Rev. W. F. McGee, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Roseburg, Or., was in Myrtle Creek today making arrangements for a benefit concert, which will be held in Dyer's Hall, Tuesday evening, Nov. 10, 1908. The proceeds of the concert are to go toward the Mercy Hospital, which the Catholics are building at Roseburg.

H. R. Goddard and wife, of Newbreak, parents of Mrs. Van Hook and Mrs. Spencer, arrived here several days ago to spend the winter.

While tending the prune-grader at the packing house Monday evening, Jean Conley was struck by a belt and fell to the floor a distance of about ten feet, and was rendered unconscious by striking his head against the head of the machine.

DIES WHILE SHAVING.

Unknown Tramp Found Among the Leaves Near Glendale.

GLENDAL, Or., Nov. 8.—The body of an unknown man, apparently about 40 years old, wearing a shabby blue coat and overalls, was found this morning lying among the leaves in a lonely spot on the bank of Cow Creek, about a mile north of this city, near the Southern Pacific railroad bridge. The man was seen around town last Wednesday begging.

Beside the body was found an open razor, a whetstone, a piece of looking-glass and a small basket. The basket contained an old felt hat and a few pieces of raw potato and celery, evidently the remnants of his last meal.

One side of the man's face was partially shaved and he had evidently been overcome with exposure or heart disease while shaving and had dropped the razor and fallen forward on the leaves. Nothing was found to give any clue to the man's identity.

(Coroner Jewett learned of the finding of the body by telephone on Sunday evening. After Justice of the Peace C. T. Nall had fully informed him as to the circumstances, the coroner decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The body was buried at Glendale today.

OREGON NEWS.

Prosperity has been rife in all parts of Oregon, and all the election had to do with it one way or the other was to give some men an excuse to wait. Now that even that is useless people are closing great contracts, and building activity will be more marked than at any time in the history of the state.

At Vale, Saturday, Nathaniel Silvey was acquitted by a jury of the charge of manslaughter for killing Cyrus Lee at Jordan Valley last winter. The jury accepted Silvey's story that Lee attacked him when he was incapacitated for fighting and that he used a jack knife only when he believed Lee was similarly armed. The affair took place at night without witnesses, on the road between two saloons and followed a quarrel over a card game.
