See Jennings, the baker, for something special for balls and parties. D
Eugene Register: The grand jury, which has been quietly gathering evidence for the past ten days, brought in another batch of indictments last evening before adjournment of court. As a result of their findings Sheriff Bowen placed under arrest Hymus Smyth, of the Smyth Transfer Co.; John Williams, of the Williams Transfer Co., and Joe Jacobs, each on a charge of selling liquor contrary to the provisions of the local option law. Smyth and Williams furnished the requisite amount of bail bonds, $500 each, but the attorneys for Jacobs being required to raise $1,000 for their client, were still looking for the necessary surety and Mr. Jacobs languishes pending the outcome of their efforts.

LOCAL NEWS.

Adjutant-General Finzer, of the Oregon National Guard, passed through here this morning enroute to Ashland. He will come to Roseburg next Monday and close a deal in behalf of the government for the purchase from A. Croason of the 30-acre target range in First Brookside Addition.
Eugene Register: The validity of the near-beer ordinance and the right of individuals to sell that beverage in "dry" counties will be tried before Judge Wolvorten in the federal court at Portland on Saturday of this week. This is brought about by the anxiety of the Roseburg Brewing and Ice Co., who are behind Charles Kuthe, who is under arrest for violating the ordinance of the city. The brewery company wants to get action on the matter as quickly as possible, so that if they are allowed to sell near-beer in "dry" counties they can get a decision and get busy. If the case were brought in the circuit court the merits of the ordinance might again be temporarily overlooked and the matter be no nearer a solution than before, and then the council might pass another ordinance if this particular one does not cover the case, and endless litigation result before they get their goods legitimately upon the market. It has been determined, therefore, by Pines & Pines, who are conducting the case to go to the root of the matter by testing personal rights under the constitution in the United States court.
