OIL KING WITNESS

Rockefeller Recites History of Standard Oil Co.

PHYSIQUE AND VOICE WEAK

Another Hunter Dies For Resembling Wild Animal—Baker County Farm Yields Gas

Special to the Evening Review. NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—With trembling steps, John D. Rockefeller took the witness stand today and in faltering tones replied to questions put by Commissioner Ferris in the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil Co., of New Jersey, as a corporation operating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Digs for Water: Finds Gas. BAKER CITY, Or., Nov. 18.—While boring an artesian well, natural gas was struck on Albert Hindman's property at Durkee, in this county, yesterday. A gas well is now being sunk.

More Human Game. ANACORTES, Wash., Nov. 18.—Charles Shock, formerly of this city, is dead, and Irving Burke, a marine engineer, is on the verge of mental derangement as the result of accidental shooting, which occurred near Ketchikan, Alaska, Sunday, according to word received here today by Shock's parents. The two men were out hunting, and Burke mistook his companion for a wild animal and shot him.

Charged With Theft. SEDRO-WOOLEY, Wash., Nov. 18.—D. N. Stearns, a sewing machine agent, was arrested here today, charged with collecting $500 and failing to turn it in to his company or account for it. He is at liberty on bonds.

Floods Receding. BELLINGHAM, Wash., Nov. 18.—Today's reports from towns along the Nooksack and Skagit rivers indicate that the early reports of the flood were exaggerated. While the two rivers are higher than they have been for some time, the banks are holding well and the waters are beginning to recede.

DEMAND MONEY REFORM. NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—A preliminary meeting of a National Currency Convention, composed of delegates from leading commercial organizations throughout the country, was commenced in New York today. No bankers are allowed to sit in the convention. Each large city in the country has representation. The purpose of today's meeting is to arrange the details for a national currency convention of commercial interests to be held before the Sixty-first Congress begins its labors.

That reform in the nation's currency system is urgently needed was recognized at the last session of congress and a special commission was appointed to recommend changes that could be adopted and which would prevent a tightness of money such as experienced a year ago. The purpose of the currency convention is to get the views of the business men of the country on the subject.

When the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh inaugurated the movement for this convention the bankers of the country were purposely excluded from it. The real intention was to secure the opinion of the men engaged in industrial and commercial pursuits and these will be obtained at the convention. This convention will make recommendations of changes to the existing currency laws and these will be submitted to the congressional commission with a request that they be carried into effect.

MEMBERSHIP WILL MULTIPLY.

At a Commercial Club meeting held this week, of which formal notice had been given the members, a resolution was adopted authorizing the board of trustees, in their discretion, to reduce the membership fee for a limited time from $20 to not less than $10. As the new Club rooms in the Kohlhagen building will now be ready for occupancy as soon as the necessary furniture can be secured and put in place, it is more than probable that a large number of residents of Roseburg and Douglas County will take advantage of the special opportunity now offered and become members of the Club without further delay.

A REMARKABLE RECORD.

A new record has certainly been established in Roseburg. Eleven pianos sold in seven days at the great demonstration sale of Eller's Piano House. It is evident their entire stock will be disposed of within their time limit, Nov. 21st.

CALL FOR COUNTY WARRANTS.

NOTICE is hereby given all parties holding county warrants issued by Douglas County, Oregon, and endorsed prior to and including the 19th day of September, 1907, to present the same to the county treasurer of Douglas County, Oregon, at his office for payment as interest will cease thereon after the date of this notice.

Dated at Roseburg, Oregon, this 31st day of October, 1908. J. E. SAWYERS, Treas. of Douglas Co., Oregon.

TOLD TO THE JURY

Story of Shooting of Heney by Morris Haas

THEY MUST DISREGARD IT

Rabbis Refuse to Officiate at Funeral of Haas—Fifty Millions for Rivers and Harbors

Special to the Evening Review. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Latest reports continue to show a steady improvement in the condition of F. J. Heney, who was shot by Morris Haas, last Friday. Heney is now able to take liquid nourishment, solids being denied, owing to the position of the wound. No visitors are allowed to see him.

Fewer guards were about the court room this morning when the trial of Haas resumed. At the beginning Judge Taylor admonished the jurors that they must pay no attention to last Friday's shooting and declared that "transaction" to be entirely outside of the issues on trial in this cause. The court told the jury about the shooting of Assistant Prosecutor Heney and of the subsequent suicide of his assailant, Morris Haas.

James Gallagher, leader of the hooding city supervisors, was the first witness cross-examined. He had told the whole story on direct examination of the grafting done by the city supervisors while he was a member of the board under the Schmitz-Ruef regime.

Several citizens today are preparing charges of incompetency against Chief of Police Biggy and will file the same at the next meeting of the board of police commissioners. Deputy Burns says the charges are the outgrowth of the suicide of Morris Haas, the would-be assassin of F. J. Heney. The police are charged with being negligent in not guarding Haas more closely.

Rabbis Wouldn't Officiate. Attended by just a few friends and his four children, the last rites were held today over the body of Morris Haas, the assassin-suicide, at his late home. The funeral ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Eugene Tribe, No. 75, of Red Men, of which Haas was a member. The Rabbis of the church of which he was a member refused to conduct the funeral services.

$50,000,000 For Harbors. WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Fifty million dollars is the estimated aggregate of the appropriations to be recommended to congress at the coming session by Brig. Gen. Wm. Marshall, chief engineer of the U. S. army, for the work of improving rivers and harbors and building fortifications during the coming fiscal year. This was included in his report submitted to the war department. Some of the more important estimates for Oregon and Washington are: Columbia river, $1,164,000; mouth of Columbia, $450,000; Grays Harbor, $181,000; Puget Sound, $120,000; Tacoma harbor, $40,000.

Roosevelt to Send Invite. DENVER, Colo., Nov. 18.—It is reported that President Roosevelt will send a special invitation to Mr. Gompers and members of the executive council of the Federation of Labor to dine with him before he sends to congress a message on labor conditions. The morning session of today's federation convention was mostly devoted to jurisdiction squabbles.

A SURPRISED MINISTER.

"For many years I have been a sufferer from bronchial catarrh, and had despaired of anything like a cure. Judge of my pleasant surprise when I first used Hyomel, which brought complete relief. Hyomel has been a veritable godsend."—Rev. C. Hartley, Sardinia, Ohio.

Thousands of catarrh sufferers have given up in despair. They have tried stomach dosing, snuff, sprays and douches without success, and now believe catarrh to be incurable. But Red Cross Pharmacy, the druggists, holds out hope to all distressed. He sells a remedy called Hyomel which is guaranteed for catarrh, colds, coughs, bronchitis, asthma and croup.

Hyomel (pronounced High-ome) is medicated air, full of the healthy virtues of the mountain pines. You breathe in the delightful antiseptic air, and as it passes over the inflamed and germ-ridden membrane, it lays the inflammation, kills the germ and drives out the disease. A complete Hyomel outfit, including a hard rubber inhaler, costs but $1.00, and an extra bottle of Hyomel, if afterwards needed, costs but 25 cents. See Red Cross Pharmacy about it today.

FIGHTING EXTRADITION.

Preliminary Hearing of Rev. Clark's Case Begun Today.

The preliminary examination of Rev. George Clark, of Gardiner, alleged to be the Rev. George C. Summers, indicted at Throckmorton, Texas, in 1904, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, was begun in Justice Long's court this afternoon, with District Attorney Brown representing the state and Attorneys W. W. Cardwell and F. G. Micehl acting as counsel for the defendant. The state expected to have present as a witness Jack Parrott, of Gardiner, who was instrumental in bringing about the minister's arrest. Parrott did not put in appearance, however, but Sheriff Fenton explained that he would arrive in the city tomorrow morning, having missed the stage from Gardiner, owing to premature departure of the river boat. Against the objections of the counsel for the defense, Justice Long continued the examination until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

In making the necessary showing this afternoon, District Attorney Brown offered in evidence a copy of the Throckmorton indictment, which accuses "Rev. George C. Summers" of obtaining the sum of $100 from a man named McCloud under the pretense that he needed the money to defray the expense of a surgical operation. Attorney Cardwell interposed objection on the ground that there was no evidence showing the defendant to be the person named in the indictment, and, furthermore, if he was such person, from the standpoint of the Oregon law, under which this proceeding was carried on, he was not guilty of obtaining money under false pretenses; that, interpreting the indictment literally, he had merely negotiated a loan, for which the lender had recourse to civil action.

Attorney Micehl cited a number of authorities to show that the copy of the indictment was defective in that it did not bear the certificate of the Governor of Texas. To this, District Attorney Brown replied that such certificate was necessary only when the requisition for extradition was presented to the Governor of Oregon in person. Mr. Micehl maintained, however, that inasmuch as the present proceeding was for the purpose of guiding the Governor of Oregon in his action on the matter the certificate of the Texas executive should be on the document presented in court. Justice Long considered that the first thing to determine was the proper identity of the defendant. For that reason he continued the hearing until Jack Parrott could be given an opportunity to testify. The state expected to also have here today the sheriff of Throckmorton county, Texas, and a man named Massey, alleged to be the father of the woman whom Clark calls his wife and with whom he is living at Gardiner. They will not reach here, however, before next Sunday. The officer is armed with requisition papers, which will be presented to the Governor of Oregon if Clark is identified as Summers. There is a reward of $200 for Summers' arrest.

COMFORT FOR MR. BRYAN.

The Commander, Nov. 4. Plainly, Mr. Bryan received thousands of Republican votes in every section of the country, but he lost heavily in many of the larger cities, the Democratic vote being cut into in a surprising and unprecedented manner.

In Nebraska, the Democrats had a pronounced victory. Mr. Bryan carried the state by, perhaps, 15,000. He carried Lancaster county (the county in which his home is located) by about 1200; Lancaster is normally Republican by 3000. He carried the city of Lincoln by about 837; Lincoln is normally Republican by 1600. He carried Normal precinct, the precinct in which his home is located, by a vote of more than two to one, although Normal is a Republican precinct.

ATTENTION! MEMBERS COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Every member of the Commercial Club is requested to be present at the Fisher and Hellows Building on Friday evening, November 20th, at 8 o'clock P. M., sharp, to assist in entertaining our guests at the Club Social. All members are also earnestly requested to attend the "Good Roads" meeting on the afternoon of the same day at the Court House. DEXTER RICE, President.

GOOD ROADS MEETING.

ALBANY, Or., Nov. 17.—A meeting was held yesterday morning in the Commercial clubrooms to confer with Judge John H. Scott of the Oregon Good Roads conference for the purpose of selecting a date for a good roads convention to be held at Albany. December 1 was decided upon.

FACES HORRIBLY BEATEN.

Two Little Children Accuse Father of Brutal Treatment.

A shocking case of parental brutality was disclosed here Tuesday afternoon, with the imprisonment in the county jail of F. W. Hewes, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. Hewes' home is on a farm 6 miles east of the Town of Myrtle Creek. He waived preliminary examination before Justice Galtner at Myrtle Creek Tuesday morning, and was held to the circuit court for trial under the heavy bond of $1500. Deputy District Attorney E. B. Hermann appeared at the arraignment in behalf of the state. Hewes' two children, a 6-year-old boy and a 5-year-old girl, their faces frightfully bruised and discolored, are the prosecuting witnesses. In Justice Galtner's court Tuesday, they said their father had beaten them in the faces with a heavy stick of wood. From appearances, the girl is believed to have suffered the more of the two children. Their eyes are almost entirely closed and it is believed that her nose is broken. The assault is alleged to have been occasioned by some act of misbehavior on part of the boy. Hewes is said to have beaten his wife also, but she has made no statement to that effect, the law exusing a woman from testifying against her husband.

From stories of the case, Hewes not only beat his children, but starved them as well. The assault occurred last Thursday. On the day following, the little boy went to school, as usual, and his teacher, Miss Wixson, was obliged to remonstrate him repeatedly for munching at an apple. These actions, together with the bruised condition of the boy's face, aroused the teacher's curiosity and she began to question the boy. The lad, evidently through fear, gave her no information, but later he told the story of his mistreatment to schoolmates and this reached the ears of the teacher, who at once notified the authorities, causing Hewes' arrest. How little the children had been fed was demonstrated at Myrtle Creek, Tuesday, when they ate ravenously of everything placed before them. Sentiment ran so high against Hewes at Myrtle Creek that neither of the two lawyers of the town would act as his counsel.

Hewes is a powerfully built man and about 30 years of age. He is over 6 feet tall and weighs in the neighborhood of 200 pounds. This is not the first time he has been brought into contact with the law. On July 3, 1907, while living near Myrtle Creek with his second wife, he was arrested on the charge of deserting his first wife in Michigan. He was taken back to Michigan and placed on trial, but was released upon payment of everything placed before them. Sentiment ran so high against Hewes at Myrtle Creek that neither of the two lawyers of the town would act as his counsel.

Hewes' father, E. I. Hewes, a respected citizen, who lives in the Hamilton addition to this city (The Grove) was trying this afternoon to obtain the necessary amount of bonds for his son. His efforts gave promise of success.

THE ARTIST TRIO.

JACKSON, Mich.—Miss Mary Agnes Doyle is a very accomplished reader and is far superior to many seen upon the platform lately. All of her readings were given in a charming manner and the evidences of approval given the talented young woman by the great audience were merited in every respect.

DETROIT.—Miss Blanche Deering is, in my opinion, the most perfect development of the natural musician that I have ever had the satisfaction of knowing, in that the great promise she gave as a child has been verified to a remarkable degree. By her own industry and musical mentality, she has mastered the technique and readings of an exceptionally varied repertoire so that, place her where you will, as a soloist or as a factor in ensemble results, she carries her work triumphantly.—Chas. S. Hathaway, Musical Critic, Free Press.

HARTH BOOSTS GOOD ROADS.

One of the most unique and appropriate window displays yet seen in this city, in view of the approaching good roads convention here next Friday afternoon, is that shown by Harth's Toggery. It shows in miniature two roads. One is a very muddy and rutty lane, along the side of which is a single strand of telephone wire, hung on dilapidated poles. Through this lane a team is struggling to pull a wagon in which is placed a small quantity of farm produce. The other exhibit shows a fine macadamized road, with a modern system of six or eight telephone wires along side. On this road is seen an automobile and other vehicles speeding along with scarcely an effort. One of these displays is marked, "A Douglas County Road at the Present Time." The other, "A Douglas County Road in 1910." To use the current vernacular, this certainly "hits the spot."

G. B. Burhans Testifies After 4 Years

G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."
