Cannery Bark Goes on Island Near Wrangel, Alaska

110 PERISH; 27 RESCUED

Captain Makes Grave Charge Against Tug Boats—Heavily Laden Trolley Cars Meet

Special to the Evening Review.
WRANGEL, Alaska, Sept. 23.—White men and Chinese to the number of 110 were swept to death when the cannery bark Star of Bengal broke to pieces on Coronation Island several nights ago. Twenty-seven of the crew, including Captain Wagner, were rescued and brought here physically wrecked from their terrible exposure and several of them have lost their reason.
Wagner applies the term of coward to the captains of the tugs Hattie Gage and Kayak, and says they should be in prison. He told how his vessel was allowed to drift on the rocks, while tugs stood by, making no effort at rescue until she began to pound to pieces. "And then," said Wagner, "they cut their lines and ran like dogs, leaving us to fight death alone. For hours we burned lights, something hit and I knew no more till I found myself on the beach."

Trolley Cars Collide.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—At least seven persons were fatally injured and 72 others seriously hurt when two trolley cars collided during a fog today on the Southwestern Traction line between Philadelphia and Chester. The cars, which were loaded with workmen, were running at a high rate of speed and neither motorman could see far ahead. Two of the fatally injured are the motormen. One lost both of his legs and the other lost one.

Shortage of Freight Cars.

ELKTON, Md., Sept. 23.—Fifteen cars of a freight train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad plunged into the Delaware river today when the east span of the bridge at Port Deposit collapsed. It is thought all of the crew escaped. The engine and one car had just crossed the span when it gave way.

Lucky Portland.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 23.—President Winchell, of the Rock Island railroad, stated here today that his road was not building to the coast, but to Portland.

Rollers Still on Earth.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 23.—"The Holy Rollers," a fanatical religious sect, are making so much disturbance in their hall that numerous complaints are reaching the police. Their hall is over an undertaker's parlors, the director of which says the disturbance interferes with funeral services. The "Rollers" remain in their hall for days at a time shouting and howling in strange tongues.

Methodist Conference Settles Down to Work in Salem.

Special to the Evening Review.
SALEM, Or., Sept. 23.—When State Senator R. A. Booth, of Eugene, appeared on the floor of the Oregon Methodist conference here today he was rendered a great ovation. Since the last conference, the Senator has been acquitted in the Federal Court at Portland on the charge of land fraud conspiracy, and the ministers here today manifested their delight over this by cheers and vigorous hand clapping.
Today the conference settled down to business. The following conference officers were elected: Rev. J. K. Hawkins, Roseburg, statistical secretary; M. W. Wire, Portland, secretary; James Moore, of Woodburn, treasurer; W. T. Kerr, Portland, railroad secretary, and G. O. Oliver, of Salem, postmaster.

J. C. Fullerton vs. County Court of Douglas County; appeal from an order of the defendant on Sept. 4, approving the appraisal of $200 for appellant and brother for a county road through their lands between Myrtle Creek and Canyonville.

Roosevelt's Proof of Haskell Charge Comes Tonight

HEARST SPRINGS NEW ONE

Nebraska's Governor Demands That Bank Guarantee Plank Go In G. O. P. Platform

Special to the Evening Review.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Loeb this afternoon announced that President Roosevelt is preparing to answer the telegram sent to him yesterday by W. J. Bryan, asking for proof of the charges that Treasurer Haskell, of the Democratic National committee, acted as an agent of the Standard Oil Company in an attempt to bribe Attorney General Monnett of Ohio. Owing to the length of the reply, Mr. Loeb said that it would probably not be given out before tonight.

Which Haskell is It?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—What may be the start of an investigation by Roosevelt into the charges against Governor Haskell began today when W. C. Haskell, a sealer of weights in the District of Columbia and formerly United States marshal in Ohio, called on the president. He said with him for a half hour. His significance is attached to this visit as this Haskell is mentioned by Governor Haskell as the man probably referred to by Attorney General Monnett in connection with the attempt to stop the prosecution of the Standard Oil Company by bribery.

Hearst Still Boring In.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The Hearst papers today print a story accusing Governor Haskell of having been involved in questionable transactions in New York in connection with the sale of stock in several railroads. According to the story, a New York broker holds accounts against Haskell for several hundred thousand dollars and that the alleged victims of the scheme are Bryan men, for which reason, assert the papers, nothing has been said about the deals.

Where Taft Has no Weight.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 23.—Chagrined over the smothering of a bank guarantee plank in the platform yesterday, the republican convention, in session here, is charging the big bankers of the state with a conspiracy to suppress it. Governor Sheldon, who has been renominated, today notified the convention that he will not remain on the ticket unless it is explicitly understood that he favors the guarantee of bank deposits if re-elected.

MR. BRYAN'S DEMAND.

Asks President Roosevelt for Investigation of Haskell.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 22.—The most sensational development in the present campaign was the sending today by W. J. Bryan, democratic candidate for president, of a telegram to President Roosevelt, demanding that he produce proof that Charles N. Haskell, of Oklahoma, treasurer of the democratic national committee, ever was connected with the Standard Oil Company. Seizing upon the opportunity thus afforded, Mr. Bryan took occasion to serve notice upon the President that he would not permit any responsible member of the republican organization to misrepresent the attitude of the democratic party in the present campaign, and, further, that the democratic party was making "an honorable and honest fight" in defense of its policies and that it expected and demanded fair and honorable treatment from those in charge of the republican campaign.

Copies of the telegram were given out for publication just before Mr. Bryan's departure for Ann Arbor late in the afternoon. Mr. Bryan spent five hours in consultation with his advisers before sending his telegram to the president in reply to the statement of Mr. Roosevelt, published this morning, in which the president indorsed the charges made against Mr. Haskell by W. R. Hearst that Mr. Haskell had been connected with the Standard Oil Company and had attempted to bribe Attorney General Frank S. Monnett, of Ohio. Up to late hour tonight the president has not replied to Mr. Bryan's telegram.

Mr. Bryan's telegram follows: "Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States—Dear Sir: In a statement given out by you yesterday and published in the morning's papers you indorse a charge made against Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, to the effect that he was connected with the Standard Oil Company, and as such employed was connected with an attempt to bribe or influence Attorney General

Monnett, of Ohio, to dismiss suits pending against the Standard Oil Company. In indorsing this charge you attack the democratic party and its candidate, saying that 'Governor Haskell stands high in the councils of his national campaign committee.' 'And you add that 'the publication of this correspondence not merely justified in striking fashion the action of the administration, but also casts a curious spotlight upon the attacks made upon the administration, both in the Denver convention, in which nominated Mr. Bryan, but in the course of Mr. Bryan's campaign.'

"Your charge is so serious that I cannot allow it to go unnoticed. Governor Haskell has denied that he was ever employed by the Standard Oil Company in any capacity or was ever connected in any way with it or the transaction upon which your charge is based.

Calls for Investigation.

"Governor Haskell demanded an investigation at the time the charge was first made, offering to appear and testify, and he demands an investigation now. I agree with you that if Governor Haskell is guilty as charged, he is unfit to be connected with the democratic national committee, and I am sure you will agree with me that if he is innocent he deserves to be exonerated from so damaging an accusation.

"As the selection of Governor Haskell as chairman of the committee on resolutions at Denver and as treasurer of the Democratic national committee has my approval and indorsement, I feel it my duty to demand an immediate investigation of the charge against him indorsed by the committee of the United States. Your high position, as well as your sense of justice, would prevent your giving sanction and circulation to such a charge without proof, and I respectfully request, therefore, that you furnish any proof which you have in your possession. If you have not proof, I request that you indicate a method by which the truth may be ascertained. Without consulting Mr. Haskell, I will agree that he will appear in public or private, which you may indicate, and I will further agree that his connection with the national committee and with this campaign shall cease in the event that the decision of such tribunal connects him in any way with the charge, or in case you, after an investigation of the facts, say that you believe him guilty of the charges made.

Allow no Misrepresentation.

"As the candidate of the democratic party, I shall not permit any responsible member of the republican organization to misrepresent the attitude of the democratic party during the campaign. I have assisted you to the extent of my ability in remedial measures which I deemed for the public good which you have undertaken; I have urged good democrats to support such measures, and I have advocated more radical measures against private monopolies than either you or your associates have been willing to undertake. The platform of the democratic party is clear and specific on this subject, as on other subjects, while the platform of the republican party is uncertain and evasive.

"The democratic candidate for Vice-President, Mr. Kern, joined with me in requesting the democratic national committee to fix a maximum of $10,000 for individual contributions, and to publish before the election all contributions above $100. The committee acted favorably on this request. The republican candidate and the republican national committee proposed no publication before the election, but publication after the election. I submit that our committee has given the better evidence of its freedom from connection with or obligation to the predatory interests.

"Our committee has not knowingly received a dollar from any corporation known as a trust and it will not receive any money from such. If any money is contributed by such persons without the knowledge of the committee, it will be returned as soon as the fact is discovered.

"The Democratic party is making an honest and honorable fight in defense of the principles and policies enunciated in its platform and it expects and will demand, fair and honorable treatment from those who are in charge of the republican campaign.

"With great respect, etc. Very truly yours, W. J. BRYAN."

Reception at Detroit.

Arriving here at 6:30 this morning Mr. Bryan was given a rousing reception. He was met by a big crowd at the station, and thousands of workers on the way to their places of employment cheered him as he proceeded in an automobile to the Point Chalmers Hotel.

"The journey to Ann Arbor was made in a special car, and upon his arrival here he was accorded a cordial greeting by the gathering of several thousand people. Mr. Bryan, according to a bulletin of the Cook County director, his remarks particularly to the effect that the republican government guarantee of bank deposits, the democratic party's attitude on the injunctive action, and on contempt of court, and severely criticized Mr. Taft for the characterization of the democratic platform plank on this question as insidiously drawn.

He declared that a presidential succession was scarcely more repugnant to free institutions than was a life tenure of the presidency.

Despotism Rules of House.

Mr. Bryan criticized the "despotism rules" of the House of Representatives, and asserted that the republican party had chosen for its vice-presidential candidate the man who stood next to Speaker Cannon in the enforcement of these rules.

Returning to Detroit, shortly after 6 o'clock, Mr. Bryan addressed a monster democratic rally in the Light Guard armory. Outside there were thousands who desired to hear the speech, but vainly, as the building was packed to the doors. He gave them a brief overflow talk. In both addresses he compared the platforms of the two parties.

WHAT REPUBLICANS SAY.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Governor Charles N. Haskell, of Oklahoma, the friend of William Jennings Bryan, author of the bank guaranty plank in the democratic national platform and treasurer of the national committee, packed his valise and took the fast east train he could find for his adopted state. Mr. Haskell will stay in the west for an indefinite time, two weeks at least, according to the statement of his associates who said matters in Oklahoma demanded his attention.

Too Heavy Load for Party.

The governor, accused by William R. Hearst of being an agent of the Standard Oil Company, had nothing more to say of the matter other than his proposal to settle the controversy by leaving it to the jury of five people picked by himself. The accepted slogan around democratic national headquarters is that Mr. Haskell has been sent into the retirement which Oklahoma affords, not for the benefit of his health, but for the good of the party. Nobody knows how long he is going to stay and nobody seems to care. He is regarded as too heavy a load for even Mr. Bryan to carry at this particular time, and the quicker he is got out of the limelight the better.

I. O. F. ELECTS OFFICERS.

DENVER, Sept. 22.—Judge W. L. Kuykendall, of Saratoga, Wyo., was elected deputy grand sire of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge today. This is the only office for which there was any contest. In accordance with custom, Deputy Grand Sire J. L. Nolen, of Tennessee, was promoted to the office of grand sire. All the other old officers were re-elected.

Seattle was unanimously chosen as the meeting place next year, Chicago withdrawing from the contest.

The annual prize drill for Patriots Militant took place at Broadway Park, this city today, in the presence of a large and enthusiastic assemblage of members of the order and friends.

Toronto and Toledo were the only contestants for the $1000 prize for a team of 24 men and three officers. Petaluma, Cal., had been forced to withdraw in consequence of the sickness of four members of its company. As a courtesy to the visitors, Denver refrained from competing.

HARRIMAN KEEPS PROMISE.

Representative at Coos Bay Getting Statistics and Data.

Marshfield Times: Col. W. H. Holabird, of San Francisco, is on Coos Bay for the purpose of securing data on the probable freight business in and out of Coos Bay to furnish to E. H. Harriman, who will use it to determine when he will build the Drain-Coos Bay line. Col. Holabird comes as Mr. Harriman's special representative, his visit being the result of the promise made by Mr. Harriman to Dr. E. Mings, Col. Wm. Grimes and J. E. Oren, the Coos Bay committee who visited the magnate a few weeks ago. He will remain as long as is necessary to gather the data required.

This morning, as soon as Col. Holabird had presented his letter of introduction to Dr. E. Mings, the statistical committee recently appointed by the Chamber of Commerce arranged to hasten the work of gathering the data required. This committee consists of Dr. E. Mings, J. E. Oren, Col. Wm. Grimes, F. S. Dow, L. J. Simpson and Peter Loggie. They have arranged to engage assistance in gathering this data and Mr. Brown, of Marshfield, and J. H. Diers, of North Bend, who are pretty familiar with the resources and traffic around there, will at once begin to gather the data. At a meeting of the committee Friday night, it was decided to arrange to secure the services of Mr. Diers, if possible. Mr. Reed, of the Umpqua, had promised Peter Loggie to furnish data concerning the probable business of the lower Umpqua Valley.

Of course, the data to be collected now by Col. Holabird will be merely as to the tonnage. As soon as these are secured, a freight rate expert will go over them and figure the business in dollars and cents and then the two reports of tonnage and freight receipts will be referred to Mr. Harriman who will pass on it. If he is satisfied that the income from the probable freight and passenger business will be sufficient to pay four per cent on the $5,000,000 which he claims it will cost to construct the 73 miles of road between Drain and Coos Bay, he will submit the matter to his board of directors and secure their sanction in ordering the construction of the line. This will probably take between two and three months.

THE CHOLERA SITUATION.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 22.—Up to noon today, the municipal hospitals reported for the preceding 24 hours 417 cholera cases and 176 deaths. There is a total of 1587 patients in the various hospitals.

That the municipal statistics are incomplete is conclusively proved by the number of interments. At one cemetery they aggregated 424 for the last three days, or within 20 of the total number of deaths reported.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of the prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for 20 years, although I am now 91 years of age."
