OCTOBER 27, 1908.

The other day the New York Herald wrote letters to all members of the Stock Exchange, asking them as to their presidential preferences. The result was: Taft 395, Bryan, 6. Of course, the Wall street vultures are for Taft.

The distinguished President of Princeton university is down on athletics and secret Greek letter societies. In a recent address at Haverford college at the 75th anniversary of that institution he spoke very emphatically, saying: "The nation needs trained and disciplined men; men who know and who can think; men who can perceive and interpret; whose minds are accustomed to difficult tasks; whose faculties are instruments of precision, and whose judgments are controlled by knowledge. Such men the nation is not getting from the present college life and cannot get until that life is organized in a different spirit and for a different purpose. Athletics are overdone. The trouble is men are not interested in study. They have no time for it. One of the bright students once told me he hadn't time to take up a certain line of study as he was too busy running the college." He was looked up to by the undergraduates for suggestions and help in organizing all kinds of clubs.

JURY TO BE EXAMINED.
Counsel for Hyde and Diamond Alleged Confinement Forced Verdict.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Counsel for Frederick A. Hyde and Joost H. Schneider, convicted last June of conspiracy in securing certain government lands in Oregon and California, today had subpoenas issued for 12 men who constituted the jury which found the two defendants guilty and exonerated Henry P. Diamond and John A. Benson, jointly indicted with them. The defendants claim that the verdict was coerced from the jury by reason of its long confinement during the trial and after it had retired for consideration. Misconduct on the part of the jury, it is also charged. The verdict, it is claimed, was the result of agreements whereby some jurors whose judgment of the evidence was for acquittal for all were persuaded to vote for the conviction of Schneider in exchange for votes from those who favored conviction for all of the acquitted of Diamond. It is understood that an attempt will be made next Tuesday at the hearing on a motion for new trial to have jurors examined separately as to what happened in the jury room during their deliberations.

WHAT CAUSES DYSPEPSIA.
And Incidentally Constipation, Coated Tongue, Nervousness, Headache, and Other Symptoms.

Did you ever know that the stomach is a churn? That just as soon as you are done eating, the healthy stomach commences to roll the food around, and mixes it thoroughly with the juices of the stomach?
And did you know, dear reader, that if the stomach is run down or flabby, so that it cannot do the churning, that dyspepsia is the result?
If the food is not churned, it lays heavily on your stomach, turns sour, and causes all kinds of distressing symptoms, such as headache, coated tongue, constipation, etc.
And so, as every physician will tell you, the way to cure dyspepsia, is to fix the churn, or in other words, build up the stomach so that it will properly mix the food.
If you have dyspepsia and want to get rid of it before it gets rid of you, go to Red Cross Pharmacy, the drugist, and get a large box of Mido's tablets. The cost is only 50 cents, and every reader of the Review is welcome to his or her money back if Mido's does not cure.

NEARLY 4,000,000 ACRES LEFT.

Oregon Still Offers Opportunities to Homeseeker and Stockman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—According to land office classification, there is in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 acres of vacant, unreserved agricultural land in Oregon today, subject to entry under the homestead laws. This estimate does not include any of the lands in Malheur and Harney counties, where there is still much agricultural land remaining, though most of it is of such character that it must be cultivated by the dry farming process.
In like manner there is said to be between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 acres of public timber land, outside of forest reserves, most of which is still subject to entry under the timber and stone act.
It is true that the cream of Oregon's farming lands have passed to private ownership, and the best of the state's timber lands have been acquired by lumber companies, or taken into reserves, where they are no longer subject to entry. Yet the fact remains that there is still a considerable area of desirable land, outside the irrigated districts, that is subject to settlement and entry, and there is room for many more families in the state.

A report shows that there are still 5,305,477 acres of unreserved public land subject to entry in Malheur county, and 4,600,000 acres in Harney. These vast areas are classified as "grazing, timber and farming" lands but the respective areas of each grade are not given.

There is comparatively little public land remaining in the Willamette valley counties, and little more in Southern Oregon, outside of forest reservations. In the entire Portland land district there is but 146,431 acres remaining subject to settlement and 383,243 acres in the Roseburg district. Most of the remaining land in the Portland district is listed as "broken timber and grazing" land and the same classification holds good with regard to the Roseburg district, save that there are still some mineral and fruit lands in the latter district.

Much Land for Stockmen.
Out in Lake county there remain 2,301,808 acres of unreserved public land, three-fourths of it timber land; one-tenth mountainous; three-tenths agricultural and three-tenths grazing. Crook county has about half as much land remaining, mostly rough country suitable only for grazing, however, save for small isolated tracts which are adapted to agriculture.

In the entire state there is 19,957,913 acres of unreserved land, and 12,188,457 of this is surveyed. The following table shows the area of unsurveyed and unappropriated public lands remaining in the Roseburg district:

	Acres.
Benton	1,299
Cook	84,126
Curry	35,650
Douglas	69,423
Jackson	48,183
Josephine	45,502
Lane	111,534
Lincoln	1,859
Linn	5,667
Total	383,243

Would Mortgage the Farm.

A farmer on Rural route 2, Empire, Ga. W. A. Floyd by names, says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c at A. C. Marsters & Co's drug store.

RICHARD SCOTT DEAD.

Prominent Odd Fellow and One of Leading Dairymen of State.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 26.—Richard Scott, one of the prominent pioneers of Oregon, died at his home near Milwaukie this morning, shortly after midnight. Death claimed Mr. Scott very suddenly and unexpectedly as he was in his usual health yesterday and attended church in the morning. After he had retired for the night he was stricken, death coming before the physician summoned could reach the house.
Mr. Scott was widely known throughout the state as a public spirited and progressive citizen. He was 65 years of age at the time of his death and was born in Devonshire, England. He came to Oregon from the east in 1870, making the journey by sailing ship around the Horn.

After a residence of several years in Portland, Mr. Scott moved to Milwaukie with his family, where he had since made his home, the "Dick" Scott place being one of the well known farms of the Willamette Valley. He took a leading part in the work of putting the dairy herds of Oregon on a thoroughbred basis and owned some of the best dairy stock in the state. He was a prominent figure in the campaigns of the State Dairy Association and his influence in that organization did more, perhaps, than any other thing to raise the standard of the dairy industry in the state.

During the Lewis and Clark fair, Mr. Scott was a member of the state commission and his services on that board were invaluable to the success of its work. He also served as county commissioner for Clackamas county and was a school director for Milwaukie district.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions, which seriously tax their strength, as well as nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable purifying tonic and invigorating nervine. Its timely use, much serious sickness, and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife would be believed seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.
Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.
A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, postpaid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

FOR THE BREAKFAST TABLE

We suggest a nice steak or a few chops will be found more sustaining than a dish of sawdust and milk. And if you buy your meats here there will be none of the don't-care-for-breakfast talk at your house. Hubby will eat a meal that will do him till lunch time. You will enjoy breakfast as heartily as you do any meal of the day.

The Economy Market

Geo. Kohlhaagen, Prop.

June 25, 1878. He was grand patriarch of the grand encampment in 1895 and 1896 and was grand representative in 1896 and 1897. He was grand master of the grand lodge in 1907 and 1908 and was elected grand representative at the meeting of 1908 for another year. Mr. Scott had been a trustee of the Odd Fellows home for the past 20 years.
Besides a wife, Mr. Scott leaves the following children: Richard Winfield Scott, of Corvallis; Mrs. John H. Willman, of Portland; Mrs. H. A. Adams, of Pomeroy, Wash.; Henry Scott, of Milwaukie; William B. Scott, of Portland; Eva Jane Scott, of Milwaukie, and Gilbert Scott, of Kalama, Wash.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the schoolhouse at Milwaukie. Rev. William R. Powell, of the Episcopal church, this city, will officiate and the grand lodge, I. O. O. F., will conduct services at the grave. Special cars for Riverview cemetery will leave Milwaukie immediately after the services at the schoolhouse.

NOW TOTALS $120,000.

Scriber's Defalcations Grow—Burned $70,000 Worth of Notes.

LA GRANDE, Or., Oct. 26.—The total defalcations of J. W. Scriber, cashier of the suspended Farmers & Traders National bank, in this city, have tripled over that originally announced, according to information from reliable sources, and will reach, it is said, a total of over $120,000. This disheartening news puts to flight any hope of reorganization and clearance of accounts, so that the depositors could realize something from their savings. It is figured out that the bank cannot pay 20 cents on the dollar.

Scriber's alleged defalcations are varied and innumerable, ramifying from forgeries to other shrewd methods of embezzlement. He is said to have used certificates of deposit, previously and consecutively numbered, that were far beyond regular numbers. Another confession just made public is one that discloses the haste he resorted to in covering his tracks. It is stated that the night following the first exposure he burned $70,000 in notes, which he believed were bad, but among which were many valid papers. Good notes to the extent of $20,000, it is said, were consumed by fire in this way.
