HENEY IS PROMPT

Wants Calhoun's Second Trial Called Tomorrow

DEFENSE OPPOSES MOTION

Jury Discharged After 24 Hours of Deliberation—Only Two For Conviction

Special to The Evening Review.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Judge Lawlor today set next Monday for the opening of the second trial of Patrick Calhoun. Counsel for defense announced it would present affidavits supporting the allegations that Judge Lawlor is biased in favor of the prosecution and that Henevy has never legally been appointed district attorney.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Francis J. Henevy today presented a motion in court asking that the second trial of Patrick Calhoun be called tomorrow. The motion was bitterly contested by the defense, and most of today's session of Judge Lawlor's court was devoted to the opposing arguments by Calhoun's attorneys. A. A. Moore, one of Calhoun's lawyers accuses Judge Lawlor of being biased in Henevy's favor. He asserts, further more, that Henevy has never legally appointed assistant district attorney. Moore asked for time to get rulings on these points.

Spreckels' Lament.
The "Call," owned by John D. Spreckels, the heaviest financial supporter of the graft prosecution, is the only morning newspaper which has an editorial on the disagreement of the Calhoun jury. The "Call" says in part:
"The moral of the outcome of the Calhoun trial is that the wicked rich man has a better chance of getting into Heaven than the outraged public has of getting him into jail. The fabric of the law gives way under the weight of millions. The penal code is not built to hold against the pressure of the plutocrat, especially when his crime is committed upon the public. Calhoun can be tried again, on some of the many charges pending against him."

Jury Stood Ten for Acquittal, Two for Conviction.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—Terminating in a disagreement of the jury, with ten men determined on acquittal and two steadfastly resolved upon conviction, the trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, came to an end at 12 o'clock today. Five months and a week had elapsed since the wealthy streetcar magnate made his first appearance in court to answer to the charge of offering a bribe of $4000 to a supervisor to obtain a privilege for his corporation, and a period of 24 hours had been consumed in fruitless deliberation.

Not until each juror had pronounced as hopeless the prospect of a verdict was the order for their liberation made by Judge William P. Lawlor. But five ballots were taken, as it developed, and three of these were within the first few hours after deliberation had commenced. Upon the first vote the jury stood eight for acquittal and four for conviction. Two of the four joined the majority upon the second ballot. One of the remaining two who voted for conviction announced his determination to remain out a month if necessary in defense of his position.

Calhoun vs. Henevy.
Calhoun said, after the verdict: "The record of the case demonstrates that my trial was most unfair. The judge was hostile, the assistant district attorney bribed and the administration of the criminal law of this state disgraced. I propose at the proper time to submit formal charges against Henevy for having received bribes and against Spreckels and Phelan for having paid them."
Judge Lawlor said:
"There must be something wrong in the laws of the state when it takes three months to empanel a jury to try any issue. The people should take some steps toward the simplification of judicial procedure."

I. O. O. F. MEMORIAL

Appropriate Program Rendered and Graves are Decorated.

Memorial services in honor of their deceased members were held by the I. O. O. F. lodges and Rebekahs of this city Sunday afternoon. The members met at their hall at two o'clock and proceeded in a body to the Baptist church, where the services were held. Hon. J. A. Buchanan acted as master of ceremonies. The program was begun with the Opening Ode of the order, led by D. G. Palm at the piano. The Memorial Hymn of the order followed, with Mrs. L. Wimberly at the piano. Invocation was offered by Rev. W. H. Eaton, as Rev. J. R. Blocker, the lodge chaplain, was out of the city. Misses Arrie and Allie Black and Audrey Bridges sang a beautiful trio. Miss Bessie Goshaw, accompanist. Reading of names of deceased members, by N. T. Jewett, who is now the oldest Odd Fellow in this vicinity, being now in his 37th year as a member of the order. A beautiful and appropriate solo by Rev. J. E. Burkhart followed, with Mrs. Burkhart as accompanist.

The Memorial Address, by Rev. E. H. Hicks, was an able effort, a credit to the order and an inspiration to all who heard it. The work of Odd Fellowship for the benefit and betterment of humanity was fittingly referred to, and the teachings of brotherly love is exemplified not only among the members who are living but it keeps in memory those who have passed to the great beyond. This address was also replete with beautiful word pictures, appropriate to such an occasion, and was listened to with the profoundest attention throughout.

Singing: "God be With You," by the congregation, and benediction by Rev. Burkhart closed the memorial service.

A considerable number of the members present then visited the I. O. O. F. cemetery and placed floral tributes of remembrance upon the grave of each deceased member of the order resting there, whether members of the local lodges or not. A committee also visited the Masonic cemetery, and performed a like service for members buried there.

JUDGE HAMILTON DECIDES TWO CASES.

Nettie Grenot Granted Divorce—A. M. Gallagher Wins in Contest With William Kellihier.

Decreases in two cases were rendered in the circuit court this morning by Judge Hamilton. One of them freed Mrs. Nettie Grenot, of Looking Glass, from marital bonds with David Grenot. The other awarded A. M. Gallagher the possession of a strip of land comprising part of the Pine Grove church property at Dixonville and $30 damages from W. J. Kellihier, who is held in the decision of the court to have "wrongfully and unlawfully" seized the land involved on April 28 last.

In her suit for divorce, Mrs. Grenot alleged that ever since her marriage to her husband at Looking Glass, in March, 1889, Grenot had failed to provide for her and that she and the children, three in number, were obliged to accept assistance from the neighbors. Mrs. Grenot also alleged that her husband falsely accused her of infidelity and that he cursed her frequently and denied the parentage of their youngest child, one year old. Their domestic trouble reached a climax, however, on July 1, of last year, according to Mrs. Grenot's complaint, when her husband, in a fit of passion, broke up the few remaining dishes in the house, whereupon she left him. Since then, she says, she has worked to support herself and children.

Judge Hamilton's decree gives Mrs. Grenot the custody of the three children and orders the father to pay $10 a month toward their support.

DR. K. L. MILLER NAMED FOR SCHOOL DIRECTOR.

At the annual meeting in Roseburg this afternoon, Dr. K. L. Miller was nominated for director for five years to succeed Atty. J. A. Buchanan, whose term has expired. No other nominations had been made up till 3 o'clock. Ballotting will cease at 6 o'clock this evening. The election of Mr. Buchanan's successor will be followed by the board appointing a director to fill the vacancy made by Attorney Louis Barzee's removal from the city. Mr. Barzee had still one year to serve.

COTTAGE GROVE ALSO DECIDES ON PAVING.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., June 19.—The City Council at a special session this evening passed an ordinance to pave Main Street, from the depot to the Coast Fork River, a distance of six blocks. This move has been a source of contention for some time. Several hundred feet of Main street frontage was purchased by the promoters of the paving in order to carry it through.

In a desperate effort to get men for preliminary paving work on the streets, the Warren Construction Company's foreman in Roseburg today directed Policemen Palm and Huffman to round up the "hobo" camp. The paving company is offering $2 per day for laborers and they want 50 of them. It is reported in some quarters that the company's predicament is due to the presence of a band of Bulgarians, who are employed in the rock quarry northeast of town, many men refusing to work because Americans are not employed altogether. It is explained that these aliens are the company's regular quarrymen, and that their familiarity with the work renders them more serviceable than a lot of new and inexperienced men. For the same reason, it is said, the paving material in this city will be laid by a band of negroes, who have been employed at such work for so long a time that their places could not be filled by other men without confusion and extra expense. A member of the city council remarked today: "If the people are kicking on account of these Bulgarians, what do you suppose they will do when the negroes go to work on the streets?"

Another Railway Started to Coast on Paper—Harriman Death Rumor Stirs Wall Street

Special to The Evening Review.
PORTLAND, Or., June 21.—R. T. Dickerson, a grading contractor, this morning shot and instantly killed H. A. Garrett, whom he accused of taking his wife away from him. Dickerson immediately boarded a car, rode to this city and surrendered to the sheriff. The tragedy occurred near the Camp Patton road, where Dickerson was in charge of a gang of men engaged in grading. He refused to make a statement other than that he fired in self defense.

Dickerson believed Garrett induced his wife to institute proceedings which secured a divorce for her a year ago. The ground of the complaint was that Dickerson was an habitual drunkard. The pair remarried, but a short time ago separated again. It is common gossip about the camp that Garrett and Mrs. Dickerson were on unduly intimate terms. Dickerson thought they spent Sunday together at St. Helens.

Mrs. Susan Snyder, cook at the camp, was the only witness to the shooting. Dickerson, she said, was laughing and joking today when Garrett came down stairs on his way to the barn. Dickerson asked Garrett if he had enjoyed himself Sunday and Garrett laughed in his questioner's face. This so enraged Dickerson that he pulled out a revolver and shot Garrett four times.

Spring Like Mushrooms.

SALEM, Or., June 21.—Articles of incorporation for a new coal railway, to be known as the Independence, Siletz and Pacific Railway, were filed with the secretary of state today by O. W. Taylor, D. W. Sears and M. Hirschberg, all capitalists of Independence. The capital stock is $500,000. It is the purpose to start the road from a point near Simpson, Polk county, extend it thence to the Pacific Coast through the Siletz reservation and terminals at Cape Foulweather, Lincoln county.

Enforcing Cigarette Law.

TACOMA, Wash., June 21.—Up till noon today, 27 men and boys were arrested under the new anti-cigarette law. In most instances, they were caught smoking, while in the remainder of the cases the culprits were nabbed while in the act of rolling the "pills." A fine of $2 was imposed in each case.

What a Life is Worth.

NEW YORK, June 21.—An unconfirmed rumor that E. H. Harriman died in Austria today created a commotion on Wall Street. There was a sharp break in the market, followed by circulation of the report that the directors of the Union Pacific and personal friends of the magnate had received no confirmation of the rumor. Harriman is supposed to be in Vienna today.

Leather Trust is Next.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The senate took under consideration an amendment to the tariff bill proposing that boots, shoes, harness and belts for machinery be placed on the free list, today. The amendment was offered by Stone of Missouri. During the discussion, Warren of Wyoming declared that letters received from the tanners and leather trust insulted the senate by charging that the present tariff on hides was the result of a trick at a conference 12 years ago. He declared that the charges were part of a scheme to deprive the American farmer of two dollars profit which results from the duty on hides.

CARS COLLIDE; 15 DEAD, 25 OTHERS INJURED.

CHESTERSTON, Ind., June 20.—Fifteen are dead and 25 injured as a result of a wreck on the South Shore Electric Railroad, two and a half miles west of here last night. A westbound car was coming at high speed down a long hill and at the foot met an eastbound car, also going at a terrific speed. The cars were buried in each other. Most of the passengers on the eastbound car were returning from the Crown Point automobile races and all were in an unusually happy mood.

New Schedule Will be Placed in Effect Tomorrow

NO FLYER IN AFTERNOON

Northbound Local Leaves Here Half Hour Later—Southbound Goes Through to Ashland

Official information as to the new Southern Pacific time table was given out here this morning for the first time, and there are noted a few changes from the preliminary draft of the schedule printed last week. The Shasta Limited, taking numbers 11 and 12 from the present Roseburg-Portland locals, will pass through Roseburg northbound in the afternoon, arriving here at 2:25 and remaining just five minutes to allow a change in engines. Southbound, the Limited will pass through here at 12:41 in the morning. This train is of no benefit to Roseburg or any other station between Portland and San Francisco, as it will handle only through business.

The schedule of the northbound Limited occasions a big change in the northbound Flyer, No. 14, which has been due here at 3:25 in the afternoon. This Flyer will now pass through Roseburg at 2:25 in the morning. The southbound Flyer's time remains the same, leaving Roseburg at 9 o'clock in the morning.

The changes of the most importance to Roseburg is that in the locals, which now take the numbers 19 (southbound) and 20 (northbound). No. 20, which has been leaving here as No. 12 at 8:45 in the morning, will depart, instead, a half hour later, at 9:15. No. 19, which has tied up here over night as No. 11, arriving here at 5:30 in the evening, leaving here at 5:35 p. m. Its time of arrival here is 5:15. This eliminates the Glendale "Hog." The new schedule goes into effect tomorrow, but the Limited made its first trip today, going through Roseburg this afternoon as a special. As previously announced, there will be two trains as No. 20 every
