HOW TO RUN A BUSINESS.

The many failures among retailers are, it is believed, partly due to the fact that so few really understand the principles upon which a successful business is built. Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr., of national fame, says the five points of trade are as follows: 1. Something to sell. 2. A place to sell it. 3. Proper business management and a sufficient working capital. 4. Good salesmanship and efficient, courteous employees. 5. ADVERTISING.

Seven carloads of pears were shipped this season from one orchard near Oakland. That's going some.

We hear that Mayor Hoover will be out of politics hereafter. Really, we had suspected something of the kind ourselves.

"Douglas County for Red Apples" is a good "liner" to put on your stationery. Don't overlook it. Be a booster.

Don't forget those choice samples of fruit and vegetables you expect to add to the Commercial Club's exhibit in the new building at the S. P. depot. Remember, the Club is offering $50 in cash prizes for the best exhibits brought in.

That session of the Oregon Idaho Development Congress, combined with a general good roads meeting to be held in Roseburg on Oct. 23-24, should be made an important occasion and attended by everybody who is interested in the advancement of this portion of our state.

Do you realize what pure blooded livestock is doing for Douglas county? Take a look at that beautiful array of prizes in Salzman's window. They were won by F. E. Alley's blooded horses at the recent Salem and Portland fairs, in what were practically national competitions.

Mr. Schloemann says that with paved streets in Roseburg he must get some revenue out of his property. Therefore he is arranging to erect thereon a substantial, modern two-story and basement building of brick or reinforced concrete. A good example which doubtless a number of others will follow. Street paving pays in a number of ways and Mr. Schloemann will doubtless realize good results on his investment.

Dealers in fruit trees report a splendid business this year, showing that more orchards than ever before in one season will be planted in Oregon during this fall and the coming winter. Indeed, it is stated that the nursery stocks will probably be entirely exhausted before the planting season is over. This is gratifying in that it means that this county and state will be receiving a greatly increased revenue from fruit exports a few years hence, resulting in a corresponding growth in wealth and population.

THE "FIRING" HAS ONLY BEGUN.

Portland Journal: When Chairman Hitchcock gets rid of Treasurer Sheldon and Attorney Cromwell and Committee Dupont, Penrose and Crane, and most of the rest, and Roosevelt fires Cortelyou, we may begin to believe that the trusts are not for Taft.

SALEM KNOWS A GOOD THING.

Salem Statesman: Preliminary action has been taken by the city council to pave next year a district practically as large as the district already paved and a system has been arranged linking the old with the proposed district which will give Salem a series of streets unequalled by any city of this size in the Northwest. The proposed pavement includes about 15 blocks and while covering nearly as much ground as the pavement of this year, will cost only about half as much money, at a random estimate the cost to be about $100,000.

ELECTION IN GEORGIA.

New Democratic Governor Far From Popular With Party.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 7.—Georgia voters are today going through the formality of a state election, as the result of which "Little Joe" Brown will become governor-elect to succeed Hoke Smith. The real fight was in the Democratic primaries, when Brown defeated Smith for the nomination, and today's battle of ballots is a perfunctory proceeding. Joseph Brown, Georgia's next governor, while a man of wealth and influence, was but little known among the people at large when his candidacy against the popular Hoke Smith was first announced. In many quarters his ambition was derided and jeered, and it was thought he had no chance against Smith. The latter was elected governor on a radical platform which provided for state-wide prohibition, stringent regulation of railroads and corporations, negro disfranchisement and other popular measures.

It was alleged during the primary campaign that Brown had the support of the railroads and liquor interests, and after the votes had been counted and Brown declared the successful candidate, the friends of Smith made charges of wholesale frauds and asserted that trainloads of men from Knoxville, Chattanooga and other places had been brought into the state to vote for Brown. All of these allegations are denied by Brown and his friends, who declare that the voters had tired of Smith and his "hypocritical" prohibition, corporation-baiting program.

Horrible revelations of cruelty and graft in connection with the operation of the convict lease system, disclosed by a legislative investigating committee, have caused a ferment in the state and a demand for the abolition of the system is being made. Although Brown is certain of election, it is likely that the vote will be smaller than usual. The breach in Democratic ranks caused by the primary fight between Brown and Smith has probably stayed away from the polls to express their displeasure at the nomination of Brown.

"DOWN WITH ABSINTHE."

France Begins War on Subtle Drink That is Filling Madhouses.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—"Down with the green monster!" was the battlecry of thousands of men, women and children who marched through the boulevards of gay, careless Paris today, and thence to the great auditorium in the Rue de Voltaire, where the first National Convention for the Suppression of Absinthe was opened. Financiers and artisans, poets, scavengers, scientists, physicians, washerwomen—all classes and professions were represented in the great throng which gathered in the building dedicated to the greatest of Frenchmen, Voltaire, to declare war on the death upon the green monster which holds France in its baleful grasp.

President Fallieres has expressed his sympathy with the anti-absinthe movement, and scores of members of parliament were present at the meeting. The Socialists, now strong in France, have made absinthe prohibition a party issue, and the other parties will probably have to follow suit to escape public indignation. At today's meeting prominent physicians declared that the absinthe urge is directly responsible for the "race suicide" and laxity of family life which threatens in time to depopulate France, and that unless the urge is vanquished it will only be a matter of a few years until France loses its place as the center for the world's art, literature and culture.

Bankers, brokers, merchants, publicists, statesmen, physicians and moralists are all joining their support to the campaign, and not less than 115 members of the Senate are joined together by a signed pledge to keep up the warfare until success crowns their efforts, whether this comes in the present session or not.

In connection with their crusade the agitators are circulating reproductions of a painting by a celebrated French artist, "In a Madhouse." Here are shown the victims of the absinthe habit, committing all the grotesque and pitiable extravagances of delirium, declaiming, fighting, weeping, begging, rolling on the ground, seeking to dislodge imaginary enemies and giving themselves up to the last extremes of hallucination.

It is no exaggeration to say that in a Paris a huge section of the population lives for absinthe alone. All classes are victims of the habit, the wealthy man no less than the poor artisan. Thousands of denials for the sake of absinthe fill all parts of the

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend a certain strength of medicine, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowels, affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections, and their residuals, as bronchitis, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandarin root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholin, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley, of Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of other equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

"The Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for the purpose that has any such powerful combination of ingredients. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach, as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native medicinal roots and is safe and reliable. A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities endorsing its use is sent gratis on request. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TIMBER CENSUS.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The National Conservation Commission has caused the first comprehensive attempt at the census of the standing timber in the United States ever undertaken. The commission needs the information to help complete its inventory of the country's natural resources which it will include in its report to the President, and since that report is to be submitted on the first day of next year, it needs the information at once. In consequence the work on the census has been started with a rush and is now well under way. Estimates as to the amount of standing timber in the United States range all the way from $22,862,000,000 to 2,000,000,000,000 board feet, a difference of more than a trillion feet in the views of the best qualified authorities in the country.

In the opinion of the forest service, the most carefully prepared estimates yet made are those of Henry Gannett, published by the 12th census of 1900, which placed the total stumpage at 1,290,000,000 board feet. Mr. Gannett was recently chosen by the President to compile all the information gathered for the commission. The census is expected to give an accurate basis for computing how long our timber supplies will last.

The consensus of opinion is that the present annual consumption of wood is about 100,000,000,000 board feet, or something more than that. A leading authority has placed it as high as $15,000,000,000 board feet. Assuming that stumpage of 1,400,000,000,000 board feet, an annual use of 100,000,000,000 board feet and neglecting growth in the calculation, the exhaustion of our timber supply is indicated in 14 years, and assuming the same use and stand with an annual growth of 40,000,000,000 board feet, a supply for 23 years is indicated.

"SALOME" OH, SUNNO!

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 7.—A moving picture production of "Salome" at a benefit performance for the Fort Worth Federation of Women's Clubs? Decidedly no. The benefit is set for next Monday night, and when the manager of the theatre suggested a canvasback "Salome" as an attraction certain to pack the house and cause every man in town to fight for the privilege of buying a ticket for admission, he little dreamed of the storm he would raise. The clubwomen raised their hands in horror at the suggestion and put their feet down so emphatically upon the proposition that it was immediately squelched. The proceeds of the benefit, minus "Salome", will go to Emergency Home, as will those of a racing matinee and horse show to be held by the clubwomen at the Fort Worth fair grounds this afternoon.
