

MONSTER CHRISTMAS CAKE.

It Was Seven Feet High and the Largest Ever Made.

Reproduced below is a picture of a mammoth Christmas cake, said to be the largest one ever made. It was seen last Christmas in a shop in Leytonstone, England. Some idea of its size may be gauged when it is stated that it stood seven feet high and weighed no less than 1,000 pounds.

Those who may desire to turn out a rival cake may be interested to learn that the following ingredients were used in its manufacture: One hundred and fifty-two pounds of butter, 152 pounds of sugar, 325 pounds of flour, 110 pounds of raisins, 110 pounds of sultanas, 110 pounds of currants, 3,000 eggs, 35 pounds of citron peel, 85 pounds of lemon peel, 35 pounds of orange peel, 40 pounds of almonds, 30 pounds of milk (15 quarts), 120 pounds of almond paste, 100 pounds of icing sugar, 5 pounds of fresh lemon juice, 21 pounds of mixed spices, 1 pound of nutmegs and 1 pound of essence of lemon.

"BARKING WINDMILL" CAKE.

Fortune For Toys For the Poor. The poor children of Pittsburg and Allegheny are to benefit through the expenditure of an estate valued at $31,000, left by the late George R. Nutt. The will provides that the estate shall go to the wife during her lifetime and then is to be divided among his children equally. If the children all die before their mother, at her death the estate is to be spent for the purchase of gifts and playthings for poor children, especially those in institutions. It was the wish of the decedent that the money be expended in small sums, to distribute it over as large an area as possible and benefit as many children as possible.

Origin of the Christmas Tree.

There is a legend in Germany that when Eve plucked the fatal apple immediately the leaves of the tree shriveled into needle points and its bright green turned dark. It changed its nature and became the evergreen, in all seasons preaching the story of man's fall. Only on Christmas does it bloom brightly with lights and become beautiful with love gifts. The curse is turned into a blessing at the coming of the Christ Child, and we have our Christmas tree.

China Paints Itself Red.

The Chinese paint the whole country red, figuratively speaking, on New Year in more senses than one. Red is the color with them which denotes good luck and prosperity, and all the New Year cards and invitations are on paper of that color. Every child gets its New Year present wrapped in red paper, and red inscriptions are pasted over the doors of the houses. These inscriptions bear characters praying for good fortune, wealth and happiness, and they are posted on each side of the outer doors of the houses. New pictures of Chinese generals are put on the front doors; the houses are scoured and made clean. Among other things, eggs are dyed red and are offered to the gods. Dinner parties are got up in bright vermilion. The red used is that which you find around our firecrackers, and, as for them, the Chinese spend more in firecrackers on New Year than we do on the Fourth of July.—Philadelphia Press.

Kaiser's New Year Dinner.

At the Kaiser's New Year dinner the old customs relating to personal services rendered to his majesty by the paladins of the realm are revived in all their glory. The royal cupbearer presents to the Kaiser the first goblet of golden wine, the lord carver brings him the first cut of meat, and the supreme master of the hunt places a pheasant, gorgeously decorated, before him.—New York Herald.
