SEA FIGHTER DEAD

Admiral Coghlan Helped Dewey at Manila Bay

SERVED IN CIVIL WAR ALSO

English Lord Disappears From Chicago Effort for Biltek

Special to the Evening Review. NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Rear Admiral Joseph B. Coghlan, U. S. N., retired, died suddenly of heart disease at his home at New Rochelle today. He lacked three days of being 64 years of age. Joseph Bullock Coghlan was born at Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 8, 1844. He graduated from the national military academy in 1863 and at once began service as ensign in the Civil War. He reached the rank of captain in 1896 and two years later—on May 1—commanded the cruiser Raleigh of the Asiatic squadron, under Commodore Dewey, at the battle of Manila Bay. On May 23 he commanded expeditions for the reduction of all Spanish batteries at the mouth of the bay, and on July 7 an expedition for the capture of Isla Grande, Subig Bay, Luzon. He was commissioned rear-admiral in 1902 and appointed to command the Caribbean squadron of the North Atlantic fleet. Upon reaching the age limit of 62 years he was retired from active service. Admiral Coghlan created an international sensation at a banquet in New York a few years ago by heaping caustic criticism upon a German naval officer, who tried to steam his vessel into Manila Bay a few days after the battle.

ounds the disappearance from the Auditorium Hotel of a man giving his name as Lord Herbert Russell, of Bridgeport, England. Russell's wife, who is a former society girl of Spokane, writes to the police from that city, whither she fled to avoid publicity, that her husband had considerable money on his person. Russell came to America to look after investments on part of himself and other Englishmen. The police are endeavoring to locate the missing man.

A Daughter's Effort. CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 5.—Edna Biltek, daughter of Herman Biltek, who is to hang next Friday for the murder of five members of the Vrsal family, today started an endless chain of letters to little girls all over the state of Illinois, asking them to write to Governor Deussen and beg him to pardon her father.

REFUSED TO PAY 5 CENTS.

Grants Pass Man Shoots Proprietor of Near-Beer Stand.

GRANTS PASS, Or., Dec. 4.—Will Mack shot and probably fatally injured Miles Carter, proprietor of a soft drink establishment in this city tonight.

Mack went into the place and ordered a glass of near beer and, after drinking it, refused to pay for it and when pressed for the payment, turned and fired point blank at Carter's head.

Carter saw him drawing the gun and dodged so that the ball entered the left shoulder, passing downward and out at the back under the shoulder blade.

Mack immediately left the place, starting toward the river, but was captured by Sheriff Russell and a deputy.

Mack has lived here about six months, coming here from Idaho, and has the reputation of being a bad man. He is now in the county jail and says that he is not sorry for what he did, and would do it again.

WHERE REPEATERS WERE BUSY

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The ballots of men long resident of other cities, of temporary absentees, of the insane and even of the dead, were cast in the primary election of last August in Chicago. "Repeaters" voted in platoons with the connivance of willfully unseeing judges and clerks of election, and fraud, rampant to an extent hitherto unknown, in a city never famous for the purity of its political atmosphere, rendered the resultant party nominations practically worthless.

These and other startling allegations were made today in the report of the special grand jury, which, after several weeks of delving into charges growing out of Chicago's first primary and returning 81 indictments against two score or more of politicians and others, adjourned. The investigation, owing to the physical limitations, merely scratched the surface of the situation, according to the report, and doubt is expressed that there has been an honest city or general election in Chicago in years.

NOT AFRAID OF A PANIC.

"Well, let her panic," remarked a contented farmer. "Cellar full of potatoes, bin full of wheat, cribs full of corn, plenty of fatted hogs and good cattle, wood piles as high as the house, and money in the bank. Guess this'll make those Wall street fellows who have been poking fun at the farmers sit up and take notice."—Twentieth Century Review.

ROOSEVELT WANTS CHAMBERLAIN IN SENATE

Tells Him so in Presence of Big Audience

CHOICE REPUBLICAN, BUT...

"I am For the People Ruling," Said He—Declares Oregon's Governor—Mighty Good Fellow—Fruit Fight

Special to the Evening Review. WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—"I AM GLAD TO MEET YOU, GOVERNOR CHAMBERLAIN, AND SENATOR-TO-BE. I WOULD HAVE PREFERRED TO SEE A REPUBLICAN ELECTED SENATOR FROM YOUR STATE, BUT I AM FOR THE PEOPLE RULING AND I WANT YOU TO BE IN THE SENATE." In these words of personal greeting, President Roosevelt today settled all doubt as to his attitude toward the Oregon senatorial contest. They were uttered as Governor Chamberlain, in company with J. N. Tamm and Miss Carrie L. Chamberlain, arrived at the executive office pursuant to an appointment. "I am delighted to meet you," said the president to Miss Chamberlain; "your father has hit me a few weeks from time to time, but he is a mighty good fellow." The room was crowded at the time and the president spoke loudly, evidently intent upon having his views known to all within hearing. Among those present were Senators Lodge, Carter, Warren and Cummins. The object of the appointment was to outline certain matters in connection with the conservation congress, which opens next week.

DAIRYMEN'S CONVENTION.

Will be Held in Salem Next Thursday and Friday.

The Seventeenth Annual Convention of the Oregon State Dairy Association to be held at Salem on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 10th and 11th, is already assured both an exceptionally large attendance and exhibits of a most interesting character. Many creameries and dairy supply establishments have asked that space be reserved for them, and electric power has been installed in the Exhibit Hall to permit the installation of working exhibits.

Not only will almost every dairy district in this state be well represented, but invitations have gone to the members of the Washington State Dairymen's Association and numerous acceptances have been received. President E. J. Rose, of Batsell, Wash., and State Dairy and Food Commissioner L. Davies, of Davenport, have expressed their determination to attend the Salem convention.

Beautiful cups, donated for the most part by the merchants and bankers of Salem, are an especially attractive feature of the premium offerings this year, with the usual number of special prizes.

Professor F. L. Kent, President of the Oregon State Dairy Association, has commissioned his assistant in the dairy division of the Agricultural College at Corvallis, to see that exhibits at Salem are properly cared for, tagged and displayed, and the Salem Board of Trade has made arrangements to have exhibits shipped in its care. A special entertainment committee has also been appointed by this organization, consisting of Messrs. J. H. Albert, A. F. Hofer, A. A. Underhill, F. E. Toews, William McGilchrist, Jr., W. B. Gilson and Clarence Bishop.

On Tuesday evening the Salem people have planned a reception and entertainment for those in attendance upon the convention, with refreshments and music, to take place in the Board of Trade rooms.

Special rates of a fare and a third, on the certificate plan, have been given by all the railroads and the Oregon Electric, while creamerymen and firms dealing in dairy apparatus will have special concessions in the matter of freight on their displays. Tickets will be good up to and including Saturday, the 12th of December.

The premium list and information of particular interest to intending exhibitors has been furnished every member of the Association and new members are being constantly enrolled in order that they may compete for the prizes. Exhibits Hall is located over the Salem Hardware Company's store, a large, well ventilated apartment, while the regular sessions of the convention will be in "Ye Liberty" theatre.

The program is not an extended one, but spirited discussions will follow every address and will bring up many points of value to those participating in the convention. Every one will have lots of chance to be heard. Following is the program as it now stands:

Thursday Morning, Dec. 10.

Words of Welcome—Mayor Rogers, of Salem. Response and Annual Address—Prof. F. L. Kent, President Oregon State Dairy Association. Food Problems in Oregon—E. T. Judd, Salem.

Afternoon Session. Tuberculosis—Dr. E. N. Hutchinson, Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Dairying East of the Cascades—J. W. Bush, La Grande. An Appeal for Better Cream—C. H. Frazer, Field Manager Corvallis Creamery Co. Evening Entertainment and Reception by Salem People.

Friday Morning, Dec. 11. Dairying and Advertising—W. L. Chasey, Secretary Oregon State Dairy Association. The Special Purpose Cow—Dr. Jas. Withycombe, Director Experiment Station, Corvallis. Needed Improvement in Milk Production—Mrs. S. A. Yoakam, of Marshfield. Awarding of premiums. 1:30 P. M.

Testing Associations—Paul V. Marks, Deputy State Dairy and Food Commissioner. Special numbers to be announced later.

NORTHWEST FRUITGROWERS.

Will Hold 1909 Session in Tacoma—New Officers.

President—W. H. Paulhamus, of Sumner, Wash. Vice-President, Oregon—E. H. Shepard, Hood River. Vice-President, Washington—Prof. W. S. Thornber, Pullman, Wash. Vice-President, Idaho—Prof. J. R. Shinn, Moscow, Idaho. Vice-President, Utah—Prof. E. D. Mail, Logan, Utah. Vice-President, British Columbia—W. R. Palmer, Victoria, B. C. Secretary—O. F. Cooper, Tacoma. Treasurer—J. R. Balmer, CleElum, Wash.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Dec. 4.—Tacoma was chosen as the next meeting place for the Northwest Fruitgrowers' Association. The 16th annual convention of the association after electing the foregoing named officers, closed its sessions yesterday and last evening the delegates were tendered a banquet at the Commercial club. There were nearly 300 guests at this dinner. Those who spoke were E. L. Smith, of Hood River, E. J. Shepard, W. K. Newell, President Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural college, H. C. Atwell and J. W. Hatley.

President Kerr's address was on the "Bearings of an Agricultural College Upon the Advancement of Horticultural Interests," and was the important address of the evening. President Kerr stated that agricultural colleges from the purely commercial and scientific standpoints are indispensable to successful horticulture in any land.

This morning the members of the association were given a trolley ride over the city, filling three special cars of excursionists.

Apple growers who didn't go on the excursion were at the exhibition hall this morning packing their apples preparatory to shipping them, either to the national show at Spokane, to New York and Chicago dealers, or to Portland business boxes. Twenty of the finest boxes, 10 of Spitzenbergs and 10 of Newtowns were set aside to be sent to the president of France, the king of England, the czar of Russia and the emperor of Germany as gifts from the Commercial Club.

Yesterday afternoon's addresses included one on "Pear Blight and Its Control on the Pacific Coast," by P. O'Hara, assistant pathologist of the department of agriculture. Mr. O'Hara recommended cutting out the holdover blight in fall and winter and the spraying and pruning of branches in the spring and summer. "Sprays, Spraying and Tests" was the subject of a paper by Prof. Shinn, of Idaho.

At the conclusion of the sessions resolutions of thanks were adopted to the mayor, the Commercial Club and the press.

The present is the first session of the association that has not adjourned leaving the secretary several hundred dollars in debt. The efforts of Professor Lake, of Corvallis, retiring secretary, to raise enough money to cover the deficit were effectual, and the convention adjourned with money in the treasury.

COLLIDE IN A FOG

Wreck of Seattle Street Cars Fatal to 3 Motormen

FIFTY PASSENGERS HURT

Seven Men Drown When Barge Founders During Gale—Flood Sweeps Pine Bluff, Ark.

Special to the Evening Review. SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 5.—Running at top speed during a dense fog, two University street cars collided head-on at the corner of Edgar and Lake streets early this morning. Gus Olsen, Charles Bolling and John Elandel, all motormen, were fatally injured and 50 passengers were hurt, 12 of them sustaining broken limbs. Olsen died this afternoon.

The outboard car was loaded with workmen going to the fair grounds. The incoming car was crowded with people coming to work, and not a single person aboard escaped injury. Both cars were partially demolished and the three persons were buried beneath the wreckage. A wild panic ensued among the passengers, many were trampled upon and several women fainted.

A misunderstanding of block signals is supposed to have caused the wreck.

River's Costly Rampage. PINE BLUFF, Ark., Dec. 5.—One store and a handsome residence near the bend of the Arkansas river were swept away by the flood today. Other buildings are threatened. The flood reached its highest point today. Hope of saving the court house has been abandoned.

Seven Men Drowned. HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 5.—A Standard Oil barge foundered off Seal Island during a gale last night, and seven men were drowned.

Halsey's Motion Denied. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Theodore Halsey, of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Co., indicted on the charge of bribing the board of supervisors to deny a franchise to a rival concern, today denied a continuance of one month in the case against him, although physicians stated that he is suffering from tuberculosis.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Seely and their little child and his mother, Mrs. S. D. Seely, leave tomorrow morning for San Francisco and, after a short visit there, will journey to Rosewood, Ohio, where he has relatives. After the holidays, Dr. Seely will go to either Chicago or New York and take a special course in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. He expects to return here next spring.
