BURTON GIVES LITTLE HOPE.

Tells Oregon Men that Treasury May Not Stand Waterway Bonds.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 11.—Governor Chamberlain, Joe Teal and Hinger Hermann, accompanied by the Oregon congressmen, had a conference today with Chairman Burton, of the river and harbor committee.

Mr. Teal said that Oregon wanted a 30-foot channel from Portland to the mouth of the river.

Mr. Burton said he could not see the advantage of a channel of this depth until there is a permanent depth of 30 feet on the bar at the mouth of the river.

Mr. Hermann said he was here to represent the towns on the Cowlitz River and asked for the full amount recommended by the engineers for that stream.

Mr. Burton told the Oregon men that it was by no means certain there would be a river and harbor bill this year, as he questioned whether the conditions of the treasury would warrant it.

Representative Hawley has introduced a bill extending the provisions of the Indian war pension act to survivors of the Bannock war of 1878-9.

GET DRAYLOAD OF BOOZE.

Albany Officers Make Haul During a Raid on "Near-Beer" Joints.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 11.—A drayload of booze was seized in legally "dry" Albany this afternoon by local officers, who raided two alleged "blind pigs."

Chief of Police Riles and Officer Munkers raided a "near beer" emporium on Ferry street and besides a stock of near beer on hand they found a large supply of the real article, including four one-gallon kegs, one full barrel and three half-barrels of bottled beer.

The officers arrested the proprietor, James Blackburn, and his bartender, Frank Patterson.

At the same time this raid was in progress, Sheriff Smith and City Officer Fox entered the Fashion Streets, at Second and Washington streets, and found a full barrel of bottled beer and another barrel half full, with enough empty bottles on the floor to exactly fill the barrel.

No arrests were made at this place as the proprietor, Albert Peacock, was out of the city, driving on a livery trip, but a warrant was issued for his arrest and he will be arrested upon his return to the city tonight.

No whiskey was captured at either place.

The officers secured a dray to carry the captured beer to the City Recorder's office and it was well loaded.

Blackburn and Patterson furnished bonds of $100 each to appear tomorrow before City Recorder Heald and answer to a charge of violation of a city ordinance, which embodies the provisions of the local option law and also permits the confiscation of captured liquor.

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, silver complaint, torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowels affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultant, as bronchitis, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colic and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Hoodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hays, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley, of Harvard, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hark, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others especially eminent in their several schools of practice.

FOOD REFORM.

Most Married Women Do Not Interest Themselves In It.

There seems to be no setup in the matter of food reform, and we are having a veritable outpouring of individual views and experiences on the subject. Even the doctors, most conservative of men, have caught the infection and are prescribing gramine, bromose, nuttose and all those queer looking ewdusty and blotting paperly sort of things that seem to suggest the need of a dustpan, but are really, don't you know, the very thing your over-worked and weakened digestive system may be requiring!

These are the days when the advanced diet reformers are boasting that they are living—and living well, mind you—on sixteen a day. They make their breakfast off a cup of patent diet food, lunch on a nut meat of two and dine on a concoction of vegetable juices, with a banana perhaps for a jolly and acceptable dessert.

Chiefly a Male Fad.

Be it noted also that the business of food reform has been confined principally to the male side of humanity. The women have not committed themselves to it with the eagerness with which they embrace most fads. In the matter of diet women are the great conservative force. Perhaps it is because they are compelled by circumstances to see so much of food that they are so indifferent. To get rid of the whole tiresome subject is the chief aim of reformers that many of them seek. It would be an absurdity to expect women to take the lead in reforming the national diet.

When a married woman turns food reformer it may be set down as a fact that her domestic life is not a happy one, nor will her conversion tend to make it less desirable. The average married woman is wise enough to know all this. It is not from the ranks of the married women that the feminine food reformers come.

A Shopping Luncheon.

Have you ever questioned a married woman as to what she ate for her luncheon on one of her shopping expeditions? The revelation, if you succeed in securing it, will be worth the trouble. There is no form of masculine activity that is more wearing than the feminine occupation of shopping. If a man were compelled to engage in it he would find it necessary when the hour came round to recuperate with the assistance of a leisurely, satisfying lunch. How is it with a woman? Thrown back on her own gastronomic tastes and ideas, with no man to influence her, she rushes into a quick luncheon room in the immediate vicinity, selects something that is neither appetizing nor restorative and nibbles with evident regret that she is losing time at the business.

This feminine lack of interest in food reform is not a difficult matter to explain. About two-thirds of the average woman's life is given up to some one or other of the endless vistas of the food question. Her whole existence stretches down an endless vista of meals. It is certainly an appalling thought that most women know precisely what they are going to eat today and very likely tomorrow. The burden of that knowledge would crush the average man. It is so much of a yoke to her that, like the patient ox, she never thinks of reform.
