Stewart and Wright, the up-to-date insurance agents, issue "burglary" and "hold-up" policies. You had better see them while the bad man is at large in this vicinity.

Stewart and Wright, the local real estate agents, inform us of the receipt by them of notice from the Board of Fire Underwriters to the effect that insurance rates on dwellings and private stables were reduced on Sept. 21 in Roseburg and 14 other Oregon cities. The rate on dwellings is now 50 cents per hundred instead of 60 cents. On the private stables the rate per hundred is $1.10, as against $1.50 formerly.

The biggest stock of Vermont marble ever received in Roseburg is now on display at W. E. Marsters' shop, foot of Jackson street. Give him a chance to figure on your work and he will satisfy you.

HOW STREET PAVING PAYS.

Engene Guard: Dogs paving pay the property owner? The Guard said it would be a good investment when the improvement was first talked of; that it would boom values and be the first real step in the building of a city. How well this prediction has been verified is common knowledge, evidence of its fulfillment appearing on every hand. Only yesterday a property owner who had mildly object to paving said to the editor of The Guard: "The lease on a business room I rent for $45 a month will expire in January, and I can get $100 a month for it after that."

The pavement in front of that building cost $150, and it will take but a little over two months for the additional rent to pay for it. Did paving pay that property owner? Has it paid the property owners generally when really in the paved district has increased 50 per cent in value in the past two years?

For Chronic Diarrhoea.

"While in the army in 1862 I was taken with chronic diarrhoea," says George M. Pelton, of South Gibson, Pa. "I have since tried many remedies but without any permanent relief, until Mr. A. W. Miles, of this place, persuaded me to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, one bottle of which stopped it at once." For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.

MAKES ASTONISHING CURES.

Mi-ona Tablets Cure Dyspepsia by Promptly Removing the Cause, or Money Back.

Dyspepsia cannot be cured by taking a digester, such as pepsin because pepsin simply digests your food artificially, and not all of the food either, for it has no effect at all on starchy food, such as potatoes, rice, oatmeal, bread, etc.

There is just one way to cure dyspepsia and stomach disorders, trivial or serious, and that is to tone up or put energy into the stomach walls, so that they will be able to properly mix or churn the food.

Mi-ona tablets cure stomach troubles by putting strength and energy into the stomach. They quickly arouse the stomach from its inaction, and in a short time it is able to do its work properly.

Mi-ona is successfully used in vomiting of pregnancy, in car and sea sickness.

And bear in mind that when the stomach is in good condition, constipation disappears, also nervousness, drowsiness, night sweats, heartburn, etc.

The Red Cross Pharmacy sells Mi-ona tablets at 50 cents a large box, under a rigid guarantee to do all that is claimed for them, or money back.

TREAT FOR ROSEBURG.

John H. Hill, chairman of the Chicago No-License Committee, will deliver an address at the M. E. church on Friday evening, October 9, at 7:30. He is a prominent Chicago lawyer.

His lecture will be on "Neal Day." He will give a masterful argument for the prohibition of the liquor traffic. His logic is invincible and his arguments show him to be a great scholar. This will be the only address he will make in Oregon. He goes from here direct to Tacoma. Hear him Friday night.

THE HERMANN TRIAL.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 7.—Tracy C. Becker, special assistant to the attorney general, who is to be associated with United States District Attorney John McCourt in trying the case known as the Richard D. Jones, or Los Angeles land fraud hearing, arrived from the south this morning.

Mr. Becker was in San Francisco several days, and conferred with Francis J. Heney, relative to the Blager Insurance case, which has been set down for hearing November 9, in the federal court in Portland. This is one of the cases Mr. Heney is to come to Portland to try himself.

Owing to the fact that four weeks have already been taken up in the Ruff case in San Francisco and a jury not yet secured, Mr. Heney was not certain whether he could be here by November 9. In the event that Mr. Heney is not able to get away from the graft prosecution in San Francisco on the date set for the Hermann trial, the case will be postponed.

Why Colds are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.

Mrs. Ella Patterson is visiting in Portland.

Miss Anna Berks, of Edenhower, will teach the fall term of school at Green's, beginning last Monday.

Mrs. M. Dennison, of Salem, is visiting here with Mrs. C. W. Parks, also with her father at the Soldiers' Home.

Frank Clements, the contractor and builder, went out to Rice Creek, beyond Gillard, today to begin the erection of a new residence for Rice Bros.

Next Sunday Rev. Joseph E. Burkhardt, the popular pastor of the North Bend church, will preach in the First Presbyterian church in Roseburg. Both he and Mrs. Burkhardt are enthusiastic musicians.

Afflicted With Sore Eyes For 33 Years.

I have been afflicted with sore eyes for 33 years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. C. Earls, Cynthiana, Ky. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by Hamilton Drug Co.

A large number of local Elks went to Oakland today to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Phil Beckley, her husband being a member of the lodge. The visiting lodges are F. W. Haynes, Frank Kennedy, W. H. Fisher, L. Wimberly, B. A. Hunsacker, W. W. Cardwell, H. Marks, Sam Josephson, Roy McCallen, Otis Fisher, C. H. Cannon, W. B. Hammett and R. W. Terrell. Messrs. Terrell, McCallen and Cannon and Mrs. Louise Smick, of Myrtle Creek, also went over.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the small of the back, and is quickly cured by applying Chamberlain's Liniment two or three times a day and massaging the parts at each application. For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.

SURFACING OF ROADS

An Excellent Foundation is a Prime Necessity.

MUST BE FREE FROM WATER

Provision Should Be Made For Thorough Drainage—How to Roll the Foundation—Materials to Use For Surfacing Rural Highways.

Before a finishing surface of any material is applied to a road all the preliminary work should be completed. The road should have been graded, drains provided and the road made safe by proper guard rails. With all this done, the dirt road is a foundation for the different materials that may be put upon it.

For country roads there need be considered only pavements that are put on in small fragments. The materials most commonly used are gravel and broken stone. Oyster shells and slag from iron furnaces are oftentimes employed in localities where these materials are at hand, while under certain conditions, when no other materials could be obtained, burnt clay has proved serviceable. The object of a pavement is to furnish a wearing surface for the road and a protection for the foundation from water and consequent softening. It is in reality a roof.

When dry, all but the very sandy soils are firm enough to support the weight of wagons of all kinds, but when wet little support is furnished. It is well known that sand when confined will stand any pressure that can be put upon it. Thus if a sandy roadbed is covered with a surfacing material which will hold the sand in place an excellent foundation is obtained. While a surfacing material is designed to take the wear, it is the foundation that must resist the pressure, and any road which is constructed without giving due attention to the foundation is wrong from the start and never will be a good road until the defect is remedied. To prepare a natural roadbed for surfacing material it is necessary to bring it to a proper grade and to conform its cross section with that of the finished surface—that is, no surfacing should be put upon a roadbed which is flat or, as is oftentimes the case, lower in the middle than at the sides. In such instances the proper shape should be given to the roadbed by filling in with such material as is necessary and then rolling the whole until it becomes firm and unyielding.

During the course of construction of a roadbed, if there are places that have a wet, springy subsoil, they must be drained and every precaution taken to make the foundation of the road dry. The pavement will keep water from going through from the top, but it will not keep water from percolating into the foundation from springs at the sides or underneath. Therefore where there is danger of water getting to the foundation from the sides or from below it must be cut off either by side drains or by drains directly underneath the road itself. Where the soil is too light, gravelly or sandy earth should be carted in to take its place.

With the roadbed brought up to grade and provision made for thorough drainage it is then compacted by rolling either by horse or steam power. In the rolling of the foundation perhaps quite as good results can be obtained with a horse roller as with a steam roller, and in some loose soils much less difficulty will be experienced, although more rolling will be required to compact the earth as firmly as by the heavier steam roller. This is a part of the work that is too often slighted and is the cause of depressions subsequently appearing in the finished road. The rolling of the foundation will bring out the weaker places, where there will be a settling. The depressions should be filled and brought to an even surface with gravel if it is at hand. It is cheaper to even up depressions by rolling the foundation than by attempting to smooth the finished surface with additional broken stone. When the foundation has been rolled and all unevenness has disappeared it is then ready to receive the surfacing.

It oftentimes happens when grading a particular piece of road preparatory to surfacing it with broken stone that it is necessary to do considerable heavy filling. In such instances it may be advisable to delay the laying of macadam for some time in order to give the embankments time to settle, for it is impossible to construct an embankment of earth more than a few feet in height without having subsequent settlement. If this settling took place evenly all along the embankment, no particular harm would be done to the surfacing laid upon it, but owing to the difference in the soils composing embankments and also the way the earth is dumped there is always a tendency for some parts to settle more than others.

If there arise circumstances making it impracticable to wait for the embankment to "season," every precaution should be taken in its formation to guard against uneven settling. This can be done by spreading the earth in successive layers of about a foot in thickness, which are rolled or tamped as solid as possible. Another advantage in delaying the surfacing of a newly graded road is that a chance is given to observe the action under frost of certain sections and so provide additional underdrain, which if omitted might have caused a failure in that portion of the macadam.
