Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers, rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used.

Rather than make a defense against a hopeless contest, A. S. Frey, the local grocer, this morning withdrew his application at the United States land office in this city for the purchase of a timber claim on Lees Creek, 13 miles northeast of Myrtle Creek. The claim contains over 4,000,000 feet of timber and is situated in what is known as the Lees Creek mining district. The contestants were Wm. Lough, Edward Lough, W. G. H. Dixon and Presley Thompson, all of this city, who jointly own a mining claim on the land which Frey applied for. This case is the forerunner of a number of contests over claims in the Lees Creek district. Several parties who have applied for either homestead or timber tracts in the district, admit that prospecting has been carried on there for many years, but contend that during all that time the yield of mineral has been little or nothing.

Deputy Sheriff "Bun" Ryan captured a pair of "drunks"—a cook and a butcher—near the S. P. freight depot and locked them up in the county jail. The trip to the jail was not without incident, however. At H. D. May's meat market the drunken pair broke the glass panel of a door, and further on in their journey they attacked Ryan, but were sorry for it a few moments later. Although this case is within the jurisdiction of the city, it will be made a subject of investigation by the grand jury of the circuit court which convenes next week. Heretofore and since prohibition went into effect last July, the city authorities, in dealing with cases of drunkenness, merely imposed fines and apparently made no effort to find out where the liquor was obtained. The county authorities and District Attorney Brown have decided, however, that it is high time the local option law was being enforced in this city, and the arrest of the two "drunks" by Ryan this morning is the first move on their part toward that end.

Where Bullets Flew. David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done us worth more than five hundred dollars. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at A. C. Marsters & Co's drug store.
