time he would begin hallooing that he wouldn't take it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Phillip, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philadelphia Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by Hamilton Drug Co.
