This place consists of 57 1/2 acres, of which 30 acres is in bearing orchard and 27 1/2 acres unimproved. The consideration was $10,000. Dr. Bradburn intends to move on the place this winter. Burr's Muds House was busy all day today receiving another carload of those Bush & Lane pianos, which have caused such a sensation here. This shipment includes 17 pianos and among them are some of the finest instruments ever offered in this city. An especially fine one is built in the beautiful Art style, with hand carving and French burr walnut finish throughout. It has every desirable appliance and detail known to modern piano manufacture, and compares most favorably with the Chickering and other pianos selling at $750 and upwards; yet this splendid instrument will be sold here at only $550. It is unsurpassed in tone and fully guaranteed for 20 years. Music lovers are delighted with it. Jacob Donn returned Tuesday from Minnesota, where he spent the past sixteen months. PLANK DITCH CLEANER.

Method of Construction and How to Use It.

The ditcher or ditch cleaner is a convenient device for clearing ditches and thus keeping a road in good condition. It consists of a guide plank 2 inches by 12 inches by 12 feet and a moldboard 2 inches by 12 inches by 8 feet. These are braced with a crosspiece three feet long, as shown in the plan. The mold-board should be shod with an iron plate one-quarter inch by 4 inches by 3 feet held in position with three-eightihs inch bolts countersunk. The cross brace should be hollowed three inches on each side at the middle, the following to begin not less than four inches from each end in order that its bearing against the guide and mold board planks shall not be shortened on the unloading space decreased. This is done so prevent earth from heaping up in front of the brace. A light platform is needed to make the use of the ditcher safe.

The ditch is made as shown in the illustration of the plan, the short side of the chain being about two feet three inches in length and the long side eight feet three inches. The chain is made to pass over the moldboard, so that it may clear itself more readily. Two or three horses, according to the difficulty of the particular condition, are necessary to clear a ditch.

To secure the best service from the ditcher a weight of about 200 pounds should be placed over the front end. The essential thing to be gained is to have the ditcher maintain a smooth, even surface on the bottom of the ditch. There is then no obstruction to the flow of water. This requires that soft, muddy holes be passed over lightly and hard, high places be reduced. This result is obtained if the driver shifts his weight forward or backward as a high point or a mudhole is approached. If the driver shifts his weight forward the point of the ditcher is driven into the ground. If he moves back the pressure on the forward end is relieved, and the pull on the chain tends to raise it.
Besides clearing the ditch, the ditcher assists in preserving the slope from the side of the road to the bottom of the ditch. This keeps the road safe from possible accident to traffic from ditches with too abrupt slopes.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

To Wash Chamoi Gloves.
Make a nice lather with soap powder or jelly and tepid water. To each quart of water add a teaspoonful of ammonia. Place the gloves in this and let them soak for about a quarter of an hour. Then squeeze and press them with the hands, but on no account wring them. Rinse in fresh tepid water to which a few drops of ammonia have been added. Press the gloves in a clean towel, pull them into shape and hang in the air or near an open window till dry. During the drying process rub and squeeze them occasionally to soften the leather. On no account dry near a fire or in hot sunlight, as quick drying hardens the leather.

Canning Corn.

Put tender ears of corn in a colander and let a little hot water run over them for a moment. Then cut the corn from the cob, scraping out all the juicy pulp and rejecting the hulls. Pack into sterilized pint jars, working the kernels down compactly with a silver knife. When filled to within an inch of the top dissolve for each quart can a teaspoonful each salt and sugar in three-quarters of a pint of warm water and pour over the corn. Adjust the lid without the rubber and steam three hours in a boiler. Then take out, put on the rubbers and tops, screw tightly and cook three-quarters of an hour longer. The boiling must be continuous.

Herb Vinegars.

Either green or dried herbs may be utilized for vinegars, though the former are best just before flowering in the summer. Look over carefully to be sure they are free from insects and wash to clear from dust. Cover a bunch of any of the sweet herbs desired, mint, tarragon, savory, sweet marjoram, thyme, sage or sweet basil, with a quart of scalding hot vinegar and let it remain until thoroughly impregnated with the flavor of the herb. Strain off the vinegar to use at table or in sauces and replace with more vinegar. A bunch of good herbs will flavor two or three quarts of vinegar.

Clothesline Reel.

A West Virginia man has devised a reel, herewith shown, on which the clothesline can be gathered quickly and neatly, and she who presides over the family wash will no longer have to loop the rope over thumb and elbow. The reel is in the form of a huge spool or iron framework, with a handle in the center by which it may be held and another handle at one end by which it may be turned. The line is fastened to a V shaped bend in the hub and rolled over the reel with neatness and dispatch. If the line is wet the open framework gives it a better chance to dry than when it is folded in the old way.

Grape Wine.

Pick grapes from the stems and put in a jar, mash with a potato masher until the skins are broken, turn a plate over them to keep the pulp under the juice; let stand four or five days; pour into jelly bag and press all the juice out. To every gallon of juice add two and a half pounds of granulated sugar. Put in jugs and leave out the cork, but the mosquito netting over the mouth and set in the sun to ferment. Each morning remove the net, putting on a clean piece, and have a little extra juice to fill the jug, then put in the cellar till spring. Pour off, strain and bottle.

Plain Tomato Sauce.

Slice a small onion fine and cook with two cupfuls of canned tomato for half an hour, then run all through a strainer. Add a rounding tablespoonful of butter rolled in a level teaspoonful of cornstarch, a level teaspoonful of sugar and salt and pepper to season. Cook three minutes and serve.

Value of Fresh Air.

The best part of a modern house is its windows. To keep these open day and night and to make the air inside approach as nearly as possible the air outside should be the first business of the housekeeper. Everything else should be held subservient to the need of fresh air.—Good Health.

Currant Catchup.

Add to four pounds washed and stemmed currants two pounds brown sugar and a pint of vinegar. Simmer until quite thick. Season with a teaspoonful each of cinnamon, ginger, allspice and cloves, simmer ten minutes longer, strain and bottle.

Boiling a Ham.

If when boiling ham you add for each gallon of water a teasp. of vinegar and six or eight cloves the flavor will be much improved. Always let a ham cool in the water in which it is boiled, and it will keep deliciously moist and nice.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.
More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of the prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for 20 years, although I am now 91 years of age."
