MAGNIN' THINGS.

(By Berta Hart Nance.)

What gives us all our splendid books, 'bout love and war and famous crooks? Some fellow sits and looks and looks, 'Maginin' things.

What makes young Tompkins whistle so And often to the florist's go, And smiling, greet a former foe? 'Maginin' things.

What makes Bill Bryan's smile so bright A mellow gleam of happy light? Does he, too, sit up late at night 'Maginin' things?—The Bohemian.

THAT "FORAKER SMILE."

Taft's Frantic Efforts to Side-Step That Toledo Incident.

By George T. Lynch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Candidate Taft's frantic efforts to clear his immaculate skirts from the defiling touch of Senator J. B. Foraker, because of the disclosure of the latter's connection with the Standard Oil company interests, are ludicrous in view of the public protestation of friendship of the two during the past month—one at Toledo on September 2, on the occasion of the G. A. R. parade, and again at Cincinnati, on September 10, where they held a 40-minute conference at Mr. Taft's headquarters, while a dozen doves of peace fluttered joyfully and the olive branch nodded approvingly. Senator Foraker's presence on that occasion was the result of a special invitation from Mr. Taft's campaign manager in Ohio, A. J. Vorys, of whom more anon. Mr. Vorys was a pension attorney years ago, and the records at the Washington office refer to him.

It will be difficult to convince the voters, not only of Ohio but the country at large, that neither Mr. Roosevelt nor his candidate knew of Senator Foraker's communications with the Standard Oil office until the publication of the correspondence.

That Taft-Foraker Picture.

Taft and Foraker shaking hands in the reviewing stand at Toledo on September 2, before an admiring, cheering multitude, taken by the sensitive camera, will make an excellent picture for the "advisory" board, Messrs. Hitchcock, Cromwell, Bliss, Sheldon, Du Pont et al., of the Republican national committee, to spread broadcast throughout the country with the caption spoken by Mr. Taft, "His Good enough for me."

Also it must today be very bitter for Mr. Taft to eat his words of September 10 after the Cincinnati conference, when he said:

"Senator Foraker and I are both very much vexed at the reports of friction between us. There is no occasion for such reports."

Also referring to the interview, Mr. Taft said:

"There has been a great deal of misrepresentation about the situation between Senator Foraker and myself. We discussed the general aspects of the campaign. Senator Foraker said he wanted to do all he could to bring about Republican success, and to call upon him when I needed him."

Senator Foraker's comment upon the conference was that "we had a very pleasant personal talk."

Mr. Taft had good reason to be grateful to "Joe" Foraker, and to desire his friendship, for it was Foraker who gave him his first big boost into the limelight, by making him a judge of the superior court of Cincinnati. Foraker was at that time governor of Ohio.

Mr. Roosevelt's Words.

According to Mr. Roosevelt's letter, Mr. Taft declined all overtures from the Foraker party in 1907—the proposed agreement being that Foraker would support Taft's candidacy for the presidency, if Mr. Taft and the other Ohio leaders would throw their strength to the senatorial aspirations of Foraker. Mr. Taft then said "that he would not consider for one moment any possible advantage to himself when what he regarded as a great principle was at stake." Those are Mr. Roosevelt's words. But in view of the peace pact of September 2, are the people of Ohio and the entire country to be deceived into believing that no "arrangement" was made either with Mr. Taft or his managers and Senator Foraker?

Can Mr. Roosevelt, who has deemed it necessary to rush to the aid of Mr. Taft explain it?

"Boss" Cox of Cincinnati with his new halo of virtue affixed by Mr. Taft and appointed by the latter head of the local committee, ordered thousands of the hand-shaking "he is good enough for me" lithographs for distribution. But what a change a week brought in the situation. The peace doves have been killed; the olive branches thrown in to the ash can and Senator Foraker pitched heading from Peach mountain into Despair gulch.

WANT OREGON FIR.

Finishing Material for Mansions of Big Railroad Men.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 29.—The Portland Commercial Club finished its new building with Oregon or Douglas fir, and in addition to this used this same exquisitely grained wood in making some high class permanent furniture for its main auditorium. Ninety out of ten visitors admit it more than they do mahogany. During the visit of E. H. Harriman he requested that samples be sent him for the consideration of his architects who are now building his country home, which will probably be the finest residence in America. Last Saturday President E. L. Winchell, of the Rock Island system, simply admitted this same wood. He gave notice to an official of the Harriman lines who was present that if he didn't hurry the Rock Island would have the first dining car or sleeper finished in the chief wood of the Pacific Northwest—of which there is sufficient yet left to turn out more and richer millionaires than has the iron and steel district of which Pittsburg is the center. Edward F. F. of Devonshire, England, member of the Society of British Royal Artists and of international reputation, heard so much about the beauties of the Pacific Northwest that he is now making a very leisurely stay in this region. The Columbia River, Crater Lake and other famous scenic attractions of the North Pacific coast, he says, have no equal.

A meeting of the representatives of all the Pacific coast commercial bodies will be held in San Francisco on Monday, October 5th. There will be delegates in attendance from several of the important organizations of Washington and Oregon. On Tuesday morning opens in the same city for a five days' session the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, which is giving promise of being one of the most successful gatherings of that industrial body. Delegations from Washington and Oregon are materially increased by the fact that the congress has held meetings in both Portland and Seattle.

Don't allow the political campaign now on to make you overlook the colonist rates in effect during September and October, and remember that your friends and acquaintances throughout the older states are come to any part of the Pacific Northwest on one-way tickets at less cost now than at any time during the coming winter.

Vancouver, Washington, one of the old pioneer towns made famous by having General Grant and General Sherman located at the Harborside there, is giving some of its newer towns a sample of civic enterprise. Not satisfied with putting down hard-surface pavements, on last Saturday they celebrated the completion of an electric street railway system which reaches well into the suburbs.

R. A. BOOTH GIVES $15,000.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., Sept. 29.—Ex-State Senator Robert A. Booth, who has given so many magnificent gifts to Willamette, has announced through Dr. Fletcher Homan, president of Willamette, that he will give $15,000 as a starter for the second $100,000 endowment. At present $100,000 of the endowment has been raised. On condition that the first $100,000 was raised, two loyal Willamette men agreed to give $25,000 each on the next $150,000, which would make the endowment reach a quarter of a million. The gift of Senator Booth starts the movement which is expected to result in that amount being raised. During the session of the Oregon conference Senator Booth gave $5000 to an irreducible conference claimants fund, making $45,000 in all that he has given during the last week. When the Senator appeared on the floor of the conference to plead the cause of Willamette more strongly he was given an ovation that brought tears to his eyes.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle wrapper and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and the most delicate and purest of children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. Much better than any other medicine for children and necessary for the medicinal purposes used in them. Contains:—Glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its operative stages it will relieve the most distressing if it is used perseveringly. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal Passages, it is well while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchitis, throat and lung affections, caused by consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy. It is especially useful in the treatment of chronic coughs caused by irritation and inflammation of the bronchial mucous membrane. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most valuable remedy for the cure of sudden colds, may be used to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but it will obtain chronic coughs which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption. It is the best medicine that can be taken.

STUNG; DIES IN 10 MINUTES.

Colfax Woman, 55 Years Old, Succumbs in Great Agony.

COLFAX, Wash., Sept. 29.—The sting of a bee proved fatal to Mrs. Caroline Howar, aged 55, a pioneer resident of Whitman county, at her home in Spring Flat, five miles south of Colfax, yesterday. Mrs. Howar stepped from the house to bid her children goodbye as they were leaving for Colfax. A bee from a nearby hive settled on her hand, stinging her near the base of the thumb. She grew violently ill and her children assisted her to the house, where she died ten minutes later, before medical aid could reach her. It is not known whether the shock superinduced heart failure.

Where Bullets Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at A. C. Marsters & Co's drug store.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

The last half of taxes due for the year of 1907 will be delinquent after Monday, October 5, 1908.

Delinquent taxpayers will not take notice that delinquent taxes will not be advertised as heretofore; under a law passed by the last legislature of this state taxes that are delinquent after the expiration of six months from the first date of such delinquency may be paid by any one demanding to pay same and a certificate of delinquency will be issued to such party.

Section 37, of said law, in part, reads: "Any day after the expiration of six months after taxes charged against real property are delinquent, and it shall be his duty, upon demand and payment of the taxes, penalty and interest, to make out and issue a certificate or certificates of delinquency against such property."

"Certificates of delinquency shall bear interest from the date of issuance until redeemed at the rate of 15 per cent per annum."

Delinquent taxpayers are therefore advised that if they have not paid at least one-half of their taxes on or before the first Monday in April that the same are delinquent and have been delinquent since said first Monday in April and those who have paid one-half of their taxes as above the remaining one-half will become delinquent after the first Monday in October, and six months from such date a certificate of delinquency bearing fifteen per cent interest per annum may be issued against your property.
