A "hobo" with one arm crippled, lies in the county jail here, awaiting a hearing on the charge of stealing a pair of trousers from the residence of C. F. McMullen, in the grove here, this morning. The robber was a particularly audacious one, the thief boldly entering a front room in broad daylight and appropriating the trousers, which belonged to Mr. McMullen's son, R. McMullen, who is employed at the Wells Fargo Express office. With admirable nerve, the thief then went around to the back door and presented to Mrs. McMullen a card, bearing a printed appeal for money. He was given a 10-cent piece, for which he expressed thanks, and then departed. A few minutes later the loss of the trousers was discovered and Mr. McMullen, who had been taking a nap, went in pursuit of the robber, who took refuge in a barn near the brewery, where he was quickly captured by Mr. McMullen and S. J. Reisenstein. Sheriff Fenton was summoned by telephone and took the prisoner to jail. The trousers were found under some piling near the railroad track, where the robber had hid them in his flight.

WORMS

"Cascarets are certainly fine. I gave a friend one when the doctor was treating him for cancer of the stomach. The next morning he passed four pieces of a tape-worm. He then got a box and in three days he passed a large worm 16 feet long. It was Mr. Matt Frick, of Millersburg, Dauphin Co., Pa. I am quite a worker for Cascarets. I use them myself and find them beneficial for most any disease caused by impure blood. Chas. E. Condon, Lewistown, Pa. (Millin Co.)

BUILDING GREAT MONASTERY

Grangeville, Ida.: The order of the Benedictine Fathers has moved from Cotton wood to the new monastery site, four miles west of Cottonwood, on Craig mountain, where a monastery and college will be built. The plans are broad and this will be a centralization of the Benedictine orders of the west, and more than $1,000,000 will ultimately be spent on the monastery and college.

A number of Lane county hop-growers held a meeting in Eugene to talk over the picking situation and to talk "hops" in general. All parts of the hop-growing district of the county were fairly well represented. After duly considering the prospect for prices for the crop, it was resolved that the growers could not afford to pay more than 75 cents per 100 pounds for picking this year. According to remarks made by a number of growers, it is likely that many yards will not be picked even at that price. Others will harvest their crops as usual and trust to a betterment in the market.

When Sleep Was Tramps.
A bridge playing set at an eastern university, who usually turned night into day, used to appear at morning chapel with remarkable regularity and were polliwoged out as an example by the authorities. An alteration was made in the time, chapel not beginning until thirty minutes later, and the dean was astounded to see that none of these men, so regular before, was present. He sent for them and asked the reason.

"Well, sir," said one. "It's like this: When chapel was at half past 7 we could just manage it, but we can't keep awake till 8 o'clock."—Harper's Weekly.

On Ice.
"Yes," said Alkali Ike, "a couple of cow punchers indulged in a very pretty scientific scrap down at Bad Bucko's yesterday."

"It's wonderful how cool those fellows keep under the circumstances," remarked the eastern tourist.
"Yas; they certainly have to be kept cool, stranger. I believe, for some reason or other, their funerals ain't to be for a couple of days yet."—Philadelphia

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

Director of Bryan's Campaign.
Norman E. Mack of Buffalo, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has been a close friend of Mr. Bryan's since the latter's first nomination in 1896. As far back as 1892 he was honored by his party, but his real political prominence came in 1900, when he was made national committeeman from New York. He was re-elected again, without contest, in 1904 and was re-elected at Denver to serve until 1912.

Mr. Mack is a native of Canada and is fifty-three years old. He came to the United States when a youth and went to Bradford during the early oil excitement in that part of Pennsylvania. After buying himself at various things he went to Buffalo and in 1879 started the Times, which he conducted as a weekly. This proved so successful that he entered the daily newspaper field four years later, establishing the Daily Times, of which he is still editor and publisher. Mr. Mack is a man of wealth and is regarded as one of Buffalo's leading citizens.

Compelled to Wait Awhile.
A prominent senator from the Pacific coast called at the White House not long ago and made a strong plea for the appointment of one of his constituents to a local federal office in his state.

"Let me see," said the president, bringing his jaws together with a snap, "wasn't Mr. — in jail five years ago?"
"No, Mr. President," said the senator, somewhat taken aback, "but he was in jail twelve years ago. He was the victim of circumstances, however," the senator added hastily. "I have investigated the case, and I am satisfied that the man was innocent and never should have been convicted. His conviction was a gross miscarriage of justice."

"Well, senator," said the president, "after I have finished appointing all the men who have managed to get out of jail I will take up your friend's case."

Haskell of Oklahoma.
Governor Charles N. Haskell of Oklahoma, the new treasurer of the Democratic national committee, is a native of Ohio, and his early years were spent on a farm. By dint of hard work and perseverance he managed to secure an education and began his career as a schoolteacher. At the age of twenty-one he was admitted to the bar and began the practice of law at Ottawa, O. Here he made his first essay into politics. He was a member of the Ohio legislature and once made a campaign for governor of his native state. In 1891 he removed to Muskogee, I. T., and hung out his shingle as a lawyer. He soon gave up his law practice and engaged in railroad building and other construction work. He is a man of some means and has never shown a disposition to antagonize wealth. He insists, however, that public service corporations must pay their fair share of taxes. Mr. Haskell was a member of the Oklahoma constitutional convention and in 1907 was elected the first governor of the new state.

The Objection to Amazons.
General F. D. Grant at a dinner party in New York said humorously of the emancipation of women:
"Suppose, though, women should have to go to war? I don't think they would make very good soldiers. For one thing, they would never grow old enough to be placed on the retired list."

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Notice is hereby given, that sealed bids will be received by the County Clerk until the 2nd day of September, A. D. 1928, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., of said day, for the construction of Cement and Plank Walks on the Court House Property, in accordance with Plans and Specifications on file at the County Clerk's office.

The Court reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
