Between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning, fire destroyed the cottage in the Waite Addition owned by George W. Taylor, a local timber land locator, who came into public notice a few days ago through a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Mr. Taylor, who lived alone in the house, saved only a few personal effects. He carried insurance of $600, which covers hardly more than one-third of his loss. It is reported that the fire originated on the outside of the building, which, if true, evidences a case of incendiarism. Mr. Taylor inclines to the belief that the fire was set deliberately by some enemy, but he has no clue to the identity of such a person. The fire department responded promptly to the alarm that was sounded, but water could not be brought into play owing to the absence of a passable avenue over which the fire-fighting apparatus could be drawn.

RICE & RICE.

Portland Oregonian: The damage suit filed several years ago by George W. Light against the Southern Pacific railway, began yesterday before Judge Wolverton. Light is suing the railroad for $20,000 because of the loss of his left leg, and other injuries. Light was one of a gang of men who were repairing bridges and tunnels three miles from Ieland. While on his way to the bunkhouse he was overtaken by a freight train, and because there was lumber piled near the track he could not get out of the way. He says that he was knocked down, and his left leg thrown across the rail and so badly crushed that amputation was necessary. Attorney H. D. Norton, of Grants Pass, and J. J. Long appear for Light. J. C. Penton appears for the railroad company.

Marked for Death.

"Three years ago I was marked for death. A grave-yard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me, and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. C. Williams, of Bac, Ky. "The first dose helped me and improvement kept on until I had gained 58 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at A. C. Marsters & Co's, drug store. 50c and $1.00. WINTER COURSE AT O. A. C.

Winter short courses of study will begin at the Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., on Jan. 5. Men and women, young and old, interested in the farm, the shop, or the home, are cordially invited to attend. By writing at once to the Agricultural College a circular will be sent telling in detail what is proposed to be accomplished by these courses. A week of lectures on general agricultural topics begins Jan. 5. A special course for creamery operators and managers runs from Jan. 5 to Jan. 15; a course in dairying from Jan. 18 to Mar. 27; a course in horticulture from Jan. 11 to Feb. 20; a course in mechanical arts from Jan. 11 to Feb. 20; a course in road construction from Jan. 11 to Feb. 6; a course in household science and art from Jan. 11 to Feb. 20. Special lectures on business methods on the farm will be given.

The winter course is a part of a general scheme of agricultural extension which the agricultural college is working for. Traveling demonstration trains, agricultural and domestic science schools, farmers' institutes, free circulating libraries, home reading courses, winter courses, and free bulletins are all features of a comprehensive system of extension work that the agricultural college faculty has recommended to President Roosevelt's uplift commission.
