Splendid Name Suggested For Our County's Product

SURVEY OF ELECTRIC ROAD

From Roseburg to the Coast is in Prospect—W. H. Richardson Boosts For Douglas County

W. H. Richardson has returned from San Francisco, where he attended the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress as a representative of the Roseburg Commercial Club. He reports very interesting sessions and which he believes will result in a large amount of good toward the advancement of the interests of the Pacific coast states.

For Electric Railway. Mr. Richardson was at all times fully alive in looking toward promoting the interests of this county. He had a long personal interview with a competent civil engineer who had a prominent part in the work of building the Shore Line of railroad from San Francisco to Santa Cruz.

Placing of exhibits in the new permanent exhibit building at the depot was commenced Friday afternoon. While only a few products had then arrived, passengers from the north-bound train flocked into the building and wanted to buy some of those fine "Douglas Apples."

to Coos Bay and examine a route from there to Roseburg for an electric road. Having had the practical experience as above mentioned, our people should give this gentleman every reasonable encouragement toward forwarding of this enterprise, upon his arrival here.

Among other matters, Mr. Richardson found a rapidly growing demand for Oregon apples. In this line Douglas county is rapidly coming to the front in the line of turning out the choicest product, and the yields here are simply immense, with proper care and attention. The Watsonville district, near Santa Cruz, Calif., seems to be an active rival in that regard, but as that section has Douglas county will eventually win out as a heavy yet economical producer.

While in San Francisco Mr. Richardson also had placed before him an attractive proposition for having Douglas county and especially "Douglas Apples" advertised in the January number of Sunset Magazine, to occupy the entire back cover page, printed in four colors, the edition to have a circulation of 125,000 copies.

Placing of exhibits in the new permanent exhibit building at the depot was commenced Friday afternoon. While only a few products had then arrived, passengers from the north-bound train flocked into the building and wanted to buy some of those fine "Douglas Apples."

Now help Roseburg grow.

FIRES STILL RAGE

Loss in Northwest Michigan Will be Enormous

2,000 FAMILIES HOMELESS

Martin Jury at Portland Still Out—Balloon of Two Missing Men Picked up at Sea

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 17.—Forest fires are today sweeping uncontrolled through the northwestern counties of Sheboygan, Presque Isle, Alpena and the Lower Peninsula. Fanned by a steady southwest wind, the flames are destroying great areas of timber hourly. Alpena City, on Thunder Bay, is again threatened with destruction, and the town of Sheboygan, on the south channel of Mackinac Strait, is menaced from the three land sides.

ALPENA, Mich., Oct. 17.—It is estimated this afternoon that at least 2,000 families have been rendered homeless by the great forest fires of the past three days. The number of deaths total 41 and upwards of 300 people have been injured. The property losses will aggregate millions of dollars. The fire can be seen over an area of 100 square miles from Hubbard Lake.

Two Perish in a Fire. SHIRLEY, Ind., Oct. 17.—Two persons were burned to death and 25 buildings destroyed in a fire here today. The dead are E. M. Prior and wife, who perished while asleep in their restaurant.

Martin Jury Still Out. PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 17.—The

Jury in the case of Edward H. Martin, charged with the murder of Nathan Wolf, had reported no verdict at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon, after being out 24 hours. It is rumored that the jury will either disagree or return a compromise verdict.

Probable Murder. PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 17.—With a bad wound on his head and his body badly bruised, Jack Nugent, an old and well known resident of Portland, was picked up dead beneath the dock of the Willamette Steel Works, at the foot of Everett Street, today. Nugent had been missing since last Saturday. It appears to be a plain case of murder, and the police are investigating.

Scriber Under Bonds. LA GRANDE, Ore., Oct. 17.—Jefferson W. Scriber, cashier of the defunct Farmers and Traders' National Bank of La Grande, was arraigned at 10 o'clock last night before United States Commissioner Bailey and held to the federal grand jury on a charge of embezzlement. He furnished bonds of $15,000. The arraignment occurred in Scriber's home, he being too ill to travel.

Answers Bell; Stugged. WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 17.—Called to answer the hall bell, Enoch Euerick was hit from behind and felled by two men in a lodging house last night. The thugs then searched him, securing $22.

An Aeronaut's Fate. YARMOUTH, Eng., Oct. 17.—The death of Lieut. Koertsch and Prof. Hummel, of the missing German balloon, Hergelzeil, is practically assured by the arrival here today of the Norwegian steamship Nadded, bringing the deflated balloon, which was picked up, half submerged, 100 miles northwest of Heligoland. There is a bare possibility that the wrecked aeronauts have been picked up by some vessel. The last note dropped from the balloon announced a height of 2100 meters.

Turmoil in Belgrade. BELGRADE, Serbia, Oct. 17.—A mob of Servians attempted to lynch the local correspondent of a Vienna paper today and attacked a number of Austrian residents. The city is again in a turmoil and the police are powerless.

How to Clean Straw Hats. To clean a white millan or a split straw scrub with toothbrush or nail brush dipped in a weak solution of oxalic acid and water, then with clean water, not wetting more than necessary. Then scatter precipitate of sulphur and lay in the sun. Brush off with a clean brush when dry and your hat will be clean and white.

How to Fill Up Holes in Wood. It sometimes becomes necessary to fill up cracks or dents in fine woodwork, furniture, floors, etc. The following is the best way of doing it: White tissue paper is steeped and perfectly softened in water and by thorough kneading with glue transformed into a paste and by means of ochres (earth colors) colored as nearly as possible to the shade of the wood. To the paste calcined magnesia is then added, and it is forced into the cracks or holes. This cement attaches itself very firmly to the wood and after drying retains its smooth surface.

Afflicted With Sore Eyes For 33 Years. I have been afflicted with sore eyes for 33 years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. C. Ennis, Cynthia, Ky. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by Hamilton Drug Co.

Arguments to Jury in Falbe Case Concluded

JURY RETIRED AT 3:50 P. M.

Battle For Custody of Boy Commenced—Large Batch of Orders Made in Civil Cases

- JURY IN LIQUOR CASE. T. J. Butcher, Canyonville. R. T. Blakely, Oak Creek. Robt. Woodruff, Melrose. J. Harding, Glendale. Wm. Wise, Drain. W. F. Hodges, Looking Glass. A. W. Lamb, Yoncalla. J. W. Wise, Yoncalla. J. A. Kanipe, Yoncalla. J. L. Thornton, Oakland. Thos. Weaver, Canyonville. Patrick Murphy, Coles Valley.

Trial of the case of J. Falbe, a Roseburg restaurant keeper, for alleged violation of the local option liquor law, was begun this morning in the circuit court before the above-named jurors. Being the first prosecution here under that law since it went into effect on the first of last July the case has occasioned more than ordinary interest. Of the jurors accepted all are farmers, except Mr. Harding, who is a merchant at Glendale. Before completing the jury seven jurors were excused by either the prosecution or the defense, some of the talesmen being questioned at considerable length by the attorneys before being accepted or excused. Excused by the state were C. J. Denning and F. W. Dillard, of Roseburg, and S. S. Morrison, of Peel. Excused by the defense were T. C. Cobb and B. S. Nichols, of Roseburg, and J. H. Redifer, of Myrtle Creek. After a long series of questioning by the defense C. L. Hadley was challenged for cause, and after further interrogation by Judge Hamilton was excused by the court. The attorneys for the defense are A. N. Orcutt and W. W. Cardwell, and for the state are Dist. Atty. Geo. M. Brown and Elbert Herrmann. Witnesses were excluded from the court room during the trial.

After brief statements of their respective sides of the case by Messrs. Brown and Orcutt, the state opened by calling to the witness stand Fred DuRobin, who is said to be a detective employed by the anti-saloon league of Portland. DuRobin carried with him to the witness box a medium sized telescope valve from which he took four bottles of what appeared to be whiskey, which he testified he had at various times procured at the restaurant of the defendant, J. Falbe, in Roseburg, during the month of August, 1908. A certified copy of the county election returns and of the order of the county court putting into effect the local option law in this county was offered in evidence and admitted by the court, over the objections of the attorneys for the defense.

Under the questioning of Dist. Attorney Brown, the witness, Mr. DuRobin, told how he procured a certain bottle of whiskey at Falbe's restaurant on the evening of August 17, 1908, and as witnesses to the transaction cited the names of Dee Howard and Preston Turnell, two reputable young men of this city. Under direction of the district attorney the witness opened the bottle and tasted the contents in the presence of the jury, so there would be no question as to the nature of the contents. This bottle had been labaled by the witness with the place and date on which it had been procured. The witness testified that he had himself written and pasted on this label as soon as he reached his room after the bottle of liquor had been procured. Also that he had personally had his clothing and person searched by Howard and Turnell before the three went into the restaurant, so that it could be proven that he had no liquor of any kind with him before he had told Falbe about five o'clock that afternoon that he wanted to get some whiskey when he came in for supper about six o'clock. Upon going to supper he took a seat at the lunch counter at a place back near the wash room. A little later, according to his testimony, Falbe told the witness that he could not ship him with a 25 cent bottle, but could let him have a 50-cent bottle. He replied, "all right." A little later Falbe came in and attracted his attention by a slight touch, took the bottle out of his pocket and set it on the floor just inside the wash room partition, as he had done on previous occasions, by another motion directed attention to its whereabouts and passed out. Finishing his meal the witness procured the bottle of liquor at the place indicated, paid both for it and his meal so the waiter in attendance, went outside and a little later showed the bottle to Howard and Turnell, who while in the restaurant had watched the proceedings from different points about the lunch counter.

Upon cross-examination by Atty. W. W. Cardwell, the witness, DuRobin, stated that he was employed as a private detective by Rev. J. H. Knodell, of Portland, on behalf of the anti-saloon league of Oregon. That he was paid a salary by Rev. Knodell for that work and reported only to him. Testified that in pursuance of his work in obtaining evidence of violations of the local option law he had visited Roseburg, Falls City, Dallas, Independence, Krieb's hop yards, La Grande, Hot Lake, Hillsboro and Kamela. That he worked for a salary and was not paid commissions for indictments or convictions. When asked why he had gone to Mr. Falbe for liquor upon his arrival in town or soon thereafter, he said he had been told by S. J. Jones, and later by Louis Steinbach, that they thought he could get whiskey at Falbe's. Persistent questioning failed to bring out any material variation of the testimony as to how the liquor was procured. The bottle as labeled was admitted as evidence in the case by the court.

Statements Conflict. The statements of Howard and Turnell on the witness stand conflicted in some respects, but probably not at any great expense to the prosecution. Howard testified that Mr. Falbe brought what appeared to be the bottle of whiskey into the wash room and delivered it to DuRobin. Turnell, on the other hand, swore that Falbe placed the liquor beside DuRobin at the lunch counter. Howard did not remember just where he and Turnell searched DuRobin upon leaving the restaurant, but he thought it was somewhere on Cass street. Turnell stated positively that they searched DuRobin on the lane school grounds, which is at the north end of Stephens street. Again, Howard testified that DuRobin did not pay Falbe in person for the liquor, but gave the money to a male waiter. The statement of Turnell, in positive tones, was that DuRobin paid Falbe himself and that the latter also placed the money in the cash register. The discrepancy in these latter statements was so palpable that District Attorney Brown made an effort to rectify by recalling Turnell to the witness stand in the afternoon. Turnell then stated that he might have been mistaken about the identity of the person whom DuRobin paid, explaining that he had never seen Falbe before the evening of the alleged offense. DISASTERS AT SEA

Typhoon on China Coast Wipes Out Over 300 Lives

FLEET AT YOKOHAMA SUNDAY

Steamer Collision in Puget Sound Badly Injures Passengers, But No Lives Were Lost

Special to the Evening Review. AMOY, China, Oct. 17.—Reports received here from Changchow say about 300 persons were killed on Thursday by the typhoon which swept the southern ports of China. The gales were of terrific violence and scores of coasting vessels were wrecked. One section of the typhoon struck the Philippine Islands, but no loss of life is reported there.

Battleships are Delayed. TOKIO, Oct. 17.—A wireless message received from Admiral Sperry of the U. S. battleship fleet says the fleet will arrive off the port of Yokohama Sunday, instead of today as scheduled. Progress has been delayed by a heavy storm encountered off the north coast of Luzon, being doubtless a fragment of the terrific typhoon which swept through the China sea the past two or three days. An effort will be made to have the fleet's departure from Japan delayed one day in order to carry out the programs of entertainment for the Americans as heretofore arranged.

Steamers in Collision. SEATTLE, Oct. 17.—The Alaskan steamer Cottage City, while steaming at full speed, collided with a lumber schooner in tow of Jefferson Head, throwing the passengers from their berths, and hurling Purser Jones overboard. Some stowage passengers sustained broken legs and Quartermaster Oscar Nelson was severely injured by falling wreckage. Jones was rescued by the crew just in time to save his life. The vessels collided with great force, the whole starboard side of the schooner being crushed in. The panic stricken passengers were quickly transferred to the steamer Blakeley and taken ashore.

Why Colds are Dangerous. Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.
