HENEY THANKFUL

For His Narrow Escape; Will Continue Work

LESS CHOLERA AT MANILA

Battleship Sailors Will be Allowed to Go Ashore For Parade—Ruef Case Drags on

Special to the Evening Review. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—This morning, in his room at the Lane Hospital, Francis J. Heney, convalescent from the bullet wound of his would-be assassin, Morris Haas, made the following statement:

"I humbly thank God for my miraculous escape. It was the corruption of man that levelled the murderous weapon, but divine providence that directed the bullet. Henceforth, my life work will be consecrated to the just enforcement of the law, on the principle that no man shall be above the law. In this great human battle against vice and corruption let no one believe its true source is to be found in individual dynamites, jury bribers, kidnapers or assassins. The extermination of these elements means ultimate victory."

More of Ruef's Bribery. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—In court this morning, A. S. Latham, Abe Ruef's former chauffeur, who was recently arrested in Portland, charged Ruef with influencing him to commit perjury before the grand jury at the time of the graft investigation. He also said Detective Burns urged him to tell untruths to the jury at that time. This action of Ruef was in relation to his offering a bribe to a former city supervisor in order to secure his vote for passing an overhead trolley franchise for the United Railways of this city, soon after the big fire.

Haas Inquest Begun. The inquest over the body of Morris Haas, who attempted to assassinate F. J. Heney, was continued today by a tilt between Chief of Police Biggy and Asst. Dist. Atty. Ward. Biggy declared that he had forbidden Detective Burns from seeing Haas in jail. Because he is Dist. Atty. Langdon's superior Ward insisted that Chief Biggy is under Langdon's authority.

Investigating Cholera. MANILA, P. I., Nov. 23.—Admiral Sperry, commanding the U. S. battleship fleet, acting under orders from Washington, D. C., today sent a board of surgeons ashore to investigate the cholera situation. Manila people hope this will result in Sperry allowing the men of the fleet to go ashore while the vessels are in the harbor.

Later.—It was announced late this afternoon that Admiral Sperry had decided to give the men shore leave to participate in a big parade arranged for by the citizens. There is much rejoicing over the favorable report of the fleet's surgeons on the cholera conditions.

ROCKEFELLER IS STUBBORN

Will Not Answer Questions of Prosecutor Kellogg. Special to the Evening Review. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—John D. Rockefeller was on the witness stand again today in the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, as being a trust in restraint of trade. He was more stubborn than ever in making replies to "Trust Buster" Kellogg's questions, and refused to give the names of stockholders of the company in 1874, declaring he had failed to learn the names of the capitalists whose business had been swallowed up by the trust.

MARRIED.

HOGAN-FISHER.—In Roseburg, Nov. 20, 1908, King O. Hogan and Della Fisher, of Oakland; Justice J. T. Long, officiating.

THE ARTIST TROUPE

JACKSON, Mich.—Miss Mary Agnes Doyle is a very accomplished reader and is far superior to many seen upon the platform lately. All of her readings were given in a charming manner and the evidences of approval given the talented young woman by the great audience were merited in every respect.

DETROIT.—Miss Blanche Deering is, in my opinion, the most perfect development of the natural musician that I have ever had the satisfaction of knowing. In the great promise she gave as a child has been verified to a remarkable degree. By her own industry and musical mentality, she has mastered the technique and readings of an exceptionally varied repertoire so that, place her where you will, as a soloist or as a factor in ensemble recitals, she carries her work triumphantly.—Chas. S. Hathaway, Musical Critic, Free Press.

SHERIFF ON STAND

Cinches State's Case Against Cardiner Minister

PARROTT CORROBORATED

Hearing Enlivened by Tilt Between Court and Lawyer, Resulting in Fine for Contempt

With the testimony of J. G. Sperlock, sheriff of Throckmorton county, Texas, introduced at the preliminary examination in Justice Long's court, this morning, the state welded its last link in the chain of evidence around Rev. George Clark Summers, the Gardiner minister, who is resisting extradition to Throckmorton, where he is wanted on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Rev. M. C. Wire, of Eugene, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church, was placed on the witness stand by the defense, but his evidence, if anything, favored the state. The defense expected to have present Rev. T. B. Ford, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Pendleton, but he did not appear, although he has been subpoenaed. Attorney W. W. Cardwell, of the defense, asserted that Rev. Ford's testimony was imperative in the interest of his client and asked for a continuance of the hearing until such time as he could appear. Justice Long granted the request, adjourning the hearing until next Wednesday. Sheriff Fenton was instructed to telegraph to Rev. Ford to come to Roseburg forthwith. Owing to the large crowd of spectators that assembled to hear the case, Justice Long held court not in his limited size office, but in the more spacious city council chambers in the city hall.

Cardwell Fined $25. At the conclusion of the introduction of testimony this morning, District Attorney Brown requested, in view of the additional strength given to the state's case, that the bond of the accused man be increased from $500 to $2000, as provided by the Texas statutes for a case of this character. Attorney Cardwell interposed strenuous objection. "This man," said he, referring to the defendant, "has made no attempt to get away, neither has he any intention of going away. It is perfect nonsense to increase his bond every time a new witness is called."

Justice Long replied that he did not care to be responsible in case of an escape and he considered that the evidence introduced warranted a heavier bond. He placed the amount, however, not at $2000, as requested, but at one-half that amount. This did not satisfy Mr. Cardwell, and he repeated that it was "nonsense" to increase the bond. Justice Long did not like to have his rulings referred to as "nonsense," and he told Mr. Cardwell if he insulted the court he would be fined for contempt. To this the attorney replied that he wouldn't pay a fine. The justice then warned up. "Mr. Cardwell," said Justice Long, with threatening gestures, "I want you to distinctly understand that you can't bull-dose this court, and if you don't cease your remarks you will be fined."

"Try it," was the defiant rejoinder. "Mr. Cardwell, you are fined $25 for contempt," Mr. Sheriff, take charge of him. Sheriff Fenton led Cardwell to one side and said something to him in a fatherly sort of a way. "I won't pay it," Cardwell was heard to remark, and then he mingled with the crowd filling out of the court room. Turning to District Attorney Brown, Justice Long directed him to prepare the necessary papers for a contempt case and then reached for his hat, with the remark: "He will either pay that fine or go to jail." Up till 2 o'clock this afternoon, the fine had not been paid, neither was Mr. Cardwell in jail. His client, however, in default of the increased bond, again languished behind bars.

Knew Him Instantly. Sheriff Sperlock testified on the stand that he recognized "Clark" as Summers the moment he saw him at breakfast in the dining room of the Roseburg Hotel this morning. Sperlock explained that he often heard Summers preach in Texas and had met him innumerable times on the street or at residences. "Are you certain the defendant is Summers," queried Attorney Cardwell on cross-examination. "I am positive," replied the witness, with emphasis. "He will either pay that fine or go to jail, so it is alleged of 'Clark's' so-called wife at Gardiner, did not accompany Sperlock here from Throckmorton, as expected. In health, attending his advanced age, would not permit him to make such a long trip. He told Sperlock, however, that if his estranged daughter so desired she could return to her father's home. This fact will be communicated by Sperlock to the woman probably today or tomorrow. Parrott Corroborated. In every material detail, Sheriff Sperlock corroborated Jack Parrott's testimony of last Thursday. He told of the minister's desertion of his wife and three children in Texas and of his elopement with Bessie Massie who was his church organist. He also stated that Summers joined the Masonic Lodge at Throckmorton in the spring of 1904, but was expelled for his elopement in the same year. Sperlock introduced the official requisition for Summers, issued upon the Governor of Oregon by the Governor of Texas, also the original indictment against the accused man and an excellent photograph of him. Sperlock will not present the extradition papers to the governor, of course, until after the testimony of Rev. T. B. Ford has been given.

The desire of the defense to get the testimony of Rev. Ford is prompted by a letter which he wrote to "Clark," and which was introduced in evidence. Rev. Ford, who formerly lived in Texas, says in the letter that he "is glad to say that he (the defendant) is Clark, and not Summers," that he "knows the two Rev. Summers." In connection with this phase of the case, Sheriff Sperlock stated that he knew another Rev. Summers in Texas, but that he in no way looks like the man on trial. The other Rev. Summers, referred to by Rev. Ford, is believed by the state to be a minister who was born in Coos county and has resided there all of his life—a man whom Ford probably met while on the circuit as superintendent of this district. Whether, therefore, Rev. Ford can give any testimony that will shake the damaging evidence produced by the state is problematical.

Rev. Wire's testimony dealt exclusively with the movements of the accused man during his residence in Oregon. He produced a certificate showing that "Rev. George Clark" had been transferred from the South Methodist Church in Texas to the church in the north. This document dated as far back as 1900, four years before Summers is alleged to have fled from Throckmorton. Rev. Wire admitted on cross-examination, however, that he had made no effort to ascertain whether the certificate was genuine in all respects and that he had seen no other documents or letters showing the holder to be "Rev. Clark." He said that "Clark" told him his wife's maiden name was Elizabeth Massie, but he had often heard him address her as "Bessie," Texas, and that both of her parents were dead. The witness attested his knowledge of this falsehood on part of the woman by stating that he had received a letter from Miss Massie's father, acquainting him with the fact of her elopement with Summers, and asking Rev. Wire to give his daughter proper care. Summers was referred to in the letter in very uncomplimentary terms.

Mosony Invoked. An interesting bit of testimony came out, when the witness was explaining the process of investigation into "Clark's" past life after Jack Parrott made his charges at Gardiner. As the accused man claimed to be a member of the Masonic lodge, J. S. Gray, who is also a member of this order, volunteered to Rev. Wire to examine "Clark" Masonically. Seeing Mr. Gray afterwards, Rev. Wire asked him about the examination. "It was very unsatisfactory," replied Mr. Gray; "I couldn't even find out when or where he joined the order."

Adultery Light Crime. If Rev. Clark is proven beyond any doubt to be Rev. Summers and is taken back to Texas for trial, he will suffer more for swindling for which he has been indicted, than if placed on trial for adultery. In examining Texas criminal reports, District Attorney Brown found that the penalties for swindling have ranged from 2 to 7 years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Out of about 20 cases of adultery, however, the highest penalty was a fine of $200, while in the majority of the cases the penalty was a fine of $50. A decided contrast, in the eyes of Texas justice, is shown in cases of horse stealing, where the penalty ranges as high as 10 years' imprisonment.

"GRANDMA" HEDGEPEETH DEAD

Mrs. Eleanor Hedgepeeth, a pioneer resident of Oregon, died on Sunday, Nov. 22, 1908, at Ashland, Oregon, aged 84 years, of ailments attending advanced age. The body will be brought here and the funeral held at Civil Bend tomorrow, where she will be buried beside her husband, who died 11 years ago. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. A. Smick. Deceased crossed the plains with her husband and family in 1867, travelling by ox team. They settled in Polk county and lived there for nine years. Thence they came to Douglas county and remained for five years; thence to eastern Oregon for eight years, whence they returned to Douglas county and remained here permanently ever since, making their home with their son, J. W. Hedgepeeth, of Roseburg. Other surviving children are: L. K. and J. B. Hedgepeeth, of Ashland; Jerry Hedgepeeth, of Sisson, Calif.; W. F. Hedgepeeth, of Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. Ruth Campbell, of Missouri; and Mrs. America Downing, of Wyoming. She was a member of the Methodist church, and left Roseburg only two months ago for a visit.

CHINKS WANT MONEY.

Special to the Evening Review. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Prince Tsai Fu, a nephew of the late Emperor Hsu, of China, who is accompanying Envoy Tag Shao Yi to Washington, today paid the honor of worship to images of the late emperor and dowager empress at the temple of the Chinese Six Companies in this city. Visits to that shrine will be made by him at intervals during his stay here. At his instigation Chinese merchants of this city will petition the imperial government of China for a portion of the $14,000,000 indemnity for the Boxer outrages, which had been awarded to the United States, and afterwards remitted by the American government. They ask this money with which to pay for the education of Chinese youths in American schools.

Chamberlain Honored.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 23.—Governor Chamberlain was highly honored by the national administration at Washington by being invited to represent the governors of the several states in a speech at the opening of the second meeting of the national conservation commission in Washington on Dec. 8. Among the other speakers will be President Roosevelt and President-elect Taft.

Another Fugitive Texan.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 23.—After a search covering many months, Electra Myer, of El Paso, Texas, today located a man whom she claims had promised to marry her. He was working in a rock quarry 10 miles from Vancouver. She at once had served upon him the papers in a $10,000 breach of promise suit. She also sues for $500 more for her expenses while she has been waiting for him to marry her.

Made Fatal Mistake.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Nov. 23.—Mistaking an unlabelled bottle of carbolic acid for a bottle of asthma cure, Mrs. J. P. McAneny, wife of a leading hardware merchant of Bellingham, yesterday swallowed a fatal dose of the acid and died half an hour later.

THE WHITE CHINAMAN.

Miss Mary McDowell, of the University of Chicago Settlement, was observing a girl who was operating an unusually heavy and intricate machine in a large hardware factory in an Ohio city.

"Strong, clever girl," remarked Miss McDowell, or words to that effect. "She's doubled the output of that machine," said the superintendent. "How did she get such a good job?" asked Miss McDowell. "Her father," said the superintendent, "had the machine before he had it. We just thought we'd try her."

"How much?" said Miss McDowell, being Scotch and suspicious and not completely satisfied with this proof of the Advance of Woman, "how much do you pay her compared with what you paid her father?" "Half," said the superintendent. "This girl, therefore, since she was producing twice as much, and earning half as much, as her father had produced and earned, was selling her labor at one-quarter of the masculine market price. It doesn't seem exactly fair, from the standpoint of society. It doesn't seem exactly self-respecting, from the standpoint of the girl.—'The Woman's Invasion,' by William Hard, in the December Everybody's."

FOR THANKSGIVING

Over 12,000 Turkeys Shipped From Douglas Co.

PRICES HAVE BEEN GOOD

Bringing a Large Sum of Money to the Growers—County Still Leading Producer

Last Saturday night was completed the shipments of turkeys from Douglas county for the Thanksgiving markets. While full details of these shipments are not yet obtainable, it is known that the total is upwards of 12,000 choice birds.

Oakland, as usual, holds a big lead over all other shipping points, about 7000 fine turkeys being shipped from there. Roseburg is second with something over 3000, the local buyers being: Geo. Kohlhaugen, 1200; Harness & Johnson, 1500; H. Marko Co., Hunsaker & Guest and Max Weiss about 150 to 200 each. Other shipments were sent from Yoncalla, Drain, Myrtle Creek and Riddle and will doubtless bring the total to over 12,000. Fully one-third as many more are still held for the coming holiday season.

The prices this season are unusually good, the growers realizing from 18 to 21 or 22 cents per pound, so it is easy to see that the income from this source is many thousands of dollars. Douglas county easily holds first place as the turkey producing center of the Pacific coast.

SMILES.

"Dennis," inquired Mr. Hogan, glancing up over the door of the post-office building, "what is the meaning of this letters 'MDCCCXCVIII'?" "They mean 'eighteen hundred and ninety-eight.'"

"Dennis, don't it strike you that they're carryin' this spellin' reform entirely too far?"

A young artist persuaded Whistler to come and view his latest effort. The two stood before the canvas for some time in silence. Finally the young man asked timidly: "Don't you think, sir, that this painting of mine is—well—er—tolerable?" Whistler's eyes twinkled dangerously.

"What is your opinion of a tolerable egg?" he asked.—Everybody's Magazine.
