SEPTEMBER 17, 1908.

That sidewalk building in Roseburg is not progressing as rapidly as it should. No use to delay, for they must be built soon. Better do it now.

Discriminating people always buy from the stores which advertise, for the reason that the advertiser is pretty sure to be up-to-date in the goods, as well as offering the most attractive prices.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

School District Not Liable For Negligence of Directors.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 16.—That a school district is not liable for the negligence of its directors was decided by Judge Gantenbein in the circuit court this morning, establishing a precedent on a question never before adjudicated in this state.

Because a person who furnishes materials to a contractor for a school house can not file a mechanic's lien against the building, the legislature in 1903 passed a law making it the duty of the school directors to require contractors to give a bond to guarantee the payment of material men and laborers.

The question has been raised in Oregon previously only as to municipal corporations. A school district is classified as a quasi-corporation, and as its functions are purely governmental, Judge Gantenbein held that it is not liable for the negligence of the directors.

STATE CAN'T SELL "BOOZE."

Federal Court of Appeals Knocks Out South Carolina's Monopoly.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 16.—Covering every phase of the South Carolina Dispensary case in an exhaustive opinion which deals with the broad question of state rights, the United States circuit court of appeals handed down an opinion today fully sustaining Circuit Judge Pritchard in the appointment of receivers to wind up the affairs of the liquor monopoly long maintained by the Palmetto Commonwealth.

The decision is a matter of paramount importance in South Carolina where the dispensary has long been the object of attack. Its failure to serve as a temperance measure, along with charges of graft caused a revolution of feeling, which resulted in the passage of a law to abolish it as a state institution, at the same time permitting towns and counties to decide by popular vote whether or not they desire to retain it under local or county management.

ANNIVERSARY OF "BIG RUN."

Hottest Land Rush Ever Recorded in the United States.

ENID, Okla., Sept. 17.—Today is the fifteenth anniversary of the last "big run" for Oklahoma lands. Never again will such a scene be witnessed as took place on that memorable Sunday, Sept. 17, 1889. Two hundred thousand men and women were in the Cherokee outlet by afternoon of the opening day, and in a single night a town of 10,000 people sprang up. In many respects this last Oklahoma "run" was more remarkable than the first, which took place in 1889.

On the night of the run for formerly barren territory was alive with weary, anxious people, all eagerly seeking homes in the promised land, and some wild with the lust for land. Thousands of camp fires glowed along the path of the old Indian hunting trail to the buffalo plains of forgotten memory. In a single day the white man's civilization overpowered and overwhelmed the domain of the red man.

Before the "run," more than 75,000 men were massed along the southern line of the strip alone, and all the land office towns in Kansas were packed with seething crowds for days. An endless line of men waited in procession back of the registry windows. A man paid $5 five different times for advances in his place up the registry line, and at last got within a few paces of the window, after days of waiting. Worn out by exhaustion he dropped dead in the line. The suffering of all these thousands was extreme. The thermometer stood 100 degrees in the shade. Water was 10 cents a glass and bread 50 cents a loaf. Force was the real law.

"Sooners" were at work for days in advance, although now the guard was strict. At the start a "sooner" ran across the line before the gun. A soldier ordered him to halt, but he went on, and the soldier killed him. The man's partner killed the soldier. Then came the starting gun, and the mob swept over both corpses and the matter was forgotten. In quarrels along the line before the start three men were shot. Nineteen men fell in the line, prostrated by the heat, and three died. One young woman went stark mad; an accidental shot killed one man in the waiting line and many were so accidentally wounded, for most were unarmed.

At one locality, on the north line, he crowd was more than 300 yards long in packed, struggling, cursing humanity, and it reached east and west as far as the eye could see. A horse was worth $100 if it could stand up. Some ran the race with two horses, tied together, shifting from time to time.

An army of over 100,000 started in the van, panic-stricken, motley herd that Sunday afternoon in September, and roared away, scattering vaguely in the distance. It left behind it many dead bodies of horses, and some of men and women.

WORLD'S LUMBER IMPORTS.

United States Furnishes 20 Per Cent Of $285,000,000 Total.

Few people have the slightest conception just how important a part lumber and manufactured wood play in the trade between the world's great nations, and doubtless it is news to many to learn that the lumber importations of the various countries amount to $285,000,000. This according to estimates for the whole world by Dr. Ernest Friedrich of the German commercial high school at Leipzig.

Notwithstanding the fact that it leads its own country in the production of lumber, the United States furnishes about 20 per cent of the lumber imported by other countries. Austria-Hungary furnishes 19 per cent, Russia 16 per cent, Canada 13 per cent, Sweden 13 per cent, Finland 10 per cent, and Norway and Roumania a small quantity.

The countries importing wood are those on the highest economic level, and these were themselves in the earlier times densely wooded, but these forests have been denuded to a greater or less extent to make room for agriculture and other industries, says Vice-Consul James L. A. Turzill, of Madagascar, in a report to this government. Only 4 per cent of the territory of Great Britain is covered with forests, and during the war 1896 that country imported nearly the value of $125,500,750 of lumber, and still 25 per cent of its territory covered by forests, but imported in 1906 lumber valued at $61,285,000. Belgium and the Netherlands, that have but 8 per cent forest lands, Denmark, that has 7 per cent, France and Switzerland, with a small percentage, are all compelled to import lumber.

Residues in other countries, those lands lying on the dry western side of the sub-tropical zone lacking forests are forced to import wood. Egypt imports wood and coal to the value of about $16,669,999 annually. Algeria, Tunis, Spain, Portugal (with only 2 per cent forest land), Italy, Greece (with 9 per cent forest land), the eastern part of Asia, British South Africa, the western part of Chile and Peru, the Argentine Republic and Australia, all poor in wood, are dependent upon imports.

ABOUT MIE. CHANLER.

Portland Oregonian: Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, nominated by the democrats for governor of New York, is the young man—the identical young gentleman—who last year fancied he heard a loud call to become president of the United States. He is a young man with money and distinguished ancestry; but his hearing is bad.

MAYOR MATLOCK AN EAGLE.

Eugene Guard: Mayor J. D. Matlock became a full fledged Eagle last night, having been given his plunions by Eugene Aerie No. 275. It is said His Honor performed the stunts of initiation to the great satisfaction and glee of the members of the Aerie. This order is strong in Eugene and is growing rapidly. The local aerie owns a business lot on Willamette street near Fifth, and will probably erect a home of its own on the lot some time in the near future.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 West Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters that I feel it my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at A. C. Marsters & Co's. drug store, 50c.

They Take the Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at A. C. Marsters & Co's. drug store, 25c.

F. W. BENSON RETURNS.

Hon. Frank W. Benson, secretary of state, passed through here on Wednesday afternoon's northbound flyer enroute to Salem from San Francisco, where he has been receiving X-Ray treatment for lupus, a malady resulting from the infection of a cold sore.

"All these reports sent out from Portland to the effect that I was on the verge of death are simply ridiculous," said the secretary to a Review reporter. "I can't imagine why they were circulated unless for some political purpose. I never enjoyed better health or felt better than I do right now."

OYSTER BEDS IN COOS BAY.

Unless present plans are interfered with, a native oyster bed will be planted in Coos Bay on or about the first of January, with a view of propagating the bivalves that at one time abounded here as is evidenced by the tons of oyster shells around the bay.

The announcement was made by Prof. A. R. Sweetser, state biologist, last evening, before the Chamber of Commerce, says the Marshfield Times.

"We have investigated the conditions pretty thoroughly here and believe conditions are favorable to the propagation of the oyster," said Mr. Sweetser. "The only doubt in our minds as to the advisability of experimenting with them is as to the cause of the destruction of the original oyster beds. If that is liable to be repeated at frequent intervals, it would be useless to experiment with them, but I don't believe it will. I am going to make a further examination of the bay and conditions here and we will know definitely about the matter by about January 1."

"The state will bear the expense of securing and planting the seed. I will make arrangements with parties owning the mud spots here for a small area to be used for the oyster. We will have to get the seed from the Puget sound. They will grow and propagate here while the eastern oyster will merely grow in size without propagation."

There is one thing we need and must have to make the experiment a success, and that will be the moral support of the people in seeing that poachers do not interfere with the oyster beds for at least four years. It will take about that long to give the oysters a start.

"If the experiment is a success, it will be a great thing for Coos Bay and for Oregon. The commercial possibilities of oyster culture are great. If we succeed in Coos Bay it is our plan to establish a dozen or so places in Oregon. At present Yaquina Bay is about the only place having many native oysters and they are rapidly being depleted there."

"As to the experiment station at Sunset Bay, it is coming along nicely. Mr. Simpson contributed a site for the research building, the lumber has been arranged for, and we will now have to arrange for the labor. Sunset Bay affords the finest location for studying all kinds of sea life of any north of San Diego. This will be the only station on the Oregon coast and will be a great advertisement for Coos Bay."

HINDUS ARE DEPORTED.

Commerce and Labor Department Rules Against Them.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—W. R. Wheeler, assistant secretary of the department of commerce and labor, today decided against the admission to this country of two Hindu British subjects who attempted to cross the line from Vancouver. They were detained by the United States inspectors and appealed to the department, claiming the detention was unjustified.

Wheeler holds that the Hindus are unable to speak the English language and are unable to do ordinary work. For these reasons he says they are undesirable.

The decision says that nearly all other classes of British subjects are welcome to this country.
