THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The president today issued the annual Thanksgiving proclamation, setting apart Thursday, Nov. 26, as "a day of thanksgiving and prayer."

"Year by year," declares the proclamation, "this nation grows in strength and worldly power. During the century and a quarter that has elapsed since our entry into the circle of independent people we have grown and prospered in material things to a degree never before known, and now known in any other country. The thirteen colonies which straggled along the seacoast of the Atlantic and were hemmed in but a few miles west of tide-water by the Indian haunted wilderness, have been transformed into the mightiest republic which the world has ever seen. Its domains stretch across the continent from one to the other of the greatest oceans, and it exercises dominion alike in the Arctic and tropic realms. The growth in wealth and population has surpassed even the growth in territory. Nowhere else in the world is the average of individual comfort and material well-being as high as in our fortunate land.

"For the very reason thus abounded, we owe to the Almighty to show equal progress in moral and in spiritual things. With a nation, as with the individuals who make up a nation, material well-being is an indispensable foundation. But the foundation avails nothing of itself. That life is wasted and worse than wasted which is spent in piling, heaping on heap, those things which minister merely to the pleasure of the body and to the power that rests only on wealth. Upon material well-being as a foundation must be raised the structure of the lofty life of the spirit. If this nation is properly to fulfill its great mission and accomplish all we so ardently hope and desire. The things of the body are good, the things of the intellect better, but best of all things of the soul, for in the nation, as in the individual, in the long run it is character that counts. Let us, therefore as a people, set our faces resolutely against evil and with broad charity with friendliness and good will toward all men, but with unflinching determination to smite down wrong strive with all the strength that is given us for righteousness in public and in private life."

LAX IN LAW ENFORCEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—We are a great country, our wealth is equal to that of Great Britain and France combined and our manufactures exceed those with Germany thrown in. The homicides committed in this country last year were ten thousand a large number of them lynchings. No other comparatively population can show half as many. More trains are held up and robbed in the United States than in all of the rest of the world. In Black Hand crimes, night riders outrages and the like, the Mafia and vendetta of Italy are thrown into the shade. The courts are lax, the jurors are weak-kneed and take it all in all we are among the worst governed people of the planet.

LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY.

Douglas County Output Increasing—Big Poultry Business.

OAKLAND, Or., Nov. 2.—The growing of all kinds of livestock in this section is developing into an enormous industry. There is no gaining saying the fact that climatic conditions in this locality cannot be excelled when applied to the production of high grade cattle, sheep, hogs and the feathered tribes. The fact that more cattle, hogs and turkeys are annually shipped from Oakland than from any other station on the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon is ample evidence that unusual conditions exist in this respect.

On account of the peculiar geographical settings, this section enjoys a very equable climate the year round and it is not subject to sudden extremes of temperature, either in summer or winter. Livestock stays on the green pastures all the winter and is in good shipping condition several weeks earlier than stock raised in other section of the north west; consequently, the stockman of this locality has a field all to himself in placing his products on the market.

Situated on the main line of the Southern Pacific railroad, 180 miles south of Portland, there is no part of the United States which presents a more inviting field to the stockgrower than can be found in the territory adjacent to Oakland. Sixteen hours from the best markets, with transportation cost averaging but $50 per car for cattle and sheep, are features of much import in getting a balance on the right side of the ledger.

"Billy" Also Thrives. Besides cattle, sheep and hogs, a branch of the livestock business which is now compelling the attention of farmers here is the Angora goat industry. "Billy" thrives in this section to a wonderful degree. He has proved to be one of the most profitable of all farm animals. He turns brush land into good pasture and fertilizes it. He will clip from four to five pounds of mohair annually, which brings from 25 to 30 cents per pound. When young his carcass makes fine mutton and his hide will make a valuable rug.

Poultry raising, especially turkeys, is another profitable proposition in the locality. Portland pays higher prices for eggs and poultry than any other city in the entire northwest, yet last year over 20,000,000 eggs and large quantities of poultry were shipped into Oregon.

Being a natural grain growing country, feed can be produced abundantly and cheaply, and with prevailing high prices for the product, there is nothing to deter any one from taking up this branch of stock-raising. During the fall of 1907 over 150,000 pounds of dressed turkeys were shipped from Oakland, more than from any other town in the northwest.

Another important feature of the industry in this section is the breeding and distribution of thoroughbred stock. One local firm has at present over 400 head of the finest Lincoln and Oxford Down sheep and the flock is headed by some recent importations which captured all the blue ribbons and championships at the recent Toronto Royal Stock show and the Pacific National show at Portland.

Another firm makes a business of importing and breeding Angora goats.

Oakland is also the home of three of the best stallions on the coast one of which took the blue ribbon at the 1908 Oregon state fair.

NO TRACE OF MISSING BOY.

May be Heading for Portland or May Have Met With Accident.

Nothing yet has been heard of R. Wendell Bell, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Bell, of this city, who disappeared from Roseburg last Wednesday noon without leaving any trace of his whereabouts. When he boy left home at Pocatello, Idaho, going to Seattle, about a year ago, he left a note on his bedroom dresser informing his parents of his destination, and, besides, mailed home postal cards at several stations enroute. This time, however, the lad has sent no word of any kind to his parents, and naturally they feel much alarmed at the theory that his son may have met with some mishap while either gathering mistletoe or hunting near own. The boy had stated that he might do one of those two things. Descriptions of the boy have been sent to the police in Portland, San Francisco and Seattle. There is a probability that the boy may be heading for the former city, where he has a friend of about his own age, a former schoolmate at Pocatello. The statement Monday that the boy's grandfather had died in Seattle is erroneous.

Ex-Governor Pardee, of California, says: "It takes nine tailors to make a man, but one good hustling advertising man can create a business. The successful advertising man must be on the square. He must take with him into his business the characteristics that work for success in every other line of business. The country itself depends upon good advertising. I hope the time will come when advertising will be recognized as one of the leading professions, as it will inevitably come to be recognized."

Making Good.

There is no way of making better friends like "Making Good," and I feel, Pierce's medicines well exemplify this and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine—known composition is Dr. Pierce's Food, Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the past few years of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest. Hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, per haps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite with distress after eating, nervousness and debility nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrap—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug therefor don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strength-giving tonic, it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booster" for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take, and safely—only three a dose. Much mistaken but never equaled.

1100 IN TWO DAYS.

Record-Breaking Arrivals Under the Colonist Rates.

Portland Telegram: The permanent population of Portland and Oregon was increased Saturday and today by fully 1000. The exact figures are not available today, but the record of these two days is a high-water mark in the annals of colonist travel to this city and state. The reason for this remarkable influx is primarily, of course, the extremely low one-way rate offered to homeseekers from the east and middle west. The big show-up for the two days may in a measure be accounted for by the fact that the fall season of the colonist traffic for this year is drawing to a close, no tickets being sold at eastern points after November 1st.

COFFEE

A middling steak and first-rate coffee are better than middling coffee and first-rate steak. Consider the cost.

Your grocer returns your money if you don't like Schilling's Best, we say him.

William McMurray, of the Harriman lines in Oregon has received merely the train reports for the two days. he is free to say that a new record has been made for two successive days.

When O. R. & N. train No. 5 rolled into the Union depot Saturday morning it was made up of two sections, and every one of the 15 coaches was packed to the doors. Deducting the local business from the aggregate, it is estimated that there were between 500 and 600 homeseekers on board, people who have come to Portland with the avowed purpose of making Oregon their permanent homes. This was considered a splendid showing, but when the same train (No. 5) pulled in at noon today it was again in two sections, comprising 15 more coaches, and they were, if anything, more crowded than was Saturday's train.

The total, therefore, for the two days was about 1100 homeseekers, and it is estimated that at least 90 per cent of the aggregate will settle in this state, and for the most part their destinations are Willamette river valley points, Salem, Albany, Eugene, McMinnville, Roseburg, Medford, Ashland, Grants Pass and other communities are drawing heavy from this great inpouring of new settlers. The Dalles, Hood River, Heppner, Baker City and Pendleton also gained a considerable number of new people, these dropping off on the way.

It has been necessary to increase the number of employees in the baggage department at the union depot to handle the personal effects of the new homeseekers, and it is anticipated that for the next few days there will be an unusually large number of colonists who have put off coming to the Northwest until the last days of the low-rate season.

In the fall season which is now closing Oregon has drawn heavily from North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Illinois. Of course, other states have sent their usual quota, but the Middle western states have furnished the bulk of the new population.

How is Your Digestion.

Mrs. Mary Dowling, of No. 288 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today." This great tonic and alternative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c at A. C. Marsters & Co's. drug store.
