TOKIO, Japan, Aug. 31.—Japan's International Exposition, scheduled for 1912, has been postponed until 1917. NEARLY HIT BY TRAIN

Quickness of Girl's Escort Prevents Probable Tragedy

The quickness of Ross Goodman, her escort, prevented Miss Lucy Bridges, the young daughter of Mrs. N. T. Bridges, of this city, from being struck this morning by a locomotive and probably killed. The episode occurred just before the departure of the northbound local train, No. 12, and was witnessed by a small crowd of people, who for a moment were horror-stricken at what appeared to be the immediately impending death of the girl.

It has been the custom of the railroad company to bring the southbound flyer, No. 13, into Roseburg, on the main track and hold No. 12, preparatory to its dispatch, on the side track immediately adjoining. To this custom is due the close call Miss Bridges had for her life. As No. 13 was pulling into the depot, the girl stood with her back toward the main track and almost against it, conversing with relatives who were about to leave on No. 12 for Cottage Grove. When the locomotive of the oncoming No. 13 was within 20 feet of her, a bystander who noticed the girl's peril shouted a warning to her, and the engineer in the cab sounded his whistle. She heard not, so absorbed was she in her conversation, and a thrill of horror shot through the onlookers as it seemed that the girl was doomed. Near came the locomotive until it was less than five feet from her, when suddenly Mr. Goodman stepped from a coach of No. 12, after bidding Miss Bridges' relatives good-bye. In an instant he saw the girl's danger and in another instant he had jerked her out of the path of the iron master, which almost grazed her as it rolled by. One second more and the girl would have been struck by the locomotive and probably ground to pieces.

Although fortunately barren of serious results, the occurrence has had a salutary effect on the custom of handling the two trains. By an order issued at the train dispatcher's office today, No. 12 will from now on stand on the main track preparatory to its departure, while No. 13 will roll in on the siding. Thus, there will be no danger in any person alighting from No. 12 being struck by No. 13, while No. 12 is moving out the station will be in full view of persons getting off No. 13.

1907 LUMBER CUT

Oregon and Washington Lead Any Other Two States in Union

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Figures of the lumber cut in 1907, compiled by the bureau of the census and the forest service showed the largest total ever reported in the United States, exceeding by over seven per cent the cut reported for 1906, until then the record year. This does not necessarily show a large actual cut in 1907, for the returns obtained last year were more complete than ever before. The figures themselves disclose some interesting facts.

In 1907 28,850 mills made returns and their production was over 40,000,000,000 feet of lumber. This is believed to include 95 per cent of the actual cut. In 1906 22,398 mills reported about 37,500,000,000 feet. Since according to these figures nearly 29 per cent more mills reported last year than the year, while the increase in production was only a little over seven per cent, it might be thought that the amount actually manufactured must have been greater in the earlier year.

The south is the region of great activity in lumber production, and yellow pine the most important wood, forming 33 per cent of the entire cut of the country. The cut of yellow pine reported shows an increase of 13 per cent over that of 1906. In the Lake states the falling off evidenced the waning supply of white pine. Michigan, which for many years led all the states in lumber production, and then gave way to Wisconsin, sank in 1907 from fourth to seventh place, while Wisconsin went from third to fifth. Minnesota as late as 1905 held fourth place. Last year it went from seventh to ninth. It was not until the latter 90's that the south displaced this group of states as the most important source of lumber supply. Since southern pine is abundant in all the Atlantic coast states from the Carolinas to Texas, the region as a whole will doubtless maintain its leading position for some years, in spite of the fact that at the present time the bulk of the timber will be gone in another decade, but in totals of production by individual states, the leadership has since 1905 been held by Washington.

Oregon Has Increased

The figures of production show that during 1907 Washington fell off very decidedly from its huge cut of 1906, while its sister state, Oregon, is credited with a slight increase in its total. In the early part of the year Washington suffered from a car shortage, and at the end the combined effect of business disturbance and higher freight rates had brought the industry almost to paralysis. Oregon kept up its cut because of its larger proportion of coastwise and foreign trade. These two states together produced more lumber than any two states in the Union.

HOTTEST PLACE ON EARTH

New York Press.
Bahrein Island, in the Persian Gulf, is said to be the hottest place on the globe, far hotter than Tophet. The average temperature is about 141 degrees. On the coast, where the people live, there is no fresh water, but here and there in the harbor's bottom are strong, free-flowing springs of pure water, rising at which flows down the sides of the mountains of Lebanon, flavored by the rays of healthy earth. Dicers equip themselves with basins made of skins and descend to the springs, where they fill the inverted receptacles with aqua pura. This water is cold enough to drink without the aid of ice, of which the islanders know nothing.

HAPPY RESULTS

Have Made Many Roseburg Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Roseburg citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Roseburg by Doan's Kidney Pills.

A. O. Houser, Jackson St., Roseburg, Or., says: "I have had considerable trouble from a lame back and when doing any work that brought a strain on the muscles of the back I suffered terribly. During one of these spells I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from A. C. Marsters & Co.'s drug store and found such great relief from their use in a short time that I did not feel it necessary to continue their use. My back was greatly strengthened and though I have worked steadily since, I have not had a return of the backache."

Evils of the Black-list and the Boycott.

By Justice DAVID J. BREWER, United States Supreme Court.

HERE are certain individual rights, the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and they are rights which belong to every individual in this broad land.

THERE IS NO CROWNED HEAD IN THIS COUNTRY WHO CAN SAY "I AM THE STATE."

THE ONLY THING WE HAVE TO FEAR IS THAT MAJORITIES WILL GET TOGETHER AND FOR BUSINESS OR COMMERCIAL OR INDUSTRIAL REASONS WILL CRUSH OUT THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE INDIVIDUAL.

Nothing appeals to me so strongly as calling for the combined action of every true American to preserve these inalienable rights. The spirit of liberty prevails here. No majority and no power compels you to remain here or do anything against your own reasonable wishes.

Now we have both capital and labor demonstrations of different character in this country. There are vast combinations of capital which exist. It is not fully known, and probably never will be known, just how many business men are compelled by these combinations to join them. If the business man will not join they arrange to undersell him and break up his business.

IT IS NOT PHYSICAL FORCE AND COERCION, BUT WHEN ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE BY WHICH A MAN'S PROSPERITY IS SWEEPED AWAY FROM HIM UNLESS HE JOINS A COMBINE THE FIRST PRINCIPLES OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE HAVE BEEN VIOLATED AND A BLOT HAS BEEN CAST ON THE NAME OF AMERICAN LIBERTY. I DO NOT CARE WHO DOES IT OR WHAT COMBINATION IT IS, IT IS A DISGRACE.

The same thing is equally true of labor. There is nothing more wholesome than the collection of labor into union or organizations. It tends to give them higher wages, better standing and countless other advantages, and of this I most heartily approve. But when any body of laborers say to one man in that same branch of endeavor, "You must join this organization or you won't be permitted to work anywhere," and resorts to violence or boycotting or anything that cuts that man out from pursuing his happiness in his own way, I say that organization also has insulted the name of American independence.

LET THE TIME COME WHEN ANY ORGANIZATION CONTROLS BOTH CAPITAL AND LABOR, AND THE GOVERNMENT FOR WHICH OUR FATHERS DIED WILL VANISH FROM THE EARTH.

KING KOHR WINS DERBY

Barely Noses Out Ahead of R. D. Hume's Fast Mare, Lida A.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 29.—Great excitement prevailed this afternoon at the Marshfield race course when the judges gave their decision when the King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, shot into the lead and won by a nose. Never before in the history of the fair association has there been so exciting a race.

Large sums had been bet and many of the spectators protested against the decision of the judges. Several hundred men gathered on the track, and some went to the judges' stand with their objection, but the judges were sure of their decision and stayed with it and all bets were paid.

King Kohr has made several flashes of the name kind this year but the race today was by far the most sensational in which he has yet figured. King Kohr was ridden by Jockey Heaven, of Oakland, Calif. His time was 2:02 1/2.

ELECTION WILL BE CLOSE

Medford Sharply Divided Over Plan to Give Blakeley a Franchise.

MEDFORD, Or., Aug. 29.—Medford's steady growth and apparently permanent prosperity is attracting various enterprises that pertain to a city, the latest being a streetcar line. Next Monday a special election will be held to decide on the application of F. J. Blakeley, of Roseburg, for a streetcar franchise. The proposed franchise calls for 20 years' duration and car tracks on all the principal streets of the city with steam, electric, compressed air or other power.

The election has provoked a hot fight and if the franchise passes it will be by a very small majority. The two daily papers of the city are at swords' points over the proposition, the Evening Tribune leading the faction favoring the franchise, while the Morning Mail is at the head of the opposition. The opponents of the franchise claim that it binds the city too much and the holder of the franchise too little and that it would handicap the city in getting other lines, while the supporters of the franchise claim it fully safeguards interests of the city and would not monopolize the streetcar service of the town and that it is no subterfuge to allow the Pacific & Eastern, the Southern Pacific or any other railroad to use the streets for railroad purposes.

The Review always leads.

G. A. R. IN TOLEDO

Annual Encampment Will be Pleasant One for the Veterans

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 31.—Their ranks thinned by many thousands during the last year, but with courage unconquered and enthusiasm undimmed, the boys in blue are today thronging the lavishly decorated streets of Toledo and during the week will take part in the forty-second national encampment of the G. A. R. Toledo is superbly conscious of the honor accorded the city by the gathering of the remnants of the vanishing hosts, and every possible preparation has been made to render the encampment one to be remembered and treasured by the veterans as long as life lasts. The Stars and Stripes are floating from many hundreds of buildings and the principal thoroughfares are decorated as seldom before. All the hotels have made arrangements to give the veterans the best possible care at the lowest cost and many private houses have been thrown open to the entertainment of the aged men and their white-haired wives.

Official headquarters were established today in the Boody House, where the commander in chief, Chas. G. Burton, of Missouri, and the other officers of the Grand Army are in charge. The executive committee of the National Council of Administration held a meeting this morning, to be followed tomorrow by a session of the full council, when the final plans for the encampment will be ratified.

The day was largely occupied with the reception of arriving delegates, sight-seeing trips about the city and a general informal reunion. The formal reception meeting will be held tomorrow evening, at which addresses of welcome will be delivered by the governor of Ohio, the mayor of Toledo, and the commander of the department of Ohio.

Camp fires will be held this evening, at which many silver-tongued orators of the Grand Army will deliver addresses.

The parade of the veterans will take place on Wednesday. The line of march will be short, as few of the veterans are now able to take part in a long "hike" and automobiles and carriages will be provided for those physically unable to play the part of infantry. The committee on the centennial birthday celebration of Abraham Lincoln will hold a meeting tomorrow.

In addition to the Grand Army of the Republic, seven affiliated organizations will hold conventions during the week. These include the Sons of Veterans, the Daughters of Veterans, the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the Grand Army, the National Association of Ex-Prisoners of War, the National Association of Army Nurses of the Civil War, and the Woman's Patriotic Press Association.

BIG STRIKE DUE TODAY

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 29.—All the coal mines in Wyoming will close down tomorrow and 7,000 men will be rendered idle as the result of the inability of the operators of the state and the representatives of the United Mine Workers of America to reach an agreement in connection with the wage scale after a two days' session in this city, which ended late tonight. The reduction demanded by the operators will not exceed 15 cents a day, for only certain classes of miners, in other the reduction amounts to 10 cents a day.

CHEMIST LOOKS FOR POISON

Boy Resents Being Called Poor Marksman by Shooting Companion Dead After a Hunt

Special to the Evening Review.

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 31.—A strong bit of evidence was secured by the police today against Gustav Arkell, arrested yesterday on suspicion of being the murderer of Mrs. Alice L. Donohue, whose partly decomposed body was unearthed through a spiritualist in a marsh near Emeryville on Saturday. A shovel found near the body and which had apparently been used in digging had been identified as Arkell's property. An examination of the exterior of the remains having revealed on form of violence, a chemist is now examining the stomach for traces of poison. His report will be made tomorrow.

Arkell faced a charge of beating his wife two years ago. At that time his wife testified that Arkell married her for the purpose of murdering her to obtain her property. She charged with yith putting poison in her food, but this she could not prove. Suspicion against Arkell in connection with the finding of Mrs. Donohue's body was directed by the fact that he had been keeping company with her.
