MISLEADING FORECASTS.

In the desperate attempt to create discouragement among the supporters of Bryan, the Taft organs are publishing false and misleading forecasts of the result in the close and doubtful states.

Apt illustration is afforded by the Oregonian's assertion, based upon a pretended canvass, that Oregon will give Taft a plurality of over 19,000. There is no foundation for such a prediction. Reliable reports from every section of the state indicate that Bryan is growing in strength with every day that passes. If every voter who desires his election will go to the polls on November 3, Bryan will carry Oregon. The hope of the Taft managers lies in creating apathy and discouragement in the Bryan ranks.

No man, conversant with the conditions in this state, can read the Oregonian's forecast of the result by counties without realizing the absurdity of its figures. Many counties that are certain to give majorities for Bryan are placed by that forecast in the Taft column.

Voters must not be deceived. Oregon is still debatable ground.—Portland Journal.

OFFICIALLY A TIE

tical education in the public schools in his native town, served his apprenticeship as a machinist from the age of 16 years until attaining his majority.

Accumulating a little money and like so many of his thrifty and enterprising countrymen, he sailed from Glasgow for America in 1886, with all the courage and earnestness of purpose needful for a young man about to enter on a new life in a new country.

Arriving at Hamilton, Ontario, he secured a position at his trade with the Grand Trunk railway company, and remained in their employ until 1888. In 1889 he came to Portland, Oregon, and at once entered the employ of the Southern Pacific company as machinist at the shops on the East side of the city.

In December, 1895, he was transferred to the roundhouse at Roseburg, and remained as machinist until 1900, when he was promoted as foreman of a gang of workmen at the shops on the East Side of Portland, a position which he filled one year, when he was returned to Roseburg, as foreman of the roundhouse, a position of great responsibility, for he had entire supervision of all the mechanics, employes, engineers, firemen, etc. It is needless to say that he performed all the duties devolved upon him with conscientious faithfulness and ability.

In 1890 Mr. Robertson married Maggie McArthur, who was also born and reared in Kilburnie, Ayrshire, Scotland, and unto them four children were born, James, Lillian, Alexander W. and Robert, Jr.

In 1906 Mr. Robertson was appointed Councilman to represent the Third Ward to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. J. M. Fletcher. How well he served the people was fully demonstrated at the city election in 1907, when he was elected, receiving one of the greatest votes of any councilman at that election.

Mr. Robertson as a neighbor and friend was kindly, generous and genuine; as a citizen, he was modest, unassuming and easy of approach; as a councilman, he was conscientious and fearless in the discharge of his public duties.

No more shall we feel the warm pressure of his hand, and the geniality of his manly and loving presence. A good man never lives in vain, but leaves behind the fragrant example of good deeds and kindly offices to his fellow man.

Be it ours to emulate his virtues, and to strive to cultivate those graces which adorned and dignified his character.

"There is no flock however watched and tended,
But one dead lamb is there;
There is no fireside, howsoe'er defended,
But has a vacant chair."

RESOLVED, That this Memorial be duly entered in the Records of the City, and that an engrossed copy be furnished to the bereaved family of our deceased colleague and also that copies be furnished to the newspapers for publication.

Done at the City of Roseburg, Oregon, this 28th day of September, 1908.

Why Colds are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world.
