NOVEMBER 16, 1908.

Be a booster and attend that good roads meeting next Friday.

City council meets tonight. Don't overlook that street paving.

Mr. William Corey did not attend his sister's wedding, but he sent a check for one hundred thousand dollars. This is the kind of absence that makes the heart grow fonder.

It is all officially arranged that Mr. Roosevelt will become an editor. How long he will remain satisfied to be heard but once a month remains to be seen. A correspondence school would seem better suited to his tastes.

Travelers say the fruit on display at the Commercial Club's new exhibit building at the S. P. depot in this city is the finest they have seen anywhere along the line. Douglas county is "there with the goods" when it comes to choice products in all lines.

Douglas county orchards have the California orange groves distanced as paying investments. The latter are selling right along at $1000 to $1500 per acre, while here good orchards can now be had at from $250 to $500 per acre and orchard land at $150 to $200 per acre. These prices are likely to double during the coming year, however.

It would seem a gratuitous supererogation for the President to jump into print again with a defense of Mr. Taft's religion. As Mr. Roosevelt says this is a matter between Mr. Taft and "his maker," but Theodore who has never yet left any matter to deity, attempts to settle the question with a volitional essay on conscience. The people have elected Mr. Taft and it might reasonably be supposed that he would be trusted to look out for himself from now on.

Since election the usual talk is heard, alleging that the democratic party is dead or dying. Actual results, however, show that the party is very much alive. The 1904 democratic vote for Judge Parker for president was a little over 5,100,000. At the 1908 election, just held, Hon J. W. Bryan received nearly 7,000,000 votes, leaving President-elect Taft's plurality less than half that for President Roosevelt four years ago. A similar gain four years ago would unquestionably place the democratic nominee, whoever he may be, in the White House, together with a decided democratic majority in congress. It is more than probable that in what will occur unless considerable legislation on behalf of the people and in restraint of the trust is accomplished during the Taft administration. In Oregon Bryan received about 38,000 votes, while less than 18,000 were cast for Parker in this state four years ago. With such a showing as has been made, the democratic party is altogether too lively for a corpse.
