The regular city council meeting which was to be held tonight was postponed until tomorrow night, so the council may consider the new plans for the Deer Creek bridge. Engineer F. C. Kelsey is expected here tomorrow morning with these plans. It is understood they will provide for a good bridge at about one-third the cost of the one specified in the plans recently submitted. Since another bonding election is to be held, Mayor Hoover expresses himself in favor of increasing the amount to $50,000, as suggested in Monday's Review. This would enable the council to materially enlarge the paving area and also build the Deer Creek bridge. He says he is ready to sign the contract for paving whenever the funds are in sight to pay for the work.

The Buffalo (New York) Times is curious to know where those people who profess ignorance concerning Vice Presidential Candidate Sherman have been hiding themselves all these years. The Times says: "His name is carved deep in the history of the nation. He is the 'My Dear Sherman' addressed in a letter on the subject of Harriman campaign contributions written by President Roosevelt; the very man who approached the great railroad magnate but heard abuse of the president from him instead of getting a check worth photographing; who reported the matter to the president and received from that official the same day the famous 'undesirable citizen' letter which brought from a pigeon hole the equally famous 'practical man' letter from the president to Mr. Harriman; altogether one of the most notable incidents in political history. It is true that his record of about 18 years in congress is not marked by any advocate or support of legislation in the interests of the masses, but he has usually been in attendance at the sessions of the house and has always drawn his salary and mileage regularly. It is plain that the delegates who wanted to know who Sherman was were poor trash, for all the rich men of the republican party know him well. In the capacity of official fat fryer he allied upon them all and severally, or words to that effect, in 1906, and with his story of Bismarck necessitated of his party touched them deeply; excepting, of course, Mr. Harriman, who made the fuss that made the president angry and Mr. Sherman famous."

FOR CHEAPER MEAT.

Packers to Start Campaign to Make Beef Cost Less.

CHOICE CUTS ROOT OF EVIL.

Will Be Reduced in Price in Order to Show American Public the Value of Portions Now Considered Worthless. Chuck Steak After Careful Cooking Good Eating, Says Expert.

Every person in the country is interested in the price of meat and will therefore also be interested in the movement appearing to undertake to teach the American public that other portions of a beef are as nutritious and, when properly cooked, as palatable as the costlier cuts. The ultimate end will be the lowering of prices on all grades of meats, especially in those cuts which are now in chief demand.

In short, the western packers are preparing a campaign to teach the public to buy and eat the whole "critter" and not a few choice cuts alone, from the sale of which the retailers say they must obtain the cost of the entire carcass because of their inability to sell the cheap cuts. This campaign is to be carried on through the retail dealers of the country, who will be coached on the subject so thoroughly that they will be competent to teach their customers.

The packers say one of the chief reasons why beef is not cheaper in America is that the people demand the best cuts and leave so much of the so-called inferior grades on the hands of the packers that they are forced to keep the price of the best cuts up to counteract the waste, but if the sales of the cheaper grades were increased the cost of all would decrease materially.

One of the packers' arguments will be taken from the year book of the United States department of agriculture, written by George K. Holmes, chief of the bureau of statistics. Mr. Holmes points out the mistake made by people of limited means in selecting the most expensive cuts when many of the unsought portions are equally or even more nutritious. One of Mr. Holmes' comments is as follows:

"Although epicureans admit and chemists demonstrate that the neck piece is toothsome and nutritious, it bears the lowest price. In fact, it would hardly be considered respectable to ask the butcher for a piece of the neck. Perhaps a low order of proficiency in the housewife's cooking in the past gave to the neck piece its low place. The story might have been different had the cook known how to utilize the meat in the making of attractive and delicious dishes. The point of the argument is that cheap cuts of a good carcass are as good as expensive pieces when judiciously selected and properly cooked."

American butchers complain that the average housewife has little knowledge of the art of cooking. She does not know how to make a tasty dish of the cheap grades of meat. She therefore buys the best steaks, slaps them in the frying pan and pieces them on the table when she thinks they are properly cooked. On the other side of the Atlantic the cuts are placed on a more equal footing, the demand for the different cuts being more general. On this side the laborer's wife is more likely to order chops or steaks than to ask for brisket or neck, and in consequence it pays the big packers to send barrels and barrels of brisket and cheaper cuts to England, while in many cases the American butchers would prefer purchasing more of the portions from which they take the so-called "choice" cuts to stocking up with the entire carcass.

While the tenderloin is the tenderest and is considered the most delicate cut, it is not so juicy or so well flavored as other portions less tender, and it is not nearly so nutritious as parts which require more cooking. And both tenderloin and sirloin contain less nutritive value than is found in the cheaper meats.

Another government expert says that a chuck steak after careful cooking compares favorably with a round or sirloin from the same carcass.

CURE FOR TIGHTWADS.

Can Be Accomplished Through Hypnotism, Says Noted Physician.

Dr. Negroso, a noted physician, read before the Medical society in Paris a paper dealing with an analysis of the psychology of avarice, claiming avarice to be a form of insanity, curable by hypnotism and suggestion.

The learned physician pointed out that close fistfulness is not the only abnormal symptom in an avaricious person. Like a victim of melancholia, the close fist person shuns society and even his friends and spends his days brooding over alleged troubles and financial problems. He is forever on the lookout for persons liable to deprive him of part of his wealth by legal or illegal means. Like insane people, he lacks in moral and physical sense.

The lecturer stated that he has cured several persons so afflicted by hypnotism and suggestion. He described his method as follows:

The physician must, above all, gain the close fist person's confidence. After he has his confidence he must suggest to him with the aid of hypnotism to change his habits and live a life in accordance with his income or wealth and later employ hypnotic suggestion for charity and sociability. In several cases the cure took two and more years to accomplish.

Home Rule Is Fundamental.

By HORACE E. DENING Before National Municipal League.

Honest, progressive and efficient municipal government in this country rests upon the fundamental democratic principle of local self government.

Clothed the municipality with all necessary power to determine and enforce its local public policy, give it adequate machinery for that purpose, THEN LEAVE IT UNTRAMMELED BY OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE AND UNAIDED BY OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE. LEAVE IT ALONE. LET IT WORK OUT ITS OWN PROBLEM. THIS IS TRUE DEMOCRACY.

A superimposed government is not a democratic government. The struggle of the people of the town toward democracy, to control the local affairs of their own town, is the mainspring of the campaign for municipal betterment in this country.
