SUGAR TRUST COMES DOWN Consents to Free Admission of 300,000 Tons From Abroad.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The tariff hearings before the ways and means committee will continue throughout the short session of Congress and President-elect Taft will have further conferences with the committee. A compromise has been reached regarding the tariff on Philippine sugar and tobacco as a result of the conference yesterday between Mr. Taft and the majority members of the committee. That the House of Representatives will pass a bill which will revise thoroughly the present schedules is generally admitted.

At yesterday's conference Mr. Taft did not discuss any particular schedules, but expressed the desire to take up some schedules at some future time. He also favored action on the part of the committee that would bring before it those manufacturers who have expressed their views publicly on the tariff question, as well as any persons who could furnish valuable information in regard to the proposed revision. Chairman Payne said tonight that Andrew Carnegie was the only witness who has been subpoenaed up to the present, and it, therefore, will be necessary for the committee to hold further meetings after the Christmas holidays.

Revision up to Senate. With Mr. Taft and the House in favor of a tariff law which will meet present conditions and materially revise present duties, mainly downward, the discussion of the situation centers in the possible action of the senate. While some assert the Upper House will not attempt to make any radical changes in the House bill to such an extent that Mr. Taft would be likely to veto it, this latter responsibility, it is believed, may have the effect of getting through the Senate the bill which the House accepts. It is considered likely that the extra session of Congress will last late into the summer.

MRS. M. A. CHENOWETH DEAD.

Mrs. Mary A. Chenoweth, a well-known former resident of West Roseburg, died at the home of her adopted daughter, Mrs. William M. Hodson, at Medford, Oregon, Dec. 11, 1908. She was 72 years of age. Her death was due to injuries sustained by Mrs. Chenoweth while shopping on the streets of Medford about one month ago. She accidentally stepped from the sidewalk curbing and fell so forcibly as to fracture a hip bone and hurt herself in such other ways as to render recovery impossible in her advanced age.

The remains will arrive in this city tonight, on the overland train from the south. The funeral will be held from W. B. Hammit's undertaking parlors tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, with services conducted by Rev. J. K. Hawkins, of the Methodist Church, of which Mrs. Chenoweth was a member. Interment will occur in Masonic cemetery.

Mrs. Chenoweth resided in West Roseburg for 20 years or more, leaving here to live with Mrs. Hodson nearly two years ago. She leaves one son, Joseph Chenoweth, of Pullman, Wash.

The Oldest Treaty. The oldest text of a real treaty now in existence is that of the convention between Ramesses II, king of Egypt, and the Prince of Kheta, which embraces the articles of a permanent offensive and defensive alliance, with clauses providing for the extradition of emigrants, deserters, criminals and skilled workmen. This treaty was drawn up in the fourteenth century B. C. and is the earliest record that we have of any international transaction.

Beware of Frequent Colds. A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended. Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well." For sale by Hamilton Drug Co.

Good Cough Medicine for Children. The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by Hamilton Drug Co. SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

Douglas County Convention Now Being Held at Baptist Church.

With a large attendance and the county in general well represented, the Douglas County interdenominational Sunday Schools opened the annual convention in the Baptist church in this city Friday evening. The opening proceedings were in the nature of a rally and a reception and began with a praise service conducted by Rev. J. A. Townsend, of the Presbyterian church. Addresses were made by Rev. Mark C. Munson, president of the association; Rev. C. A. Phipps, of Portland, and Hon. B. L. Eddy, of this city. The musical part of the program consisted of an instrumental solo by Miss Erickson and a song by the choir of the Christian church. The latter number was followed by the serving of refreshments.

This morning's session opened with a consecration meeting led by Rev. J. K. Hawkins, of the Methodist church. Forty minutes were then devoted to routine business, followed by two-minute talks from each Sunday School. The convention was then favored with another interesting address from Rev. Phipps, who also spoke at this afternoon's session, which opened with praise services, led by Rev. J. R. Blocker, of the South Methodist church. Papers were read by Hon. O. P. Coshaw and President Munson. The afternoon was rounded out with a song by Mrs. Marsters' class and the transaction of business.

During this morning's session, statistics were presented showing the total enrollment of the Sunday Schools of the several churches and the average attendance of each. This follows:

25 CENTS FOR A BISCUIT. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—Upton Sinclair, the author, who is strictly vegetarian in his diet, found that simple life as seen at the St. Francis Hotel is too expensive for him. Because a waiter charged him 25 cents for a little plate of shredded wheat biscuits, he rose in his wrath and inaugurated an epistolary war on the swell hotel. The author ordered the biscuits without reading the price on the menu card. When he saw his bill, his anger was stirred.

"What!" roared the author of "The Jungle." "Twenty-five cents for a plate of shredded wheat biscuits! Twenty-five cents for that simple meal!" "Can't help it, sir," the waiter explained, "it's on the bill, sir, and we can't change it, sir; it's the price of the house." "The price of the house, is it?" the author burst forth, "then it's the price of extortion. I won't stand for it; I won't pay it!" He left the dining-room in wrath and sent a written protest to the management. Negotiations are still in progress.
